Hampshire Hog Sale

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14th 1919

Sale to be held three miles east of Dunn on G. R. Lee Place

30 head, bred sows, gilts and boars

ANNOUNCEMENT

In announcing my first sale I wish to say that my herd is of god quality and breeding. While there are herds better advertised there are very few with more good quality animals than will be found in this herd.

The sired sows in this sale are being sold because I cannot keep hogs to any extent for a while in my new location and am compelled to let go of stock that I have tried to produce for several years, and am sure they will suit the most particular buyer.

WILLIAM A. FORBES.
 Christian Advocate.
 Our columns carried recently the announcement of the serious illness of Rev. W. A. Forbes, one of the older men of the North Carolina Conference and for several years upon the supernuante list. We had no further report from him until a telegram from Rev. J. M. Daniel on October 29th brought the news of his having passed to his eternal home.
 Brother Forbes, the third child of Rev. John H. and Mrs. Mary Forbes was born near Danville, Va. February 18th, 1846, and died October 27, 1919, in his seventy-fourth year. He gave his heart to God in his 9th year, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Rock Springs near Danville, Va. He moved from this community into North Carolina and settled at Roxboro where he entered heartily into the life of the Church. He became superintendent of a Sunday school and was for a time superintendent in general of the Sunday schools of Person county. He was also a singing master in those days and taught several classes in singing. It was here that he was licensed to preach, and for several years exercised his gifts as a local preacher.
 In his twenty-first year he was married to Miss Virginia Powell near Milton, N. C., in May 1866. To this union two children were born, one of whom died in infancy. The other is Mrs. D. C. Bryant, living near Wallace, N. C.
 It was not until the year 1885 that Brother Forbes entered the itinerant, joining the North Carolina Conference on trial at the session of the Conference which met that year at Charlotte, N. C. He then lacked only a few months of being forty years of age, but he has had a successful ministry. Magnolia, 1888-7; Kenansville, 1888-9-0-1; Whiteville, 1892-3; Bethel, 1894-5; Mattamuskeet, 1896; Richlands and Jackson 1897-98;

Dunn Circuit, 1899-1900-1901; Henderson, 1902. His health failed him in the fall of that year, and he took a supernuante relation for one year; but at the next Conference he was put back on the effective list and continued his work. His further appointments follow: Duke, 1904-05; Dover, 1906; Farmville, 1907-08-09; Atlantic, 1910. At the session of the Conference in 1910, held at Elizabeth City, he again asked for the supernuante relation and his health never permitted him to re-enter the active work. During this time he has made his home at Buie's Creek, doing such work for the Church as he could and as opportunity offered.
 During his pastorate on the Dunn Circuit, his wife became greatly affected, and after a long illness died December 4th, 1900, at the home of her daughter and was buried near Wallace. On June 2nd, 1902, he was married a second time to Miss Leona Crowder, of Buie's Creek, N. C., who survives him. To them one child was born, but it died in infancy. However, they adopted a bright boy to whom they gave the name of Luther Forbes, and he also survives. No man in old age and failing health ever had a more self-sacrificing and devoted companion than did Brother Forbes, as the wife of his last days. Early in the year it became apparent that Brother Forbes could not long remain with us, but it was only five weeks ago that he took his bed. He suffered no pain, just gradually weakened away until he fell on sleep he looked forward with an ever brightening hope. This hope he made clear to all the many visitors who came to see him. He told his promising elder, Rev. J. D. Bundy, to bear this message to his comrades: "Tell the boys I will not answer the roll call at Conference, as I am going to answer it in heaven." That roll call he has answered with exceeding great joy.
 The funeral was conducted from the residence at Buie's Creek on Tuesday afternoon, October 28th, 1919 by Rev. J. M. Daniel, pastor of the Methodist Church at Dunn, assisted by Rev. S. M. McDonald. Beautiful tributes were paid to his life and character by Brothers Miller and Edgerton, of the Baptist Church, and by Brother Menus of the Presbyterian Church. Then on Wednesday morning his body was carried to old Rock Fish Church, near Wallace, and laid beside that of his first wife to await the resurrection morn.
 For the facts contained in this brief sketch, we are indebted to Rev. N. M. McDonald, pastor of the Lillington Circuit on which Brother Forbes was living. He has been one of the true and faithful men of the North Carolina Conference. He came in a little late in life, and spent only twenty-four years on the effective list. After all, that was nearly a quarter of a century, and during that time he held his place in the ranks and rendered valiant and effective services. May the great Comforter be very near to the surviving members of his family!

SACRIFICE

(To Mrs. E. W. Harris, Wendell, N. C. whose son, Lieut. Edward Cedric Harris, made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefield of France one year ago Tuesday. It was the hour of victory.)
 Oh, mothers of immortal dead!
 Oh, those who died for us—
 It is not that your sons are dead—
 They only sleep we trust.
 Sleep with the Lord, to rise with Him
 When He shall raise the just.
 The dear Lord died that all may have Eternal life, if they
 Will keep the faith, and trust on Him.
 These simple laws obey.
 But only when our own strength fails
 Will Christ come to our aid.
 He called His sons, they heard His cry,
 And went forth unafraid.
 They knew that He was with them,
 And they could not fail for He
 Would win the battle in the last
 And bring them victory.
 I cannot ask you not to grieve for
 Your brave sons, though they
 Have reached the goal for which we strive
 And labor day by day.
 Your hearts are sad
 You miss them so—
 Your sacrifice was great,
 And yet your joy will be the more
 to meet them at the Gate.
 Mrs. J. E. Markham.

AUSTRALIAN AIR PLAN ENORMOUS SCHEME

Proposal to Operate Lines From New York to Liverpool to Antipodes

London, Sept. 24.—The proposed Liverpool-Australia and Liverpool-New York air service will be an enormous undertaking. The problem of supplying necessary drigible airships is but one of the items to be considered. They cost about $3,750,000 each to construct. At least six of these huge craft will be necessary to maintain these two services with any degree of regularity.
 There are also to be considered the problems of suitable landing grounds and mooring-posts; the intention of the Great Northern Aerial syndicate being that aerodromes will be provided at the more important stations while moorings spots will serve as second-class stops or halts. Aerodromes for drigibles are required only at every 1,000 miles and it is now possible for an airship to be moored to or released from a mooring tower in any wind up to 60 miles an hour; yet the total financial backing considered necessary for such an undertaking is in the neighborhood of $10,000,000.

 The mooring out station for airships which is in the form of a high tower enclosing an elevator shaft by which passengers and cargo will be taken up and down from the ground is over 150 feet high. With a revolving head the airship can be rigidly attached to this tower by the nose. It will ride clear of the ground in all weathers and be able to swing with the direction of the wind.
 Each of these towers will be provided with a hauling in wire and a rope by which the airship will be hauled up to the mooring post; also a supply beam of hydrogen, fuel and water ballast.

THE GOLDEN RULE IN LANDLORD AND TENANT RELATIONS

In their relations with each other, we believe that the average tenant largely follows the example set by the landlord. If the latter is hard, grasping and inclined to squabble over petty details, his tenants are likely to possess the same characteristics. On the other hand, a broad-minded, liberal, progressive landlord will probably have up-to-date, ambitious, progressive tenants. It is a repetition of the old truth that in the actions of others we usually see reflections of our own actions.
 Speaking himself as a landlord, the writer of this believes that the Golden Rule and the principle of the square deal are absolutely workable between landlord and tenant. Not only are they workable, but they are sound business. The tenant who is treated fairly knows it, and he will usually treat his landlord fairly. Likewise, the tenant who is mistreated also is well aware of it, and the landlord usually suffers in the form of neglected stock or crops.
 Successful business men everywhere know that truth, honesty, justice and fair dealing are absolutely essential to success, and the same truth is just as applicable in land lord and tenant relations. Let both tenant and landlord learn these lessons, and both will be well started on the road to success.—The Progressive Farmer.
 "Cabe Giggery don't amount to much, does he?" asked a citizen of Sandy Mush, Ark.
 "Amount to much?" returned the neighbor addressed. "He don't amount to nuth'n. Why, he's so d-d-burned shuckless that he won't even keep his wife's ax sharp!"
 As we give more we get more.
 Education is increasing natural power.
