Secretary of State Succumbs Te An Attack of Flu And Pneumonia

Raleigh, Jan. 11 .-- J. Bryan Grimes, secretary of state since January 1901. died at 8 :30 o'clock at his home on East Lane street, after an illness of two weeks with pneumonia and in-Buenza. The disease that left him a mark for complications had run its course Dunn and is being equipped with all without giving special alarm. But failure to show any improvement for days and particularly today left no doubt that his reserve hadd all gone He passed the crisis in both diseases without ability to rally.

The news of his death struck the city a staggering blow. He had never relinquished his Pitt county residence. but he held all his farming interests and his voting here. Since taking the oath of office he had held the distinction of being the strong man in the state's cabinet. It will be write Day-old chicks will be sold by the ten of him that an abler secretary of state has not served the state.

Col. Grimes was the son of Gen. Bryan Grimes of Confederate fame, and was born in Pitt county 54 years ago. He was graduated from the univorsity in the class of 1888 and among the trastees he was regarded one of the greatest lovers of the alma mater. The political revolution of the past sent him into office with the adoption of the constitutional amendment of 1900 and every candidate seeking to dislodge him had found in him a political foe with only a service record as his machine in politics. Six terms he was choosn secretary of state on that record alone. Universally he was rewarded invincible. Colonel Grimes was twice married, first in 1894 to Miss Mary Laughinghouse, and in 1904 to Miss Elizabeth Forrest Laughinghouse, daughters of Capt. Joe J. Laughinghouse, of Greenville. Four chidlren came of the two unions. He is survived also by a brotar, Mrs. W. Croom Rodman, of Water Street Street La
