to this union was born five children, to-wit: Otis B. Harvey H. (deceased), Leman J., Lucy and Mrs. I. E. Barfoot and J. F. Mr. Naylor was a man of exemplary habits. In young manhood (it is said) he was the favorite with the young people of his community. In early life he connected himself with Spring Branch Baptist church, where he remained a consistent member until death ended his peaceful home and bore his spirit back to the God who gave it. This sad event occurred Monday evening, August the 7, 1922.

S. R. Naylor and sisters Mrs. Florantine, Hawley and Mrs. Ed. Aman. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. S. A. Edgerton, of Buies Creek. Pallbearers were his nephews: Herbert P. Naylor, T. R. Bain, Tyrus Naylor, Jno. B. Alderman, A. C. Jackson and Naylor Lee, who bore the mortal remains to the church cemetery to await the Resurrection Morn. The great concourse of people who attended burial service attested the respect they held for this good man. We commend the bereaved ones to Him who doth all things well.

FRESH PANNY AND SWEET WIL... Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Patrick, of Tampa, Fla., are here to visit Mr. and Mrs. John W. Draughon. home on West Broad street for the past week. He is suffering from an attack of malaria fever. C. J. Harris of Concord, government inspector of farm lands for the purpose of making loans to clients, is spending several days in the Dunn District. M. F. Hodges is making extensive additions to his residence in North Clinton Avenue. His will be one of the prettiest homes in Dunn when the work is completed.

W. T. Mattox, a student of Vanderbilt University, will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening. The public is cordially invited to hear him. Walter P. Byrd, Republican candidate for the office of judge of the county recorder's court to oppose Caviness Brown, Democratic nominee, was here Wednesday from his home at Lillington.

years, did all that skill could command, to revive him, but God knew best. Which his unlettered soul enjoys. Life's labor done, as sinks the day, High from its load the spirit flies. While heaven and earth combine to say. How blest the righteous when he dies. EUTHER B. POPE. Dunn, Route 1, N. C.

J. B. McDonald, who has represented the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at Duke for the past ten years, had moved his family to Dunn where he will assist W. B. Johnson, local agent for the same company with his work here. Mr. McDonald will also continue his work at Duke. He will occupy the residence at 107 West Pope street.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Surles and daughter, Doris, Mrs. J. T. Foister and son, Billie, Burt Jolland and Jesse Lee, have returned from a trip to White Lake, where they spent several days. It is said that plans are underway through which several store buildings will be erected on the site of the structures which were burned in Broad street two years ago. There is space there for five stores.

Recent rains throughout the Dunn District have occasioned much loss to farmers who were ready to pull fodder. Thousands of pounds are still in the field and much of it will be a complete loss. Charles M. Morgan, here Tuesday night to address the Chamber of Commerce on the subject of co-operative marketing, said that the cotton crop in the Dunn District was the best in the entire cotton belt. He recently has traversed the entire belt from Arizona east and north to Raleigh. He said that nowhere had he seen so fine a crop as that around Dunn. This is borne out by statements from other men who have traveled over much of the belt. With the prospects for good prices and a bumper local crop, there is every hope for a prosperous season this fall.

Mr. Naylor was one of the outstanding figures of his county. Many looked to him as a friend and counselor. He was a Christian in the truest sense of the word. Though, afflicted and confined for a good portion of the past several years he never complained. He was a generous contributor to benevolent causes, and took a keen interest in the affairs of the country. He was gentle, yet firm. He trusted his fellowman, and they trusted him. He was a good provider, and leaves his family well fixed. Of the immediate family who survive him are a widow and five children and his brothers, Rev. M. W. G. W. A. B., M. R., A. A., O. W. and

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Denning, Miss Louise Denning and Miss Margaret Pope, and Russel Warren returned Wednesday from a week's trip through Western Carolina. They visited Asheville, Mars Hill, Hendersonville, and other towns while away. State highway engineers here in charge of Engineer Beck are perfecting plans in preparation for the building of the highway between Lillington and Dunn. They are quartered in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber has been successful in its efforts to persuade the highway commission to build a concrete road between Dunn and Duke at a cost of approximately $100,000. This work will be the first hard-surface project undertaken in the county by the commission. It is probable that the work will begin within a short while.

Practically all of the outside work on the new brick home of Edward Purdie in North Wilson Avenue has been completed. Carpenters now are applying the finishing touches to the interior and are expecting to complete the work soon. Dunn has no more handsome residences than this will be when it is completed. Good progress, too, has been made on the handsome brick residence of Mr. Purdie's brother, J. W. Purdie on Townsend Heights. This, also, is to be one of Dunn's prettiest homes.

Are you planning to place an exhibit at the Harnett County Fair this year? Now is the time to start, because competition is going to be strong. The fair association is beginning the work of creating interest in the exhibits and is expecting to stage the greatest fair, from an agricultural viewpoint, of its history. The directors this year will devote more attention to farm exhibits than it did in the former fairs, and it is probable that the money they have been spending for "foreign" horse races will be devoted to home horses and home products. The premium list, said to be the best the association has yet published, soon will be ready for distribution.
