A boy was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith at their home on West Divine Street.

Ellis Goldstein president of the Goldstein Co., was in New York this week purchasing goods for his store.

Miss Ruth Westbrook returned last night from Georgia, where she has been visiting relatives for several weeks.

Friday is "Blue Bird" day at the White Way. "Wanted—A Home," featuring Mary Mae Laren and Jack Mulhall.

Miss Lucy McKay, student at Pinnacle School for Girls, Salem, Va., is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McKay.

Chas. H. Thornton has been elected tax collector for Dunn and is now calling on the people for payment. He will see you soon.

Dr. J. M. Wilkins, colored, of Baltimore, son of Herbert Wilkins, of Dunn, is here this week visiting his father and mother.

The Halloween party which was announced in last week's Dispatch, to be held at Shady Grove High School Friday night, has been postponed until Tuesday night, October 30th.

The negro who was shot and fatally wounded last Thursday by Troy Monds, died in the hospital in Fayetteville Saturday. Monds, who was under a $300.00 bond, left Dunn the day on which the negro died, and has not been seen here since.

Fab Shell, who is in a hospital at Fayetteville recovering from a pistol wound, which was inflicted accidentally by King Butler, is reported as steadily improving. His condition is much better and it is thought he will be able to return home within a few days.

As will be seen elsewhere in this issue Duke through the Bank of Harnett, has purchased more than $100,000 worth of Liberty Bonds. They are still buying them over there and it seems that Duke will report a larger sale than all the other towns in the county combined.

Geo. P. McKay is expected to arrive in Dunn today from San Antonio, Texas, where he has been stationed the past few weeks. His visit here will be brief as he has been ordered to France and will leave shortly with the Aero Squadron with which he has been training.

Mr. Lawrence Jernigan, who has been in the service for Uncle Sam at Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., returned home Tuesday, he having received an honorable discharge, as he is not of military age. He has accepted a position with The Dispatch as an apprentice printer.

A. H. Temple, of Newport News, Va., was here this week visiting relatives. Mr. Temple has not been to Dunn for several years and was surprised at the progress it has made. He left today for Washington, D. C., where he will spend some time with relatives before returning to his home in Newport News.

Fuel has been short at the power house again this week which explains why The Dispatch is late. We have also been forced to leave out some interesting news items, of a local nature, on account of being unable to get current to run the machinery. We hope this will not occur again, but we are unable to tell.

The three banks of the town will keep open during the evening from 7 to 9 the remainder of the week to accommodate those who wish to purchase Liberty Bonds. This is commendable on the part of the banks and will give all an opportunity to see their banker relative to buying bonds without a great deal of inconvenience.

Rev. Lundy Lee died last Saturday at his home several days from Dunn. He had been in poor health for more than a year and his death did not come as a surprise to those closest to him. He was an excellent man, universally loved, and was well known in Dunn, where he had a number of relatives. The interment was made Sunday afternoon.

Dr. J. F. McKay died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home in Buie's Creek. Although a very old man, his health was good, and the announcement of his death came as a shock to his numerous friends and relatives throughout the county. He was the father of John A. McKay, and Mrs. Martin B. Williams, of Dunn. A sketch of his life will appear in next week's issue.

Your attention is called to the page ad of the First National Bank in this issue. It shows the condition of the bank at the close of business October 23rd, 1917, with deposits amounting to $583,390.55. This is more money than any other bank in this section of the State has had on deposit at one time. The ad also carries a history of the bank since its foundation, which was written by J. J. Wade, in competition with others, and submitted to judges of the Buie's Creek community fair. It won the $10.00 in gold which was given by the bank for the best paper on "The Biggest Bank in the County." Mr. Wade is a son of the late J. J. Wade, prominent business man, who, at one time, was president of the First National. The ad is composed of interesting matter and you are requested to read it.

W. H. Turlington, of Fayetteville, was here yesterday. Miss Sue Smith, of Smithfield, spent Sunday here with her mother. Mrs. W. A. Allen, of Four Oaks, visited relatives here this week. Miss Ava Parker returned Friday from a visit to friends in Wade. Prof. and Mrs. B. P. Gentry, of Lillington, were visitors here Monday. I. W. Wade, of Lucama, spent Saturday and Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Simmons, of Washington, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. N. A. Townsend.

Mrs. Harvey Tyner is spending several days at her home in Robeson county.

Mrs. Graham Scott, of Rockingham, was the guest this week of Mrs. J. Lloyd Wade.

Mrs. William Clifford, of Gastonia, was the guest this week of Mrs. J. C. Clifford.

Mrs. E. M. Jeffreys and Mrs. C. L. Wilson were visitors in Fayetteville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel G. Layton, of Buie's Creek, were business visitors in Dunn Saturday.

Joseph J. Cook is here from Charlotte to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Annie Cook.

Mrs. J. L. Thompson and Mrs. William Thompson spent several days last week in Richmond, Va.

Ransom Phillips, of Charlotte, traveling representative of the West-ern Electric Co., was in town Monday.

S. J. Hooks returned yesterday to Burlington after spending several days here the latter part of the week.

William Jackson, a student at the A. & E. College, Raleigh, spent a day or two here this week with relatives.

Norwood Pope, was home this week from Wake Forest College, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Pope.

Mrs. A. B. Harrell arrived today from Petersburg, Va., and will spend some time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope.

Miss Ruth Taylor, who is attending school at Oxford, spent Sunday and Monday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Taylor.

W. B. Johnson, local representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, spent Saturday and Sunday in Richmond, Va., visiting his brother.

The Weekly Guide unloaded a new press the latter part of the week, but on account of the illness of Editor Pittman its erection has been delayed.

The residences being erected by G. T. Noel and E. L. Godwin in the northern annex of the town, are being pushed to completion. Both are handsome buildings and will add considerably to that section of the city.

Little Akon Norris was accidentally shot yesterday by a small rifle in the hands of his playmate, Robert Jones. The bullet struck the little boy on the head, but at such an angle that it glanced and the wound was not serious.

Editor J. P. Pittman, of the Weekly Guide, is seriously ill at his home here. His condition is alarming to his friends, who are hoping that he will soon show signs of improvement. He has been confined to his room since Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Howard returned Friday morning from Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., where they visited their son, Sergeant Kenneth F. Howard, who was injured recently in a motor cycle accident. His friends here will be glad to learn that Kenneth is improving as rapidly as could be expected.

Dr. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist church, has given up his work temporarily, and enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam. He has not been called into the service yet, but is expecting to have to leave soon. Dr. Ellis has made many friends during his short stay in Dunn, who hope that his absence from his work here will be of short duration.

Miss Ava Myatt spent the week-end in Dunn the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Coltrane. Miss Myatt went down to be present at the party given by Mrs. Coltrane Friday afternoon announcing the engagement of Miss Carrie Wilson to Mr. Maurice Pridden. The marriage will take place November 20, 1917. This announcement will be of much interest to the Smithfield people, Miss Wilson having visited here a number of times.—Smithfield Herald.

RED CROSS NOTES

Let all the housekeepers who will lend aid to the Red Cross send old table cloths, old sheets, any old muslins and linens to the local work room on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

Who will suggest ways and means for raising funds for our Red Cross? You know the organization must have funds to pay as it goes to keep going.

Will some of the merchants do their bit by donating materials to be used in making the Hospital bed sheets, bandages and pajamas.

Read Mr. William H. Taft's articles in the Ladies Home Journal each month. They contain much valuable information as to the Red Cross work.

Did you subscribing members receive your Red Cross magazine this month. It is splendid.

WHO'S WHO CLUB

The Who's Who Club met with Misses Pearl and Blanche Grantham Monday evening.

This being a business meeting a new secretary and programme committee were elected. Miss Madred Hood was elected as the new secretary for the year, and Misses Roberta Davis, Margaret Pope and Meta Harper compose the programme committee.

American literature was decided as the study for the year. Refreshments were served in a charming manner.

Those present were Misses Mamie Stephens, Roberta Davis, Viola McNeill, Estelle Lee, Gladys Young, Will Cooper, Meta Harper, Pearl Grantham, Blanche Grantham, Cora Warren, Brownie Estell, Margaret Pope, Ivy Pearson, Grace Holliday, Madred Hood. Meetings will be held monthly.

MRS. N. A. TOWNSEND ENTERTAINS

Mrs. N. A. Townsend was hostess at one of the prettiest affairs of the local season Monday afternoon, when the doors of her beautiful home on West Broad Street were thrown open in a reception for the visiting ladies of the city. Everything and everyone blended together in making the affair one of intense delight and exquisite beauty; and nothing was lacking in the efforts and results.

At the front door meeting the callers, were Mrs. E. L. Godwin, and Mrs. Jack Lee who directed them to the receiving line, which was stationed just inside the music room. Newman Townsend, Jr., and Norwood Simmons, Jr., accepted the cards of the young ladies, as they were received by the line formed for the purpose. Those in the receiving line, were Mrs. N. A. Townsend, and her guest, Mrs. Simmons of Washington, N. C., Mrs. Lloyd Wade, and her visitor, Mrs. Graham Scott of Rockingham, Mrs. J. C. Clifford and her guest, Mrs. William Clifford of Gastonia, and Mrs. J. J. Wade.

The music room rendered a certain rhythm of mirth, delight and gaiety, given by the appropriate stream of instrumental music from the Victrola, governed by Miss Westray Battle in unique charm; and augmented by the beauty of the color scheme, presented by the white chrysanthemums, that decorated the room.

From the receiving line, the callers were artistically ushered by Mrs. Ellis Goldstein and Mrs. G. M. Tighman, to the sun parlor, which was flooded and made distinct with the fragrance of yellow chrysanthemums, and where the punch bowl was so delightfully presided over and served from by Mrs. H. S. McKay and Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. H. O. Mattox and Mrs. Charles Higham then showed the guests to the dining room, where served delicious cream, cake, and salted almonds, by Misses Berta Davis, Madred Hood, and Gladys Young. The dining room was all aglow with the beautiful fragrance and delight of yellow and white cosmos.

After the dining room, the visitors were then led into the den by Mrs. L. F. Hicks, where coffee was poured by Mrs. E. M. Jeffreys and Mrs. B. O. Townsend, and where they received a taste of the beautifully arranged interior and the delightful odor of the red dahlias, that graced the room.

During the afternoon, between four and seven o'clock, some seventy-five callers were present at various times, to meet the charming visitors of the city, and to receive and be received through the charming hospitality of Mrs. Townsend and the Townsend home.

DUKE SUBSCRIBES $100,000

That Amount Reported Through Bank of Harnett. Not Through Yet

Duke Oct. 24.—The letter below explains the situation of the Liberty Loan bonds at Duke Wednesday:

Duke, N. C., Oct. 24, 1917. Hon. J. C. Clifford, Chairman, Liberty Loan Commission, Dunn, N. C. Dear Sir:

We have the honor to report that the committee for Duke Township has been zealously working to make a creditable showing and while still working enthusiastically on this Liberty Day for subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan, we are able to report at noon to-day $33,000 of local subscriptions.

We have just received subscriptions, with check making first payment from the home of the Erwin Cotton Mills Co. of $65,000 through Bank of Harnett making a total from Duke township up to this hour of $98,000.

We are greatly encouraged at this showing and rejoice to tell you that while in patriotic response to our committee call all are subscribing in knowledge of the fact that behind these bonds stands every acre of land in the United States and every material resource of our Government, and that nothing so strong in the way of an investment is available in the entire world to-day.

We are therefore working energetically in Duke Township to roll up the subscription to the Second Liberty Loan to $100,000 and think we will succeed. With these subscriptions goes the burning desire and ardent hope of each subscriber for the good of our soldier boys and allies and for the glorious victory in our righteous war.

Faithfully Yours, E. P. Davis, Vice Chairman Liberty Loan Committee Harnett County.

P. S. Later reports showed that the $100,000 was reached before night and that there were others who promised to take small amounts.

If American women fail to do their part in this war, it will be their first failure. President Wilson says the most vital part they can play is to enroll as members of the Food Administration and cheerfully accept its direction and advice.

America will deserve to lose this war if, through unwillingness to practice small economics, it fails to save the food necessary to keep our Allies in the fight until victory is won.

If you want Germany to win this war, waste food—use up the food needed by those who are fighting her.
