FREE DELIVERY MAIL EFFECTIVE JUNE 1ST.

Postmaster Lee is in receipt of information from the Post Office Department authorizing the establishment of city delivery service at Dunn, effective June 1, 1917.

While the exact schedules have not yet been arranged it is certain there will be two deliveries daily and possibly three deliveries in the business district.

Service will not be given to every one who may live in town but only to those who live in the district as outlined by the post office inspector on his inspection trip some months ago.

The establishment of city delivery service is contingent upon the provision of private receiving boxes at all residences and places of business. If a patron prefers, a slot in his door will serve the purpose.

Carriers will not deliver mail at the side or rear doors of residences or the upper floors of office buildings not provided with elevators.

ITEMS, COMMENT AND SUGGESTIONS

By Rev. J. A. Hornaday, Pastor, Dunn Methodist Church

The simultaneous evangelistic campaign in Richmond is meeting with a degree of success exceedingly gratifying to all concerned. Last Sunday a hundred and twenty-five churches in the city were filled with men, women and children anxious to hear the Word as it was preached by consecrated men of God.

A few weeks ago Nicholas Romanoff was the most autocratic monarch on earth; today he is a prisoner, guarded and controlled by those who were his willing subjects when he was Czar of all the Russians only a short while ago.

gors and reckless automobile drivers to cause them to save the error of their ways." This is rather a way of putting it. Keepers of blind-tigers and reckless drivers of automobiles are separated as widely as the poles in their standing in society.

Rev. T. P. Jimison, an evangelist, was invited by Rev. W. H. Willis of the Western North Carolina Conference, and pastor of the First Methodist church in Lexington, to conduct a series of meetings in his church recently.

After the evening sermon in the Methodist church last Sunday a Church Conference was held. Among other matters of interest the question of the completion of the church building came before the Conference.

By shipping munitions of war to the allies a few individuals in America have grown immensely rich, but now it looks like our government will have to spend billions to atone for it.

son, we have a man with a level head and a ready hand in the White House. He has been patient through it all to the present, and we can safely trust him to the end.

MILITARY TRAINING BILL

DUNN DISPATCH, Dunn, N. C. Sir: A bill for universal military training will be presented before the session of Congress that meets April 2, 1917.

The bill provides for the establishment of training areas and training units, approximately one in each congressional district. These units will organize and train men in the several areas and naturally the presence of such a large body of men in a community very much indeed, on account of the large sums of money that will be expended for its upkeep.

If sufficient votes are cast for this bill at this special session of Congress, these units will be established as soon as practicable.

The establishment of these training centers will, undoubtedly, be done on the recommendation of congressmen. If your community is interested, please confer with as many congressmen as possible April 2, and secure the passage of the bill at the special session. Wars and rumors of wars are getting close to us now and we should not delay longer in getting ready to repel an enemy.

Yours truly, HUGH H. BROADBURN, Capt. U. S. Cavalry.

MANAGERS AND OVERSEERS MEET AT DUKE

They Discuss Welfare of the Community. Definite Plans Made. Duke Mar. 28.—Tuesday night a meeting of the managers and overseers of the Erwin Cotton Mills Co. of the number 2 mill was held in the mill office for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the welfare of the community.

The mill operatives will have ample time to work their gardens in the late afternoon and Saturday afternoon and this will enable them to greatly reduce the cost of living by growing their own vegetables.

Mr. William B. Green, of New York, has been in Dunn this week erecting a model 14 linotype for THE DISPATCH. Mr. Green's work takes him into several states and he says he seldom finds a town under five thousand people less than compares with Dunn.
