DEMOCRATIC HOPES

Republican leaders seem to have played into the hands of the Democrats in every thing they did in the Chicago Convention. In consequence Democracy, persecuted by political doblers as a poor second in the November election, has come from behind and is now the favorite.

Through action of the Republicans it has become unnecessary for Mr. Wilson to make the League of Nations the issue in the coming campaign. They have beaten him to it and will get all the blame with none of the credit.

Harding the man they nominated, is considered about the weakest of all those who aspired to the nomination. He is not popular with labor and is known to be friendly to that class of Americans who profited through war time profiteering. He is not a big man in any sense of the word and cannot be pleasing to those who supported Wood and Johnson.

Altogether, it looks as if Democracy will remain in the saddle for another four years.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

After the third of next month those good Democrats who are now engaged in stinging slime and brick bats at each other will bury the hatchet and begin to fling all the mud that remains in the direction of the Republicans. We, the proletariat, as has been our custom since our fathers first gave us freedom, will help them. Those of us who are for Hannibal or Homer, Cam or Max, will meantime enjoy the evil things our candidates say about them they oppose. But, whoever is nominated, will, according to custom, automatically become a paragon of virtue—a Democrat of sterling worth—a gentleman of the first water.

That is a queer thing about our system. We will spread all sorts of things about a fellow's character while he is opposing the man we want to see nominated. When he beats our fellow, we go right ahead and vote for him. If we believed all of the things said about all the fellows who are aspiring to Democratic nominations, we would immediately join the Committee of Fifty-eight or go over to the other side. If half of these things could be true, the nation would be in a bad way indeed.

HARNETT FOR HANNIBAL

Hannibal LaFayette Godwin has been so long a member of the national House of Representatives that those of us who are his neighbors have taken it for granted that he would remain there just as long as he chose to ask for the office. That, probably, is the reason his incumbency is threatened now by Homer Lyon, of Whiteville, who led Mr. Godwin by a substantial margin in the recent primary.

Hannibal is in danger. Lyon has built up a perfectly working machine that functioned admirably when the voting began. Mr. Godwin and his friends have been too confident. They did little work. Many of his home folk thought it needless to vote. Nothing like the full strength of Democracy was polled in the primary, and the larger part of those who did not vote were Mr. Godwin's friends.

If our townman is to be returned to Congress, his friends in Dunn and Harnett County must do their best for him between now and July 3. There are more people in the District who want him returned than there are who do not. The real task is to get those people to vote.

Riddle says the 1920 fair is going to be the most ambitious project of its kind ever attempted in Eastern Carolina. He and Ed. Warren are striving hard to get the several new buildings and other additions ready in time for the opening in October. It is probable that Vice-President Marshall will speak at the opening of the fair, it was stated yesterday.

Evangelist Johnson, who is conducting revival services at the First Baptist church, will invade the business district Saturday night. If Saturday night crowds will not come to his sermon he is going to take the sermon to the crowds. He will preach on one of the street corners down town. He has been doing a great work for the church during the last week and has won many souls for his Master.

Misses Rosalie Goldstein and Christine Thompson entertained a large number of their young friends at a Japanese lawn party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Goldstein Tuesday afternoon. It was in the nature of a "going away" party, the young hostesses intending to depart for a summer's vacation at Camp Ronah, Lake George, New York, within a few days.

The lawn and porch were decorated with Japanese lanterns and umbrellas. Punch was served on the front porch by Miss Thompson upon the arrival of the guests, later cream and cake was served by Miss Goldstein. Those invited were: Misses Eleanor Hatcher, Gertrude Newsome, Grace Sulpes, Ella Primrose, Margaret Pope, Mildred Shell, Lucile Creel, Marguerite Gardner, Lucile Thompson, Marie Thompson, Louise Denning, Louise Pridden, Mayme Clyde Ross, Ethel Danson, Mary Lovee Floyd, Fannie Goddard, Elizabeth Townsend, Reid Daniel, Annie Bells, Noel, Lillian Wilkinson, Virginia Mitchell, May Wilkinson, Messrs. Harry Newberry, John L. Thompson, Jr., John Olive, Granville Tilghman, Benjamin Cooper, Carl Wilson, William Huttenbach, Farquhar Best, Coleman Pridden, Durham Taylor and Miss Freida Isaacs.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT BEFORE THE CLERK

North Carolina—Harnett County. George E. Prince, surviving executor of Sarah M. Andrews, deceased.

vs. Janie C. Andrews, Rory Andrews and J. C. Andrews, Jr.

Order of Publication. It appearing from the affidavit of George E. Prince in this action, that Rory Andrews, one of the defendants therein, is not to be found in Harnett county, and cannot after due diligence be found in the state, and it further appearing that he is a necessary defendant to this action, it is therefore, ordered that notice of this action be published once a week for four weeks in The Dunn Dispatch, a newspaper published in Harnett county, setting forth the title of the action, the names of the parties, and requiring the defendant, Rory Andrews, to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Harnett county at his office in Lillington, N. C., on the 19th day of July 1920, and answer or demur to the petition of the plaintiff.

A. A. McDONALD, Clerk of the Superior Court. This 12th day of June, 1920.

The public is cordially invited to be present at the Wesley Bible Class

Sunday morning 9:45. D. H. Hood, a teacher who has taught the class for 25 years or more has for his subject the 23 Psalm. Mr. Hood has on this subject several times and every time new thoughts have been brought out which are highly pleasing to his hearers. On account of the warm weather they have chosen the place of meeting to be the pavilion—go and carry your neighbor.

However, its going to be a big day—the biggest Dunn has ever had, not even excepting the day that Col. John Angier brought his railroad to Dunn. Secretary Riddle and Ellis Goldstein, along with a raft of other huslers of the Dunn District, are working hard to get dozens of decorations. They have engaged a troupe of circus performers and clowns to enliven the day and are arranging for several horse races as well as for athletic events of every kind. Music will be furnished by several bands and a covey of acrobats will add enjoyment to the occasion.

FOR SALE—ONE PAIR OF DE-troit scales. See H. T. Hodges, Dunn, N. C. 18-2t.

HAVE YOU ANY REAL ESTATE for sale? See W. C. Cauley at Young's Hotel for attractive proposition. Representing Walter and Gurley Co., Kinston, N. C. 4t-pd.

The NEW EDISON

"The Photograph with a Soul"

which made New York gasp with astonishment

We have an instrument exactly like the instrument which was used in the remarkable "Dark Scene" Test made March 10th, 1920, in Carnegie Hall, New York City, when the New Edison matched Anna Case's voice with a realism that utterly baffled 2500 sophisticated New Yorkers.

Test its power to give you the actual voices of great artists. Let us give you the Realism Test.
