James McCall Convicted of Criminal Assault at Harnett Court .

Lillington, May 24 .-- The Superior Court which convened here Monday suddenly came to a close this morning. Judge C. C. Lyon, presided.

there was no calendar for civil cases and only the criminal docket was tried. The docket was short and it required only two days to try all the cases.

The most important case was the State vs. Jumes McCall, a negro boy nineteen years old, who was tried and convicted for criminal essault on 000,000. a six-year-old girl living in Upper Little River township. The crime to the treasury has steadily increaswas committed several months ago ed month by month since last Fall and the defendant was arrested and until it is now greater than at any placed in the State prison for safekeeping to avoid any attempts at lynching the negro.

The trial of the case was short, and the only evidence was the admission of the defendant and the tes- in receipts from ordinary internal Lin,ony of Dr. J. W. Halford and Dr. revenue.
