

AVERY CHILLED PLOWS HAVE A WONDERFUL RECORD

During the few years which have elapsed since these plows were placed on the market the demand for them has reached proportions which have surprised even ourselves who know their sterling qualities. Our yearly sales now mount into quite a number and the Avery has become the recognized standard of excellence in Chilled Plow construction.

This can be the result of only one fact: Farmers who have bought AVERY CHILLED PLOWS are so thoroughly pleased with the way they are built and the work they do that in their enthusiasm they have become missionaries for us, spreading the gospel of Avery superiority among their friends and neighbors.

We now have on hand a number of these plows and can supply our customers with the models they want. You will not find a better plow on the market and now is the best time to buy. We will be glad to demonstrate the superior qualities of The Avery any time you will come in.

We also have for your inspection a number of other makes of Plows, Distributors, Stalk Cutters, Harrows, Spring Tooth Cultivators, One-Horse Cultivators, or anything you need in Farming Implements. We make a special effort to handle only the best and you will do the right thing to investigate before buying elsewhere.

DOCTORS SAY THE NEW CALOMEL IS BEST MEDICINE

New Variety, Called Calomel, is Purged and Refreshing Force—Medical Virtues Retained and Improved.
According to the world's greatest physicians and medical authorities, calomel was the best and most universally useful of all medicines. Medical authorities prescribed calomel for almost every disease and explained that it was the best and surest of all system purifiers. They say that calomel cleanses the liver, stomach, bowels and kidneys and purifies the blood from all poisons, making the system pure and clean so that nature can quickly restore the health. In no other medicine is there so much of all its purifying and dangerous qualities, the new kind of calomel, called "Calomel," is even more popular than the old. As a liver-cleanser and system purifier Calomel is more effective than the old style Calomel, yet so entirely harmless in effect. One Calomel at bedtime, with a swallow of water—that's all. No nausea, no salts, nor the slightest unpleasantness. Next morning you awake feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go where you please, with no restriction of habit or diet or danger of irritation.
Calomel is sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees Calomel, and will refund your money if you are not delighted with them.—(adv.)

LOAN OF THANKFULNESS
Just suppose you are driving along peaceably in your automobile, not speeding nor driving carelessly, yet making progress for all that; suppose that, rounding a turn in the road, you suddenly see a chasm ahead, made by a washed-out bridge.
In this crisis you accept the one chance of escaping annihilation. You automatically shut off the power and jam on the brakes while the machine skids up to the edge of the abyss and stops. After an intense moment of waiting, you all step out unharmed. You find, however, that the effort of stopping ruined two expensive tires, burned out your brake linings and damaged some minor braces.
If this really happened to you, what would you do? Would you bemoan the damages to your car and regret the prospective repair bill? Or would you thank God that you had been able to save precious lives, no matter at what expense? If you are a regular man, you would be devoutly thankful when the time came would pay the expense bill thankfully.
So each and all of us ought to feel toward the coming Victory Liberty Loan.
A year ago now, just previous to the great enemy offensive—the effort which Germany promised would quickly end the war in favor of autocracy—a certain Prussian nobleman gave an outline of his country's peace terms. They included, in addition to the annexation of Belgium and northern France, the payment into the Kaiser's treasury of an indemnity of which "the minimum shall be forty-five billion dollars, to be paid by America if France and Great Britain are unable." These brazen terms also included conditions that would have left the menace of autocracy frowning at us across the Atlantic and awaiting a favorable opportunity to strike and subjugate America also.

How Different it is Today!
Exactly like the folks in that automobile, we Americans, we people of the Fifth Federal Reserve District, have all miraculously escaped a disaster, dreadful in its potentialities for evil. As a nation, we have not only escaped almost unharmed but we have emerged with added riches, renown and prestige. Never again will any autocrat dare flaunt America. Succeeding generations will be safe from that peril. It has cost Uncle Sam a tidy sum of money and it will cost some billions more to "finish the job"—to repair the damage caused by the effort of suddenly stopping the war. But what is mere money compared to the saving of lives and the maintenance of the great principles upon which this Republic is built?
We ought to be glad and thankful we do not have to pay some of that "minimum of forty-five billion dollars." We ought to be glad and thankful we escaped disaster last spring and summer. We ought to be supremely thankful that victory was achieved for us at so low a cost—a cost we can pay by loaning Uncle Sam our money at a fair rate of interest.
Let us thank God, "from whom all blessings flow." Let us put our thankfulness into deeds by buying more Victory Liberty Loan Bonds next month than anyone expects us to buy.
ASK QUICK SHIPPING OF USED CLOTHING
Atlanta, April 1.—The Southern Division of the Red Cross has just received notice of a cable from Paris, urging the extreme use of used clothing in the liberated countries abroad and insisting that chapters begin shipments at the earliest possible moment to meet this demand, which is one of the most pressing ever presented to the Red Cross.

1,000,000 FRENCH KILLED
An Atlantic Port.—France in four years of conflict to preserve her own liberty and that of the world, according to a Mr. Tardie, French high commissioner to the United States, has lost 1,500,000 men killed and many wounded. America owes France an enormous debt of gratitude for this heroic outpouring of her life's blood and also for the reported saving of thousands of lives in this country as it threatened the world through the discovery by French scientists of a perfect remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments which, it is said, has relieved incalculable suffering and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Gen. H. Mayr, prominent Chicago publisher, imports the ingredients and sells this "Avery's Wonderful Remedy." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will relieve or money refunded.—Hood & Grantham and druggists everywhere.

DR. ARNOLD RETURNS.
Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Arnold, with their son and daughter, returned to Lillington Tuesday afternoon after an absence of about eighteen months, during which time Dr. Arnold has been in army service, going to Camp Greenleaf, Oglethorpe, Ga., when the Medical Corps went in training beginning with the entrance of the United States in the war. Dr. Arnold has been stationed at Camp Kearny, near San Diego, Cal.
Dr. Arnold was welcomed back to Lillington by a host of friends. Coming here to locate in 1905, he practiced his medical profession here until the call came to serve his country, and now that the German menace has subsided, he returns to serve his people. He declares army life both enjoyable and stimulating to the physical fiber, and he shows by his ruddy countenance that his case was no exception to the rule. Lillington welcomes Dr. Arnold and his family back home with that true cordiality of interest which comes from the hearts of Harnett County citizens.
In the "Taps" number of "Trench and Camp," the camp paper, the following appears:
"Captain L. J. Arnold, Camp Urologist, who was in charge of these diseases at the Base Hospital, established the Camp Urological Infirmary and is its commanding officer. In the past three months over 1,000 men have received treatment at the infirmary. Each month hundreds of them are discharged as cured, many of these cases chronic and of long standing. Under the capable supervision of Capt. Arnold and his assistants, the work of this infirmary is being recognized as an important factor in the medical department of the camp."
Dr. and Mrs. Arnold and children are at present stopping with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ross.

THE TRAIL OF THE FOX.
(By F. Hunter Creech.)
"Signed" W. N. Coler & Co., R. F. Pettigrew, D. L. Russell, Marion Butler.
Depository: National American Trust Company, 195 Broadway, New York, Wheeler Peckham, Counsel.
The above signatures were subscribed to an advertisement in the New York Evening Post, April, 1908. The advertisement called attention to the decision of the case in the United States Supreme Court, entitled, "South Dakota vs. North Carolina," wherein the former State secured judgment against the latter on ten bonds, par value $10,000, amounting with interest, to $27,400. The judgment was paid. The bonds in question were repudiated by the State of North Carolina, and their history is too well known to necessitate comment.
The signs of this advertisement claimed credit (and we will say that Mr. Butler is entitled to it, and may have it with our compliments) for devising the means of enforcing the collection of these repudiated bonds.
The advertisement further stated: "The Committee is now ready to proceed with the collection of all other repudiated bonds of every class of each State."
We are quite well aware of the fact that Mr. Butler has been ready, at any and all times, to compel North Carolina to pay the repudiated, carpet-bagger bonds, that his party placed upon the State.
From Mr. Butler's viewpoint there are very good reasons for that. Personally, as a lawyer, think of the nice fat fees he would get for obtaining all this money, for he and his co-conspirators.
However, we are not so much concerned about what Mr. Butler has already done in reference to the bond question; but we are concerned about what he may try to do. We need to keep our minds refreshed about his former activities in order that we may gauge his present and future actions.
Mr. Butler recognized the Republican Party of the South as representing "little more than a political chase for Federal offices"; and every one familiar with the conditions in North Carolina, and familiar with the fertile brain of Marion Butler, knows full well that there is little the Republican party expects in the Old North State.
Why did Marion Butler lock arms with Will Hays and make a charge upon North Carolina, by holding such a big gaseous and demonstrative festival over at Greensboro recently? Surely Mr. Hays and Mr. Butler are both too well informed to expect to reap a political harvest in North Carolina. Mr. Hays realizes that if such were his intention, that it would have been better to have spent his time trying to straighten out the difficulties between those two famous Republican gentlemen from Illinois, Senator Lawrence F. Sherman, and How James R. Mann,—but, something far more important has been at the surface. They knew that any possible

"FLO-FLO" COMING
One of the most musical and spectacular of the musical shows which captured New York last season will make its debut on the stage of the La Fayette theatre on Friday, April 11th, when John Cort brings his sensational, effective "warbirds" production of "Flo-Flo" to Fayetteville.
"Flo-Flo" has all of the graces of the musical comedy of the past and any number of new ones which are essentially her own, including a chorus of matchless beauty and grace, a scenic background which has never been equalled in loveliness and a cast which was noteworthy even in New York, where "Flo-Flo" was running at the Cort Theatre. The chorus, incidentally, numbers nothing but "perfect thirty-sixes" and has that rare modicum of a sense of humor exhibited at each performance in a series of eccentric dances.

Also, Flo-Flo, the charming corset model, gives occasion for a spectacular Fashion array. Mr. Cort selected for his cast Jack Norton, Cordelia Hauger, Sam Howard, Martha Lawrence, Thomas Gordon, Maude Nolan, Len Leonard, Betty Booth, Francis & Ross, Gus Vaughn, and the Perfect Thirty-Six Chorus, besides an augmented orchestra under the direction of Edward J. Howb. Advance seats on sale at the Strand Theatre, Fayetteville.
WEBSTER ON ELOQUENCE
True eloquence, indeed, does not consist in speech. It cannot be brought from far. Labor and learning may toil for it, but they will toil in vain. Words and phrases may be marshaled in every way, but they can not compass it. It must exist in the man, in the subject, and in the occasion.
Even genius itself then feels rebuked and subdued, as in the presence of higher qualities. Then patriotism is eloquent; then self-devotion is eloquent. The clear conception, outrunning the deductions of logic, the high purpose, the firm resolve, the dauntless spirit; speaking from the tongue, beaming from the eye, informing every feature, and urging the whole man onward right onward, to his object—this, this is eloquence; or, it is something greater and higher than all eloquence; it is action—noble, sublime action.—Daniel Webster.
Faults.
Do not think of your faults; still less of others' faults: in every person who comes near you, look for what is good and strong; honor that; rejoice in it, and as you can, try to imitate it; and your faults will drop off like dead leaves, when their time comes.—Ruskin.
