GOING UP

Beginning June one, this publication will be doled out to the public at two dollars the year. We don't want to be accused of profiteering. We point to the fact that we are giving you two papers where only one grew before. The fact that the paper upon which The Dispatch is printed costs us in the neighborhood of $2.80 the ton of 2,000 pounds, we believe, is proof that we are not charging you too much. Each Dispatch weighs from two to three ounces. You get 104 each year. You can't figure our profit for yourself.

But, seriously, we are going to charge that two dollars—that is: we are going to collect it from you if you want the paper. After June first every person who gets the paper will have paid for it in advance. If you do not pay before that time, it will not come to you after that date. Forehanded folk will pay before then, because by so doing they will save a dollar. A collector will strive to see all of the townfolk between now and that date. Those who do not live in town must send cash, stamps, money order or check. Failure to locate townfolk will not obligate us to continue them upon the subscription lists. They can find us much more easily than we can find them. We thank you.

ELECTION DAY

Ever another number of The Dispatch visits the homes of its many readers. We have chosen the men who are to manage its business as a municipality during the coming year. It looks today as if there are going to be two tickets in the field. One was chosen by the Democrats. The other is promised by the "independent" voters who are to meet this afternoon.

Since we are not in the confidence of the independents, we can not intelligently judge as to the worth of the ticket they purpose to nominate. All we have to say is a repetition of that admonition we have always directed to the voters of Dunn: Consider first the fitness of each candidate; vote for no man to whom you would not give employment in the most responsible position of your business if you had a business; place the welfare of Dunn above any personal grievance you may have. If you voters will do this, Dunn has nothing to fear from you.

Remember this when you vote next Tuesday.

KNITTING MILL

Those of Dunn's people who have not visited the new knitting mill have missed an opportunity to a most interesting thing. This industry is destined to become one of the most helpful factors in the life of the community. It isn't a factory in the ordinary sense. It is a clean, bright workshop into which women of the community are invited to work under the best of surroundings and for adequate compensation.

Around the old tobacco warehouse which a little while ago was a dilapidated structure surrounded and filled with rubbish, the company is planting vines and hedges and spreading paint. Only the cleanliness of the plan is evident now, but in a short while the vines will bloom and the hedges will grow, lending their aid to the plan which has for its goal beauty and comfort and health.

Inside the mill there is light and fresh air for those who work. There is not a suggestion of the toil evident in factories of former years. Every comfort is provided.

Last week the first class of ten operatives were pronounced proficient. They have been promoted to the finer grades of work and are now able to earn up to $30 a week. Their promotion makes room for another class of ten. The new learners will be paid a salary of $9 a week while they are learning. They will be promoted as soon as they learn to operate the machines.

There is no limit to the number the company will employ. The Care interests have big plans for Dunn. All they ask is the full cooperation of Dunn and its people. They invite you to visit the plant.

CITIZENS' TICKET

As was foreshadowed by the grumbling of those who were not permitted to vote in the town Democratic primary, a citizens' ticket to oppose the Democratic nominees will be placed in the field today when a mass meeting of independent voters are called together in the Metropolitan Theatre.

Although it is not able to see where the independent can hope for success in view of the fact that two thirds of the voting strength of the community is pledged to the Democrats,

The Dispatch must admit that they are doing just what it feared they would do when the "steam roller" flattened out those who would not agree to vote a straight Democratic ticket in the coming State election.

It is unfortunate that this thing should come up. Politics should have no place in the town's business. The independents, of course, believe they have a grievance founded upon what they choose to term "high-handed" methods used by election officials. But it is not good for that good spirit which has hitherto marked the life of the community. Whoever is named to carry the independent banner is bound to win some disfavor from those who fought so hard for the ticket named by the Democrats. The wrongness engendered by the methods unfavorable to the losers is going to be irritated in a contest.

But, despite all that may be said by the Bolsheviks, this is still a free country. Whosoever aspires to office has the right to run.

IN AND ABOUT THE TOWN

Clara Kimball Young, in "Eyes of Youth," a screen adaption of Max Marcin's great drama of the same name will be the attraction at Marsh Morrow's White Way Theatre next Wednesday night. This is said to be one of the most remarkable stories ever told in the movies. It is gorgeously costumed and beautifully screened. It is in this that Miss Young has scored her most notable hit, according to press notices.

"Fair and Warmer," one of the popular bedroom attractions, was seen here by a sympathetic, if not large, audience in the Metropolitan Wednesday. Dunn show lovers have never witnessed a more interesting and laughable comedy - drama than this in which Ralph Simons so admirably filled the role of Billy Bartlett, the clam-like hubby of his more jassy spouse, Laura Marguerite Allen, in the role of Blanche Allen, innocent and unsuspecting wife of Jack Allen, played opposite to Mr. Simons. Their work was excellent. It was supported admirably by the rest of the cast.

Aubrey Register, a white youth of Sampson County, was sentenced to a year on the roads in Recorder's court this week for having stolen an automobile belonging to Bob Fernigan. The boy admitted taking the car and entered a plea of guilty. He made no defense.

Benson Boy Scouts defeated those of Dunn in the first ball game of the season here Wednesday. The score was 9 to 6; the game featured the local boys had had little practice and were out played in every particular of the game. Impiring antics by Senor Eddie Hinescentas saved the attraction from subject list. However, Dunn has a small ball player who every afternoon is demonstrating their aptitude for the great sport. As soon as they can get the kinks out winter-stiffed joints they will show the bugs just how good they are. Until this is done we must not be surprised if most any old aggregation comes over and wallops the mischief out of them.

W. C. Martin, of Richmond, representing the contractors who are to dig Dunn's second artesian well, is here with his equipment and will start boring as soon as it is all in place. The new well will be bored under the municipal water tank in South Locknow Square. The well, it is estimated, will be about 450 feet deep. Probably ninety days will be required to do the digging.

John Gattis of the firm of Gattis & Kanoy has returned from Shady Grove, where he installed an electric lighting plant for the home of Prof. William Dudley. Mr. Gattis says that many of the farmers in the surrounding country are installing home lighting plants since they have been made practicable for such purposes.

Representative Godwin writes that there are two vacancies in the Naval Academy to be filled from his district. He announces that competitive examinations to fill these vacancies will be held June 22. One principal and three alternates for each vacancy will be appointed by him. Full information can be gotten upon application to his office in Washington.

Tom Smith, the negro wanted here for beating his wife, was arrested in Rocky Mount Wednesday night and brought to Dunn by Chief Fage. He will be tried for assault and for carrying concealed weapons.

To The Democratic Voters of Harnett County. I have been informed that someone is circulating a report that I will not be a candidate for Judge of the Recorders court, on account of my accepting a position with Uncle Sam. I desire to state for the benefit of my friends who are supporting me so loyally, that it is absolutely untrue. I am in the race to the finish, the position that I have is only a temporary one and will last only a short while. After that I will be found on the firing line doing my best fighting for the interest of my party, as I have done for the past 33 years.

If you think my service to my party and the public and my qualifications for this responsible office, justifying your support I shall attempt ever to reward you by a faithful discharge of the duties of this office. Very truly, OTIS F. SHELL.

ANNOUNCEMENT - I announce my candidacy for Commissioner of Labor and Printing in the June state-wide Democratic primary to succeed Hon. M. L. Shipman, incumbent, and will appreciate your vote and support at the polls. Ask anyone who knows of my labors in and about the legislature since 1909. Gastonia, N. C., April 22, 1920.
