THE INALIENABLE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD

Matt. 7:9.

Sermon delivered at the First Baptist church by the pastor on Mother's Day 1922.

It is fitting that one day in the year should be set apart and designated as "Mother's Day." It is well to wear a flower in memory of mother.

In the preamble of the Declaration of Independence, drafted by Thomas Jefferson and adopted by the American colonies, we have these immortal words: "All men are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights."

1. The Inalienable Right to Be Born. This is a God-given right. In Genesis chapter one we are told that God made man in his own image, male and female, and blessed them, and said unto them: "Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it."

2. The Inalienable Right to Be Nourished Physically. Many are denied this right. It is appalling to think of the number of babies hurled every year. In many instances this great infantile death-rate is due to under-nourishment.

3. The Inalienable Right to Be Fed. The holy Scriptures teach us that those who do not provide for their households are worse than infidels.

4. The Inalienable Right to Be Nourished Mentally. The child points its chubby hand to the moon and asks how or why, because it has an intellectual craving that is just as real as its bodily hunger.

5. The Inalienable Right to Be Well Bred. Next to the right to be born, is the child's right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.

6. The Inalienable Right to Be Well Bred Physically. I can never forget a picture I have seen. It was a picture of a new born baby lying on its mother's lap.

7. The Inalienable Right to Be Well Bred Spiritually. The child has a right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.

turned away in shame, for he was reaping his harvest of wild oats. It is time for us to declare that the right of the child forbids the double standard of morals.

8. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Mentally. The new-born child is more than flesh and blood. Modern scientists are agreed that the mental propensities are determined, more or less, prior to birth.

9. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Morally. Some one has given expression to the theory that the alarming increase of homicides in this country is traceable to a spirit of murder in which many are shapen and born.

10. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Physically. Good environment is essential to a normal physical development. Any one who has visited the slums of some of our larger cities know that their unsanitary, dirty, poorly lighted and poorly ventilated homes are not conducive to good health.

11. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Mentally. Good environment is essential to the proper mental development. It is a school-master to lead the child to an appreciation of the beautiful.

12. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Spiritually. The child has a right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.

13. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Physically. The child has a right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.

worse than infidels. Many ignore their obligation. Many buy bread for the body, and books for the mind, but how many build family altars to their souls? What parent among you, who, if his child ask for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he ask a fish will give him a serpent?

19. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Mentally. The child has a right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.

20. The Child Has a Right to Be Well Bred Physically. The child has a right to be well born. If motherhood is the crown of woman, it is her responsibility as well.
