THANKSGIVING

The yellow has gone from the maples. The birds fly away to the south, I hear the great blast of the north wind, A trumpet with storms in its mouth. Ere long an' the snow will be falling The twilight come early and cold, And the beautiful runes of the summer Shall be but as tales that are told.

Yet now is the time for Thanksgiving.

For music and greeting and mirth: A song for the old folk we honor, A song for the little one's birth In the home as we joyfully gather, As gayly we sit at the board, We lift up our praise to the Father: Accept our thanksgiving O Lord! —Margaret E. Sangster.

Harrett Superior court adjourned Wednesday night.

Mrs. I. F. Hicks and Mrs. Annie Harper Young spent Monday in Fayetteville.

Mr. Claude Felton, of Savannah, Ga., is spending Thanksgiving here with his mother.

Mr. Joseph J. Cook, of Raleigh, is spending the week here with his mother, Mrs. Annie Cook.

Mr. Henry Herring and sister, Mrs. Butler, spent Sunday at their old home in Sampson county.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Enipes are among those who are taking in the football game at Richmond today.

Several of the boys and girls from the various colleges in the State are spending Thanksgiving in the city.

Mr. Arthur Pope has accepted a position with the postoffice here and will serve as clerk until after the holidays.

Mrs. D. A. Blue, after spending several days here with relatives, returned yesterday to her home near Rockfish.

Mrs. J. R. Hodges, Mrs. I. B. Pope and L. B. Jr., are spending a few days with Mrs. W. H. Stallings at Clayton.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jerome, of Rose Hill, arrived yesterday to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fussell.

Mrs. Douglas Smith has returned to her home at Fayetteville, after spending several days here and at Duke with relatives.

Mr. Will Hood, of Kinston, and Mrs. T. R. Hood, of Smithfield, are spending the day here with Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Coltrane.

Mrs. W. H. Crawford has returned to her home at Williamston after spending several days here with Mr. and Mrs. J. Gus Goddard.

Mr. L. W. Wade and daughters Misses Maggie and Irene, of Johnston county, spent several days here this week with relatives.

Miss Aline Cowell, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Wilson Massengill, of Four Oaks, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Newberry.

Mrs. Horace Freeman, who has been critically ill for the past few days suffering from pneumonia, is not reported any better today.

Mr. J. T. Morgan, who holds a position with the Standard Oil Co., with headquarters at Greensboro, spent the week here with relatives.

The stores, the banks, postoffice, and most of the other public places and business houses of Dunn, will be closed tomorrow, it being Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Highsmith have returned from a visit to Fayetteville and Red Springs where they attended the Johnson-Highsmith wedding.

Rev. J. H. Shore, who for the past four years has served as pastor of the Methodist church, will preach his last sermon to his congregation here Sunday night.

Messrs. E. O. Townsend and P. S. Cooper spent several days in South Carolina last week. They were there in the interest of the Southland Farm & Real Estate Exchange.

"Topsy Turvy Girls" in Musical Tabloid, presenting clean and refined comedy, will be at the Metropolitan Opera House all this week. Their first performance took place last night and was presented to a fair-sized audience. Popular prices prevail.

Thanksgiving services will be held tomorrow at the following churches: At 11 a. m., at the Methodist and Presbyterian; in the evening at the First Baptist. Rev. Mr. Shore will conduct the services at the Methodist, Rev. A. R. McQueen at the Presbyterian, and Rev. Baylus Cade at the Baptist church. The public is invited to attend.

An eight-pound girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Strickland, of Falcon, on Tuesday, 10th.

Zova's Tent shows will open here Saturday and will continue through all next week. Owing to a blow down of the tent at Mt. Olive, where they played last week, they did not reach here Monday as first advertised, being delayed to make repairs. The show comes well recommended.

Rev. A. R. McQueen held a meeting at Mt. Olive church, near Wado, last week. He was assisted by Rev. K. A. McLeod, of Fayetteville. The meeting was a most interesting one and as a result of the excellent preaching several new names were added to the church rolls of that community.

Mr. J. T. Wallace, for many years a citizen of Dunn, who is now located at North Emporia, Va., spent several days here this week. Mr. Wallace is manager of the Emporia Mantel & Fixture Company, which will be seen from an ad appearing in this issue, and is in the same business pursued here. His knowledge of this particular line of work assures his success and his progress will be watched with interest by his numerous Dunn friends.

Church Calls Pastor.

Rev. D. W. Arnold, pastor of the Christian church at Goldsboro, filled the pulpit of the Christian church here last Sunday morning and evening, and preached two forceful sermons to good-sized appreciative audiences. Rev. Arnold was extended a call to the pastorate of the church here, and has accepted. He will preach here each second Sunday for the coming year. For the past year the Christian church here has been without a pastor, and the congregation considers itself fortunate in securing the services of Rev. Mr. Arnold.—LeGrange Sentinel.

Zusammen Club Meets

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the Zusammen Book Club held its regular meeting Thursday evening, November 18th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McD. Holliday with Misses Turfington and Moseley. After a short business period the guests enjoyed an interesting contest—the untangling of several groups of letters, the outcome being girls' names. Delightful refreshments were served by Little Misses Jessie and Florence Holliday. The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Holliday.

Clayers U. D. C. Elects Officers.

At a called meeting with Mrs. I. F. Hicks on Wednesday the 17th the following ladies were made officers of this chapter for the year 1916:

Mrs. P. S. Cooper, president.
Mrs. I. F. Hicks, 1st Vice-president.
Mrs. L. J. Best, 2nd vice-president.
Mrs. R. M. Pearsall, Recording Secretary.
Mrs. N. A. Townsend, Corresponding Secretary.
Miss Saimie Purdie, Treasurer.
Mrs. T. L. E. Young, Historian.
Mrs. P. H. Lynch, Registrar.

With a Credential Committee composed of Mrs. J. J. Wade, Mrs. P. J. Jeffreys, Mrs. Annie H. Young and Mrs. W. H. Newberry.

Black-Thompson.

The following announcement will be read with interest by many of our readers:

Mr. David Thompson announces the marriage of his daughter Nannie Victoria to Mr. John Manning Black on Wednesday, November 24th nineteen hundred and fifteen, High Point, N. C.

Will be at home, after the first of December, at Anderson, S. C.

New Enterprise for Dunn.

The latest addition to the industrial life of the city is the Dunn Christo-Cola Bottling Works which was organized last week with a paid in capital of $5,000.00.

Mr. Herbert S. McKay is President; Mr. A. D. Wilson is vice-president; W. H. Herring, secretary and treasurer and Mr. R. W. Pope, manager. The board of directors consist of the following gentlemen: H. S. McKay, W. D. Holland, B. A. Rowland, P. L. Morgan, R. W. Pope, M. C. Butler and Geo. M. Floyd.

The company will bottle a variety of soft drinks but will make a specialty of Christo-Cola. They will be ready for business about January 1st. The machinery has been ordered already and as soon as it arrives work will begin on the installation.

The new organization has behind it capable and progressive young men and it will prove to be a great asset to the business life of the city.

Baldwin-Felton

Last night at the home of the bride on North Wilson street, Mr. W. E. Baldwin and Miss Carrie Felton were married in the presence of a few intimate friends. The wedding came as a surprise to the people of the town as the young couple had managed to keep it a secret. Immediately after the ceremony they left for Whiteville, Mr. Baldwin's old home, where they will spend a few days with relatives.

This young couple have numerous friends throughout the state who will be interested in the announcement and will wish for them much happiness.

Whittenton-Pleasants

Mr. Oras Whittenton and Miss Roberta Pleasants were married Sunday at 3 o'clock at the home of Squire J. R. Godwin, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Mr. Godwin performed the ceremony.

Mr. Whittenton is a son of Mr. M. Whittenton, of near Duke, and his bride is the daughter of Mr. Jim Pleasants, who also lives in the same neighborhood.

Turner's Almanac

Useful North Carolina Publication 87 Years Young.

Turner's North Carolina Almanac for 1916, eighty-seven years young, makes its appearance this year packed to its capacity of sixty-four closely printed pages with the variety of general information for which it is famous. Besides the quaint cuts, prophecies, zodiacal signs and portents which it has carried since the days when it was the one book that the cabin of the average pioneer could not get along without, and without which an almanac would be like a circus without a steam calliope, this year's issue carries, among other things, a full compilation of the North Carolina game laws, complete data as to the departments and personnel of the State government and the State institutions at Raleigh and elsewhere; a chapter devoted to information about the work of the Agricultural Department; comprehensive agricultural and educational statistics; complete calendars of the Federal and State courts, and, to make the measure run over, eight pages to a carefully edited record of events within North Carolina from January 1 to September 30, inclusive.

The Almanac which is published by The Raleigh Times, is, in short, up to the standard of 1916, as completely as that of 1828 fit the times of our grandfathers and great grand fathers. As an inexpensive yet inclusive and reliable book of current reference it is hard to see how it could be bettered.

Character is the power of endurance among men. I have seen men start out with brilliant prospects and fall, and I have never yet known a real failure in politics which was not traceable to a breakdown in the morals of the man. Not, I mean, in his habits necessarily, for that is not the only indication of morals, but in his conception of life, in the fundamentals which control him.—William Jennings Bryan.

In the deepest night of trouble God gives us so much to be thankful for that we need never cease our singing.—Coleridge

To work, to help and to be helped to learn sympathy through suffering—learn faith by perplexity—truth through wonder; behold! this is what it is to prosper; this is what it is to live.—Phillips Brooks.

Remember this idea of Jefferson's but remember also without the incorporation a great deal can be done. They have accomplished a great deal there. They have laid off their definite community of everybody who wants to come in about six miles square, about like Jefferson's idea was. They have their community league, their farmer's club, which is very strong, and their farm women's club.

In that one county they have sixteen farm women's clubs. They are doing more to wake them up than anything else. Because the farmer's club can only take in farmers, they have a community league in which bankers, merchants, preachers and physicians may join.

The league is just like a New England township meeting. They come together once a month and once a quarter they discuss everything that looks to the upbuilding of the community.

They have committees on social life, to encourage good roads, on educational work, on farm products, on moral conditions and improvement. If there is a blind tiger in the community it is the duty of this committee to prosecute it and run it out.

They have a committee on health conditions and improvements, and they had a health survey made of the whole community. That committee, just as the doctor's first duty is to make a diagnosis of his case, made a survey of the community and sent about fifty questions to every family, and found out the conditions agricultural and health and social and everything else. They have another committee on woman's work.

—Clarence Poe to the Banker-Farmer Convention.

THE WATER THAT HAS PASSED.
Listen to the water mill,
Through the livelong day,
How the clanking of the wheels
Wears the hours away.
Languidly the autumn wind
Stirs the Greenwood leaves;
From the fields the reapers sing,
Binding up the sheaves,
And a proverb haunts my mind,
As a spell is cast;
The mill will never grind
With the water that has passed.

Take the lesson to thyself,
Living heart and true;
Golden years are fleeting by,
Youth is passing, too;
Learn to make the most of life;
Lose no happy day;
Time will never bring thee back
Chances swept away.
Leave no tender word unsaid,
Love while life shall last—
The mill will never grind
With the water that has passed.

Work while yet the daylight shines,
Man of strength and will;
Never does the streamlet glide
Useless by the mill.
Wait not till tomorrow's sun
Beams upon the way,
All that thou can't thine own
Lies in thy today;
Power, intellect and health
May not, can not last;
The mill will never grind
With the water that has passed.

Oh, the wasted hours of life
That have drifted by;
Oh, the good we might have done,
Lost without a sigh;
Love that we might once have saved
By a single word;
Thoughts conceived but never passed
Perishing unheard.
Take the proverb to thine heart,
Take! Oh, hold it fast!
The mill will never grind
With the water that has passed.

—Arthur Unknown.

Jeffersonian Democracy in Sampson. Down in Sampson county, North Carolina, they have organized a rural community, and they made application in the last legislature to incorporate on the very same basis upon which any 500 people can get together in what we call a town—has been yet organized in the South.
