ANOTHER CHARTER MEMBER OF WHITE HILL CHURCH DIES

Funeral Services Held For Miss Sarah Jackson, Aged 78; Mrs. Jones' Christmas Message

OTHER WHITE HILL ITEMS

By MRS. G. P. JONES
WHITE HILL, Dec. 19.—Oh, the old-fashioned death! God bless all that see it.

As the sun was slowly sinking into western skies Wednesday afternoon, leaving the last rays flickering across our path, the death angel came and claimed a neighbor friend and kinswoman, Miss Sarah Bell Jackson. She was born Dec. 30, 1861, and had she lived just a few more days would have been 78 years old. She was the daughter of Robert Jackson and Mary Jane Currie Jackson. Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Ellie Willitt, of Tramway, the last one left of that family, also eight nieces and nephews.

Miss Sarah Bell attended Buffalo Presbyterian church during her childhood and first joined there. When White Hill church was organized, she moved her membership, being one of the six charter members of White Hill. She was also a charter member of the White Hill Woman's Auxiliary to which she gave her earnest support throughout her long life.

For twenty-four years she lived in the home of the late E. Cole in Sanford. Mr. Cole's first wife was Miss Sarah's sister and was an invalid for several years prior to her death. She nursed her with the tenderest care and cast her love and devotion around those in that home. After Mrs. Cole's death, she remained with Mr. Cole and the children. In late years she returned to the ancestral home near Center church to nurse and take care of two old sisters, Misses Flora Ann and Dicy Jackson. To these she saw to every want and need. Following their deaths she stayed on at the old home. She kept a companion with her, Miss Ruby Elliott spent a large part of the time with her.

A Useful Life

A long and useful life has been closed, a life that was and will remain an inspiration to her nieces and nephews and to all those that knew her. She loved her church, she loved her family neighbors and friends. Above all she loved and put her trust in the Great Maker and looked forward to the day when she would stand before Him and hear Him say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. At last her weary body is at rest and her soul has gone home to God. Down through the ages of time she never faltered nor complained. Still time will tell, our footsteps will weaken and our bodies will fail under the heavy burdens of life. This grand old lady loved her home, the same home where when they were children they sat around the big fireplace with their parents and enjoyed companionship that only comes to a family where they are the parents that strive to teach their children to fear God and keep His commandments. They gather them around the fireside and conduct a period of devotion. That was the kind of home-life Miss Sarah knew. She had kept the many things that once belonged to members of the family. On the mantelpiece was an old glass pitcher that her grandmother carried with her to Center church years ago to bring her water from a nearby spring. On the wall hung a handwoven picture, under which was the word "Mother". There were the old coverlets and bedspreads that they made in their younger days.

Last Christmas we sang Christmas carols outside her door. This Christmas as we go about trying to cheer up the aged and shut-ins we will try to imagine her with our loved ones gone on singing Christmas carols with the angels.

Funeral services were held from White Hill church Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The Rev. A. J. Groves, retired Methodist minister of Sanford, who had known the deceased forty years, conducted the funeral, assisted by Rev. C. M. Voyles of Cameron. Rev. M. D. McNeill, a life long friend of the family who had conducted the funerals for the other members of the family, was unable to be there.

As the casket was borne into the church the pianist played "How Firm a Foundation." Other favorite hymns of hers were sung during the services. Interment took place in the church cemetery besides those that she had so carefully cared for in their last days.

Merry Christmas

We are back again to the time of year to say Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. May I again extend this wish to the members of the Moore County News force, to the other correspondents and to the readers of my letter. I appreciate all the nice things that have been said about this letter and I hope Santa Claus will be good to each one of you.

May I plead with you when you read this to check your list and be sure there are no children or aged people that Santa might overlook. Sometimes there are those not so fortunate as others and a small remembrance will be deeply appreciated and make Christmas brighter for them.

Then, too, we can celebrate our Christmas in peace while war torn Europe struggles on through their battlefields. May our prayers be that soon it will ring through all the nations, "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Other News Items

The December club meeting and Christmas party was held with Mrs. J. H. Rice. The regular business was transacted, with 23 members present. Miss Flora McDonald reviewed part of the year's work and continued her lesson on making, wrapping and arranging Christmas gifts and decorating. A Christmas tree with the exchanging of presents made up the party. The hostess served Christmas fruits.

Dr. Mary M. McLeod of Trion, Ga., and Billy McLeod of State college have arrived to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. McLeod. It is Dr. McLeod's first Christmas at home in six years.

Mrs. Lanion Fields and small son,

Cooper, returned home Saturday from a visit in Canton with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Downing.

W. A. Branch of Putman was a past week-end guest of Andrew Hales.

Miss Ida Harrington spent part of last week with Mrs. Blanch Harrington at her home near Carthage.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Jackson and Mrs. W. H. Jackson spent Saturday in Fayetteville, the latter remaining over a few days with relatives.

Howard Terrell and Max Roberts went deer hunting down in Hoke county the other day. They both shot at the same deer. Mr. Terrell brought the deer back and Mac was minus a part of his shirt tail. Mac tells me it is worth one's time to go down there and see the pieces of shirts with each donor's name attached. He declares if all the pieces were sewed together there would be over five hundred yards.

To Our Friends

AS THE HAPPY YULETIDE BECKONS AND A NEW YEAR DAWNS . . .

This is not a time—as a certain walrus once remarked—"to talk of many things—of shoes and ships and sealing wax — and cabbages and kings" — We have written to you many times during the year just closing about and are happy to have had the pleasure of serving so many of you in this field. But at this time, we want to use this space to wish you and yours a

and a

HAPPY NEW YEAR

and to thank you for the business with which you favored us during 1939
