Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Earl Maynard, Tuesday, October 17th, a girl.

A. Feldman, of the Feldman Department Store, is in New York to buy goods for his store here.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. L. C. King, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Holmes, Friday, October 20th, a girl.

John C. Clifford, Jr., was here last week from State College to visit his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. C. Clifford.

Carlisle Rowland and Raymond Cromartie, students at the University, spent the week end here with their parents.

Mrs. A. B. Harrell returned to her home in Petersburg, Va., Saturday after spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope.

Mrs. Fannie Morrow has returned to her home at Gastonia after having spent several days here with her son, Marsh Morrow, of the White Way Theatre.

Enoch Lee, a member of the staff of the Wilmington postoffice was here this week to visit his father, George Moore Lee. Mr. Lee was on his way home from the Raleigh Fair.

Big Bill Dawson is on the war path with the town tax books. He still has over $6,000 to collect and says that he is going to collect it. He wants all delinquents to be ready for him when he calls.

Mrs. K. S. Weeks left last week for Richmond, where she will spend some time in a hospital. She was accompanied by Dr. R. L. Warren, and by J. H. Tart, who also will receive hospital treatment there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ella Goldstein left Sunday afternoon for Philadelphia, where Mrs. Goldstein will spend several days. Mr. Goldstein has continued on to New York where he will purchase goods for the Goldstein Co. and the Wilson Company.

Miss Agnes Harris, community nurse, requests the Dispatch to state that she can be found in her office in the Chamber of Commerce every Wednesday afternoon after 2 o'clock by any who desire advice on any matters relating to health.

Mrs. Almon Westbrook, who has been spending some time with her husband at Chapel Hill, is here to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McKay. Mr. Westbrook accompanied her to Dunn, but returned to the University Monday.

Rev. Frank Wynn, an Alliance Pastor of Pennsylvania, will preach in the Free Will Baptist church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. He is just passing through and will be here for only one service. He is a good preacher and a splendid singer and the public is cordially invited to hear him.

J. L. Harrison of Durham, was here last week advertising the auction sale of Dunn business property which will take place Saturday afternoon. At this sale the Reams ball park and other property in that section will be offered to the highest bidder on easy terms. The Lawson Realty Co. of Durham, will conduct the sale.

A large and appreciative audience saw "Under Hawaiian Skies," which was presented here in Metropolitan Theatre last Friday night. This was the first major attraction shown here this season. The next attraction booked by Manager Barefoot is "The Bat," one of the most popular dramas ever shown on the American stage. It had phenomenal runs both in New York and Chicago. It comes to the Metropolitan next month.

Owen Williams, a negro, was shot Sunday afternoon by John Coley, another negro, according to information reaching Dunn yesterday, and died at 7 o'clock Monday morning. It is said that both men had been drinking moonshine liquor. The tragedy occurred near Mingo church, in Mingo township, Sampson county. This is said to have been the second killing attributed to whiskey in that neighborhood within the last eighteen months.

Suit against the Atlantic Coast Line Railway has been filed by John McLean, colored, through his attorney, H. L. Godwin, to recover damages incident to his having been put off a passenger train near the P. J. Jeffrey home south of Dunn. McLean was bound from Philadelphia to his home here. He is said to have been suffering from pneumonia at the time. He had a ticket to Dunn, but it is alleged, was hauled past the station. It was late at night when he was put off the train, and it is said that he was obliged to crawl much of the distance.

Representative Homer L. Lyon, of the Sixth Congressional District spent last night in Dunn. He speaks this afternoon at Buckhorn and tonight at Kipling. Tomorrow afternoon and evening he will speak at Manners and Lillington in the interest of the Democratic candidates. N. A. Townsend, candidate for membership in the State House of Representatives, is accompanying him on his tour through the county and also is preaching the doctrine of Democracy. Mr. Lyon has been away from Washington since Congress adjourned three weeks ago. He said that in Washington it was freely predicted that the Democrats would make large gains in the forthcoming election and that a Democratic president would be elected to succeed Mr. Harding.

Miss Brownie Morris, field representative for the American Red Cross was here Friday and Saturday to confer with Chairman Ellis Goldstein and other Red Cross workers relative to the 1922 roll call to be started on Saturday, November 11. Dunn is asked to raise its usual $1,000 for the relief of human suffering through this roll call. However, there is every indication that the sum will be much larger than that, since most of the money is sent here for the maintenance of the public health work undertaken by Miss Agnes Harris, community nurse. Miss Louise Williams, of the local faculty, who was for a long time engaged in Red Cross work has agreed to organize a Junior Red Cross among the school children here and Miss Mary Lucas Cantwell, of Duke, will undertake a similar project in Duke.

B. Jackson, one of Sampson's good farmers who resides near Cooper, was in town yesterday. Mr. Jackson said the people of his part of the county were much interested in the political fight in which one element of the Republican party is striving to prevent the election of any man who favors the moonshine liquor industry. His people, he said, are solidly behind this element and are doing all they can to prevent the reelection of W. Fleet Seasons, clerk of the court and chairman of the Republican executive committee of Sampson. Mr. Jackson is supporting the ticket nominated by that part of the Republican party which revolted against the regulars when they nominated Mr. Seasons and Sheriff Williams. The candidates for this faction are I. B. Hudson, for clerk of the court, and Lonnie H. Honeycutt for sheriff.

BUSINESS AND SOCIAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The first regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held in the club rooms on Friday Oct. 20. After the roll call and minutes, the new President, Mrs. Fred McKay greeted those present with a few well chosen words, in which she commended the untiring work of the retiring officers, giving to them unstinted praise for the strong organization which they shaped and formed. She also begged for the support and co-operation of the entire membership of the club, asking that they give of their time and influence to help make "the best town under the sun" the "most beautiful town under the sun."

DUKE NEWS

Duke, Oct. 23.—Revival services began Sunday at the Methodist church with Rev. J. R. Andrew preaching the initial sermon to a large congregation. Beginning Monday, Rev. Frank Calbreth of Laurinburg, will hold the services. It is expected that the services will last ten days if not longer.

Quite a number of people attended the State Fair from here last week and report one of the best Fairs in years. Alumni of N. C. State and Carolina, residing here, attended the frolics between the two institutions.

Miss Mamie Williams of the graded school faculty, has been right sick for the past few days, but is better now. She is a patient in the Good Hope Hospital.

Mrs. Mark Wade is getting along fine in the hospital here, after undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

W. H. Lawrence, contractor of the school building, spent the week end in Durham.

Joseph Eubanks of Durham spent the week end here, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. Woodworth.

Miss Ella Martin of the Fayetteville graded school spent the week end here, the guest of Mrs. E. L. Grady. Miss Martin was a teacher in the local school here for the past two seasons.

E. R. Thomas spent the week end in Durham with his children. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Thomas of Durham, the guests of Mrs. S. S. Host.

L. G. Godfrey of aggressive farmer, is spending the week end with his brother, C. Godfrey.

Misses Rena Perry and Hannah Holloman of the Seaboard school faculty, spent part of the week end here, the guests of Misses Stella and Velina Robertson. Both are former teachers of the local school.

J. H. Burke of Macon, Ga. is spending several days here with his mother, Mrs. A. F. Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Crawford of Angier spent the week end here, with their sons, Herbert and LeRoy.

The political pot is beginning to steam with the first campaign speech of the campaign being made here Saturday night by Hon. H. L. Godwin of Dunn. There seems to be a lack of interest shown in the county elections so far this year, but the past, present and future accomplishments of both parties are being told and retold by the loyal ones. As more orators are billed to speak here in the next few days, and as election day draws nearer, the voting populace will eventually warm up and then politics will be uppermost in everyone's mind.

Tie a tin can to trouble and see "A Bachelor's Honeymoon." The funniest show on earth.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1922, exports from this country totaled in value $3,770,000,000, as against the $6,516,000,000 value of exports in the previous fiscal year. During the same period imports totaled in value $2,868,000,000, as against the $3,654,000,000 value of imports in the previous fiscal year.

A musical show with a jingle. "A Bachelor's Honeymoon," the kind of show you like.
