The "Reo Speed Wagon"

This is the Recommendation:

Over 700 Reo Speed Wagons are known that have made a mileage of from 50,000 to 400,000 miles and still going good.

If that is not evidence of their merits ask your mechanic about them. Then take a look at one yourself and use your judgment.

We also sell the latest and best in tractors, the Cletrac, the crawler type, designed by Rolin H. White, built to combat the sand problem of the peach men and farmers.

RAIL STRIKE WILL NOT PREVENT MOVING PEACHES

Railway officials state that the peach crop of the Sandhills will be moved regardless of the strike of the railway shop and repair men.

It may be necessary to move some of the passenger trains should the strike continue very long, but if conditions should reach such a point the passenger service will be more or less discontinued temporarily so that the perishables and food products may be moved without delay.

The North and South-bound locals from Hamlet to Raleigh, commonly known as the "Shoo-Fly" trains, have been discontinued; also the through evening express train. If necessary other passenger trains will be discontinued, but the peach crop will be moved unless unexpected developments follow.

CLOSING OUT SALE

Glendon

The farmers through this section are through threshing wheat and the corn and cotton crops are looking fine.

Mrs. W. J. Harrington, of Lakeview, visited Mrs. J. E. Shields one day last week.

Mrs. Richard Dowd is spending this week with her people in Charlotte.

P. E. Tillman left last week for Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Miss Annie Bell Shieleds, of High Falls, is visiting her uncle, J. E. Shields.

I have been asked to write the Glendon news each week and I have not very much to write. If the people in and around Glendon will write all the news they know and hand to me by Monday I am sure I would have more to write.—Lillian Phillips.

Pinehurst

The annual picnic of the Pinehurst Sunday School was held at Lakeview on Wednesday, July 12th. Several trucks, and a long train of cars, were required to transport the large number attending. Ring games, baseball, swimming, races, and other forms of recreation were enjoyed throughout the day, and the large variety of events planned enabled all to participate in something. All were on hand at the dinner hour and the festive boards, groaned under the weight of the good things to eat the ladies had prepared for the occasion. During the afternoon, the Pinehurst boys crossed bats with the Boy Scouts from Hamlet and took them into camp to the tune of 12 to 8. All report having had a jolly time and are looking forward to the next one with very keen anticipation.

Scout Master J. Bruce Cameron is in receipt of a letter from the president of the Boy Scout Council of Columbia, S. C., stating that on Monday, July 17th, a party of Boy Scouts left Columbia for a bicycle hike to Washington, D. C., where they will deliver a message from their governor to the President. A scout master will be in charge and the troupe expects to reach Pinehurst some time Thursday. Plans are being made for their entertainment while here, and the Pinehurst boys are very eager to meet their brothers from Columbia, three of whom the letter states are Eagles.

Eagle Springs

Eagle Springs is one of the busy places in this section these days. The peach crop is on the move. Jessie Page has already shipped several cars and has only made a good beginning.

Eagle Springs is full of Georgia packers and a fine lot of young men they are.

J. C. Monroe was hurt in an automobile accident one day last week, when his car collided with a telephone pole.

The engineers have just completed the survey for the hard surface road, and so far as we have been able to learn, to the entire satisfaction of all concerned. If all of Uncle Sam's and Uncle Frank's road forces are going forward with as much push and energy as these men, we may expect many good roads in the near future.

The Presbyterians organized a new church here last Monday night.

B. F. Butler has recently purchased the Lowdermilk peach orchard, one of the finest locations in this section. This added to his former very fine orchard will give him one of the most desirable peach propositions in the entire belt.

The Community Club continues to function, notwithstanding the very busy season. It has already, though quite recently organized, accomplished much good for the community especially the women's branch of the club.

Rev. Mr. Clarke, Dr. McLeod, of Carthage, Rev. and Mrs. Matheson, of Jackson Springs, and Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson, of Hemp, were in Eagle Springs Monday evening of last week to organize the new Presbyterian church.

HENSON RAISES APPLES IN MOORE

would be such as would make a place for itself where offered for sale.

The Henson farm is one of the examples of what apples might do in the clay section of Moore.

R. C. McLean also experimenting Down the road toward Eagle Springs from the Henson farm, R. C. McLean has set a small orchard of apple trees. He has a considerable orchard of young bearing peach trees which are doing business, but he wants to see what apples will do and he has planted enough for an experiment. The condition of his peach orchard and the results he is getting indicate that his experiment with apples will tell how well they will be fitted for his section. His orchard is on the sandy land, however, and is not a best guide as to the wisdom of apples in the clay lands.

Famous Rocking Stone.
Of the rocking stone, just west of the buffalo range in Bronx park, New York city, tradition says that sachems and medicine men of the various Indian tribes built their council fires about this colossal cube of pinkish granite.
