

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR BIG REUNION

Five Thousand Heroes Of The South Expected at Richmond June 19 to 22

Richmond, Va., June 10.—With the announcement by the general committee in charge of the program for the grand Confederate reunion here June 19 to 22, inclusive, that plans for the gathering have been completed...

Special trains over every railroad in the South will bring delegates to the reunion, it was announced, one train carrying twelve Pullmans bringing members of the Texas brigade...

Expect 50,000 People It is estimated that the veterans with their families will bring 50,000 people to Richmond. If a Senate resolution, passed on motion of Senator Swanson, of Virginia, is adopted by the lower branch of Congress, the war department will lend the veterans 1,000 army cots for use during the reunion.

The reunion program, which will be staged on an elaborate scale, will include addresses by United States Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi; Dr. Henry Lewis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University; Governor E. Lee Trinkle, of Virginia; W. Tate Brady, of Oklahoma and Mayor George Ainslee, of Richmond.

Thursday, June 22, will be featured by a parade in which all Confederate veterans' units will participate; the laying of the cornerstones of the Matthew Fountain Maury monument on a triangular plot at the corner of Monument avenue and the Boulevard; and a grand ball in the evening. The ball will conclude the reunion.

Hanford McNider, national commander of the American Legion and Vice-Commander Ousley, will attend the reunion at the invitation of the local Legion post, officials of the post announced.

Perhaps we soon shall have so many hotels in Boston that nobody will have to stay at home at all.—Boston Transcript.

WHERE ARE THE TRUE MOTHERS AND MINISTERS TODAY?

(Published by Request) I have read with interest, the articles in your paper against "Jansing." I am so glad that public sentiment is against it.

But, oh! how my heart ached when I read of "The pastor of a church curbe jass by toddling himself and allowing all the young people of his congregation to toddle, at regular times in the church chapel."

I have heard the remark of young people, "Why should I go to church. Yet, they try to entertain us I admit that, but pahaw, it is all baby stuff. Oh, when I want a little comfort for my soul, I'll go to the cook, no church for me please."

Defective nutrition of the soul The world today is like the adolescent, "It is the dawn of a new life—a new birth, it is the period in which the boy becomes a man and the girl a woman. Interest broadened, ideals, a feeling of responsibility asserts itself, and the youth begins to take life seriously. The period is fraught with danger, but it is likewise open to opportunities of glorious achievement."

Mothers, ministers, let's "Throw Out the Life Line." "Fortunate is the youth who enters upon the period of adolescence with right habits in the forming, good ideas of right and high ideals. If he has been under the right sort of influence during the preceding years, he will usually be well prepared for the on-coming struggle." The home and church is responsible for this.

Oh Mothers! I would to God that each of you had a deep burning desire for the welfare of your child. Oh that we could be as Hanna's. Sam. 1:27-28. "For this child I prayed, and the Lord hath given me my petition which I asked of Him. Therefore also I have lent him to the Lord: as long as he liveth he shall be lent to the Lord."

Mothers awaken! ere it is too late, and we be as Eli, and God scuds down a judgment upon us. 1 Sam 3:13, "For I have told him that I will judge His house for ever for the iniquity which he knoweth; because his sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not."

A few weeks ago someone made the remark through some paper (I don't remember who or what paper) that the young people were not half so bad as the public thought them.

But if we parents knew just a tiny fractional part of the awful things that are done in each of our States, it would shock us more than words can tell.

Just a few months ago in one of our Southern public schools one little girl, age 14 years, got mad with another little girl about the same age all about her bean, the second little girl told on the first little girl, and the first little girl said pahaw! that is nothing, I can point out a dozen girls right here in school that has venereal disease.

The result was, the board got together, selected three physicians and went through the school, examined every pupil, found the first little girl and one other was pregnant and 36 girls and as many boys with venereal disease. This was in the South but not in a big city, therefore fathers and mothers it behooves us to watch and pray.

Another instance happened just a little while before Christmas, in one of our Southern cities. A beautiful, ignorant (as to the world) girl, 15 years of age, from the mountains came to the city to get work. She found a place in a ten-cent-store, and morning after morning as she came to work, she would hear the girls tell of good times they had last night becoming so lonely in this sea of human beings she remarked to one of the girls, that she wished she could have a good time, to which the other replied, oh just you put on some glad rags and come on, so their set of boys were informed of the pretty, new, green girl, so in due time she found herself with this crowd at the club house enjoying watching the dancers.

One of the boys coming to her asked her how she was enjoying herself, she replied I never dreamed of anything so wonderful, whereupon he asked her if she would have a champagne, she replied that she had never drank anything except soda-water and cherocela, he insisted upon her trying the champagne, and poor child, the next thing she knew one of the girls was sitting on the bed trying to dress her and telling her it was time to go back to the city.

I am glad to say that there are a few pure, decent girls, the next morning, Mary, one of the clerks that was not of the crowd, seeing how jaded this girl was asked her how she enjoyed herself last night. She replied that she had never enjoyed herself so much in her life but she did feel bad, the champagne was the best thing she ever tasted, but oh my, don't it make a girl sore.

Mary realized at once what this girl had undergone and was ignorant of it all, so she said nothing more to the girl, but told her sister and sister said for the first time at once she explained everything to her and wired to her father to come at once, and first explained to him that his daughter had gotten into the wrong company, and the poor father may never know, but I hope this poor girl has learned a lesson from this one thing that will make her a guiding angel to every other girl that she comes in contact with.

A SURVEY of the experience of successful merchants of all kinds (department stores, clothing stores, specialty stores, hardware stores, drug stores, grocery stores, electrical stores, etc.) show this: 1. Better Light is increasing sales. Improved window lighting gives full advertising value to show windows and attracts more buyers inside. Improved interior lighting shows merchandise and sales service to best advantage and reduces the number of "lost sales." 2. Better Light is cutting selling expenses. Improved window lighting saves time in making sales. You sales people can, with the aid of Light, do the work of five. Improved interior lighting better shows fabrics, colors and the quality of merchandise. It reduces returns, sampling and loss through remnant sales. 3. Better Light is increasing profits. By increasing sales volume, speeding turnover and cutting operating costs, improved window and store lighting methods increase the merchants margin of profit. 4. Better Light is increasing good will and quality reputation. People have learned that a well lighted store window is the outward mark of a progressive spirit, sound values and courteous service inside. They have learned that a well lighted store interior means greater ease in shopping, less strain on, and so greater courtesy from, the sales people and less chance of selecting unsatisfactory goods. 5. Better Light means "better location." Improved window and store lighting is the chief factor in overcoming unfavorable location. It makes a store stand out from among its neighbors; it draws buyers across the street. 6. Better Light is not an expense. The installation of improved window and store lighting methods is an investment which pays for itself many times over. Light is a merchants' cheapest and most effective salesman.
