A Newspaper's Real Assets.

How long has it been anyway, since the Kansas City Star supported a man for mayor in that city who was successful at the polls?—Herald Courier.

That is not the way to put the question. The way to state the question in terms that will bring out the real worth of a newspaper is this: "How many times has it supported a man who ought not to have won; or how many times has it supported a man who should have won."

A newspaper's victories are its liabilities. Its real assets are the lickings it gets when it is right, and the fool folks wake up too late to find this out!—William Allen White in Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

THE GOLDSTEIN COMPANY

DUNN'S BEST STORE DUNN, N. C.

The Cost of Neglect. Haywood county has just made the last payment of a bond issue of $50,000 that was spent in grading and macadamizing roads in Waynes and Pigeon townships. Out- side of the road grades, there is a thing left to show for the money.

The macadam was put down in fair- most a complete waste.—The Can- ton Observer.

The question of good roads is now the main issue in the county and practically all opposition to be heard is based on the fact that the work done heretofore has been al-
