WHOOPIING COUGH VACCINE 80 PER CENT EFFECTIVE

Experiment Shows It to Prevent Eight Out of Ten Cases. Ameliorates the Disease.

If every body believed in disease prevention as much as the German laborer who told his wife: "Mary, I wish you would take all de children down to de Healt Bureau and get dem vaccinated against efery disease wat dey can get vaccinated against," the news that whooping cough can be prevented by vaccination would be good news to all mothers wanting to find out how to know about it.

That is the reason why whooping cough is so common when the vaccine is not administered; is the testimony of George W. Goler of Rochester, N. Y., who recently tried out the matter doubtful theory. During an epidemic of whooping cough in Rochester, Dr. Goler conducted a campaign against the disease, giving the vaccine free to every child. Ten thousand children were vaccinated. The experiment was made during the summer of 1916. Dr. Goler says of the results of the campaign: "Up to the time of writing this report, we have estimated from reply postals sent to all physicians that less than 5 per cent of the vaccinated children came down with the disease. We believe that this work is sufficient-ly encouraging to lead us to continue it, and next summer we shall try to get the young babies vaccinated, as it is in children under one year of age that the disease is most dangerous and the immediate mortality largest. In our infectious disease wards at the Rochester Municipal Hospital, none came down with whooping cough who were exposed to it if they had previously been given three protective inoculations of pertussis vaccine of 500 million, one million, one billion and two billions, four days apart.

"Concerning the length of time for which pertussis vaccine offers immunity," says Dr. Goler, "our experience teaches us only a little. We have had two children exposed to whooping cough just after being vaccinated who did not contract whooping cough until a year afterward. The thing that we have done in this work is to popularize whooping cough vaccination among the people and physicians, and through the State Department of Health to make it possible to get pertussis vaccine for the asking."

SORE THROAT MAY MEAN DIPHTHERIA

Act at Once in Case of Symptoms. Delay is Dangerous.

Take no chances with a sore throat, advises the State Board of Health. Sore throat, regardless of how slight the symptoms, should arouse suspicion. It may be and often is the beginning of diphtheria. Don't dismiss it until the doctor has proved it is not. Especially is this important if diphtheria is prevalent in the community. Remember that if it is diphtheria, every hour that the administration of antitoxin is delayed, the possibility of a fatal termination is increased.

Diphtheria is about one hundred per cent curable, provided the treatment is given soon enough. Oftentimes the beginning of diphtheria, which is a sore throat, is thought to be only a cold or tonsillitis and the doctor is not called and treatment given until it is too late. After the third or fourth day, treatment often fails and there is no cure. The safest plan when diphtheria is suspected, is to give antitoxin while waiting for the diagnosis of the physician.

Diphtheria is due to a bacillus that is contracted usually through the mouth and nose from some other patient or carrier. Even well persons often carry diphtheria germs in their saliva and nose secretions, and for this reason, the common drinking cup, the exchange of pencils, or any other means of exchanging saliva, is especially dangerous as a spread of diphtheria. Mouth and nose secretions cannot be too carefully avoided.

CHAPTER 24 OF THE PUBLIC LAWS OF 1917

An Act to Require the Erection of Guide-Posts at the Forks and Crossings of the Public Highways in the Several Counties of North Carolina

The General Assembly of North Carolina do enact:

SECTION 1. That the boards of the county commissioners of the several counties of this State shall, within six months after the ratification of this act to be erected and maintained at the various crossings and forks of the public highways of each county guide-posts with proper inscriptions and devices thereon indicating the direction to and distance from the most important town or vicinity within ten miles of such guide-posts. Such post shall be of substantial timber and the lettering thereon shall be not less than two inches in height of legible character.

SECTION 2. That the cost of the erection of such guide-posts shall be paid from the county road fund.

SECTION 3. That in those counties in which road commissioners have been established by law the duty of the erection of such guide-posts shall devolve upon said road commissioners instead of the board of county commissioners.

SECTION 4. That any person who shall willfully deface or destroy any such guide-post shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than five dollars nor more than twenty-five dollars.

SECTION 5. That all laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Ratified this the 7th day of February, A. D. 1917.

THE SYNOD MET LAST WEEK IN FAYETTEVILLE

Good Work Done and Gratifying Reports. In Raleigh Next Year

The Synod of North Carolina adjourned at 10:15 last night after an impressive session by Dr. White of Raleigh, the Moderator, Dr. Johnston, pronounced that Synod had adjourned.

Just before the recess yesterday afternoon, Hon. B. E. Lay, seconded by Dr. White, extended the Synod an invitation to meet in the First Church in Raleigh next fall. Dr. C. G. Vardell invited the Presbyterians to meet in Red Springs. He gave as his reason the fact that he wished Synod to see for themselves what Flora MacDonald College is doing for the education of the women of the church. There was no second to Dr. Vardell's invitation. By a rising vote the Synod registered its wish to meet in the capital city.

Practically all of the work done at the afternoon and night sessions was the hearing of reports from committees, and passing on them. At the night session, Rev. J. G. Garth outlined the work of the Synodical committee on young people's work. There are 256 young people's societies and 55 men and boys' classes. They raised a total sum of $12,584. Splendid young people's conference was held at Montreat last July attended by 250 young people from all over the South, 100 of whom were from this State. Mr. Garth made several recommendations. Co-operation in the summer conference at Montreat June 20-30 next year, organization of young people's societies in all churches, using the Christian Endeavor as a model wherever practicable, and the ultimate formation of a young people's union for the entire Synod urged.—Fayetteville Observer, Nov. 2nd.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

An Ambition and a Record

THE needs of the South are identical with the needs of the Southern Railway: the growth and success of one means the upbuilding of the other.

The Southern Railway sets its sights on grand problems and accomplishes them.

The Southern Railway Company is to be congratulated for its policy in the management of the railway; in its prompt and liberal policy in the maintenance of reliability which insures the confidence of its patrons; in its policy of economy; in its policy of liberality in the construction of its lines; in its policy of liberal and generous treatment of its employees and the public.

To this is added in the body of the South abundance of other great industries, which are more and more being developed and equal opportunities.

"The Southern Serves the South."

WAR BOARD WORKING TO SECURE COAL

Washington, D. C., November 5.—The Railroad's War Board is now directing efforts to the work of insuring an adequate coal supply for domestic and industrial uses of coal in all sections of the country. While a great supply of coal has been mined and shipped than ever before, the difficulty today is that the consumption all over the country is greater than ever before.

The Railroad's War Board has received reports indicating that the efforts of the railroads and coal shippers to prevent the threatened coal shortage in the northwest during the coming winter have been more successful than seemed possible during the summer. With five weeks or more left before the close of navigation on the Great Lakes, 25,248,100 of the 29,000,000 tons, which it was anticipated will be required, have already been sent to the northwest.
