

THE DUNN DISPATCH

Established April 1, 1914. PUBLISHED TWICE A WEEK. FRIDAYS A N D SUNDAYS. L. BUBBER POPE, Editor. North Carolina. Address all communications to the Editor. All departments of the Dispatch can be reached through telephone 12.

And this is fair week in Spruce Pine. With all the advertising that town has received during the past ten days, no doubt the fair will be "bigger and better."

It appears that Germany is beginning to realize that the allies won the World War and that she lost it. In other words, Germany is reaping what it sowed.

Governor Morrison might consider Governor Walton and take courage. His career has been a calm beside that of the Oklahoma executive.

A painter has been saddled with the ownership of two gallons of whiskey discovered in a Gaston's church. Why he forgot and left it there, is the question.

Citizens of Mitchell county are quoted as saying: "We don't want any negroes or Democrats in our county." Judging from what has happened recently, we fail to see why either should want to live there.

Press reports from Oklahoma would indicate that Governor Walton's chance of a home run is slim. With two strikes registered against him, he is not at all likely to get a hit in the third try. Yet he is a plucky player.

The Greensboro man who testified falsely against another man, who was found guilty and given a five-years sentence to the penitentiary, and later admitted it, deserves a nice sentence. And yet he should be given credit for not remaining silent while his victim served the five years.

Is Henry Ford to play the same game in the gasoline world that he has played in the automobile world? If he does, then we are sure he will find an easy road to the presidency. Reports have it that he is going into the gasoline business on a large scale, and that he will sell gasoline (to Ford drivers only) for 16 cents the gallon. That would indeed be looking out for his friends—those who drive Fords.

Time To Boost

Every Dunn citizen will admit that the outstanding need of this town is a modern hotel. The town has suffered for many years for the lack of a hotel in keeping with its material growth in other ways. The Dunn Chamber of Commerce has worked in season and out of season, if there by any out of season, in an effort to interest somebody in the erection of a modern hotel here. It now appears that the persistent effort on the part of this organization is soon to meet with the desired results. As the matter now stands the only thing that lies in the way of the erection of just the hotel that Dunn needs, and must have, would be the lack of moral co-operation upon the part of local citizens. Realizing the great and ever present need of a new hotel, we feel confident that the co-operation will be tendered, and gladly so.

Boosting will get the hotel, while knocking is calculated to defer its erection. So if you feel inclined to knock leave the knocking off. On the other hand, if you feel inclined to boost the proposition, get busy and make it known to the promoters that you are with them in the undertaking to give Dunn the thing that it needs most—a hotel.

After reading what we had to say in a recent issue about holding landlord members of the Co-operative Cotton and Tobacco Marketing Association responsible for the crops of non-member tenants, A. W. Daughtry, field representative of the Cotton association, informs us that this rule has not yet been adopted by that organization. We were under the impression that both the Tobacco and Cotton associations were attempting to hold the landlord members responsible for the part of the crop owned by the non-member tenant, and we tender our apology for the error. According to Mr. Daughtry, only the Tobacco association has adopted this rule, and we gladly make the correction. As we have stated often in the past, we believe that the salvation of the farmer lies in co-operative marketing of their produce. Yet we believe that this policy is going to react against co-operative marketing. In expressing our opinion about this matter we were not attempting to injure the co-operative marketing movement, but on the other hand it was merely expressing a fear that something was being done that would not be for the best interest of the organization. We think that the Cotton association has shown good judgment in refraining from the course in question. Anything that is calculated to make enemies of both members and non-members is sure to have a disastrous effect.

Twenty Tests Of A Good Farmer

- 1. Is our farm operated with the definite determination to make the land richer each year?
2. Is yours a rotating, diversified, "live at home" farm, giving proper attention not only to diversified farm crops but also to livestock, poultry, and dairy products?
3. Am you using modern plows, cultivators, etc., which require cheap horse labor rather than too much highly expensive human labor in making crops?
4. Do you as far as possible have something to turn under for soil improvement before each crop planted?
5. Do you practice deep breaking followed by shallow and level cultivation?
6. On your farm, are you making proper use of legumes—cowpeas, soy beans, velvet beans, clovers, vetch and alfalfa—both for enriching land and for cheap hay?
7. Is there a constant effort to have well-shaped fields, free both of gullies and of ragged, uneven, sprouty corners?
8. Do you cut and shock your corn instead of practicing the old labor-wasting, corn-yield reducing, folly of fodder-pulling?
9. Are you doing your part in the great movement that promises a new era for farmers through businesslike co-operation in buying and selling?
10. Have you joined the ranks of the progressive farmers whose houses are painted—both for reasons of beauty and as a preservative of expensive lumber?
11. Are you a reading farmer—not only reading newspapers but bulletins, books, and papers that deal especially with the great business of farming?
12. Is the farm house, as well as the farm itself, properly equipped with modern conveniences—a good range, fireless cooker, washing machine, running water, a modern lighting system, etc?
13. Does your farm use none but well selected seed for the main crops planted?
14. Do you go ahead and do all your farm work when it ought to be done regardless of any old superstitions about the moon or the signs of the zodiac?
15. Do you ask for the help of your county demonstration agent in trying to get your farming on the most profitable and businesslike basis?
16. Are you giving your children the best education it is practicable to give them?
17. Are you trying to make your community a better place to live in and to encourage your neighbors in the adoption of progressive methods and ideas?
18. Are you giving your home a proper and beautiful setting of grass, trees, and shrubbery, and have you provided good well-cared-for pastures for your cattle hogs, and horses?
19. Do you feel a real pride in the profession of farming, dignifying it by trying to make it a genuine art or science, honoring its leaders, and seeking to promote every movement that looks to its enrichment and improvement?
20. Do you have a sense of responsibility to God for the use you make of His soil, realizing that we are indeed "tenants of the Almighty," commissioned by Him "to dress and to keep" whatever part of His foot-stool is committed to us for a lifetime?—The Progressive Farmer.

ANOTHER RECORD OF DISTINCTION

Dunn High School Class Of 1923 Sends Twenty To College. The graduating class of 1923, Dunn high school, consisted of twenty-five members, and twenty of these have gone away to college. This seems to be the best record in the State, with the exception of Oxford, all of whose graduating class, it is said, went to college in September. Of the forty or more young men and women of Dunn away at college this fall, about one-half of the number comes from the high school class of '23. We have heard from a number of these boys and girls, and some of them are already taking high rank at the various colleges of the State.
