Hark! The Herald Angels Sing

Hark! the herald angels sing, "Glory to the new-born King! Peace on earth and mercy mild, God and sinners reconciled." Joyful all ye nations rise, Join the triumph of the skies; With th' angelic host proclaim, "Christ is born in Bethlehem." Hark! the herald angels sing, "Glory to the new-born King." —Charles Wesley.

School Notes

The Carthage graded school closed Wednesday at noon and will re-open on January 2, unless the weather should become too severe. This has been a very busy week, what with the basketball games and the play Tuesday night, and tests on the last two days also. But with it all, the students had time to meet in chapel and get into the Christmas spirit properly by singing Christmas carols.

On Tuesday evening at the Parent-Teacher association meeting the dramatic club of the Carthage high school presented a very beautiful Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," under the able direction of Miss Catherine Shankle and Miss Mary Ruth Bruton. Stage scenery was made by members of the dramatic club. It was an artistic and well executed piece of work and showed that the dramatic department is steadily doing some very worthwhile work.

On Wednesday morning at the closing exercises for the holiday season, Miss Julia Thompson's room presented an attractive Christmas play, and the student body made their presentation of gifts for the poor under the large decorated Christmas tree in the auditorium. It is the custom to hold this White Christmas service each year in the Carthage high school, and, as usual, the response from the student body was very generous. Mrs. Brown selected the needy cases to whom the gifts were distributed with the aid of the girl scouts.

The basketball season is upon us once more. Carthage boys and girls have each won two games and lost one. Coach Walter Peebles certainly puts 'em through their paces during practices, and no foolishness is tolerated. He really is a most efficient coach and Carthage ought to win some games this season. If we don't it will be the fault of the coaching but a lack of material. Mr. Clayton certainly does work hard at his job and he knows his stuff, too.

Junior Woman's Club

The Carthage Junior Woman's club held its regular meeting on Tuesday, December 12, at the home of Miss Rozelle Williamson, with the president, Mrs. Jim Muse, presiding.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Charles Pearce, president of the state federation of junior clubs, who discussed the history of junior clubs in North Carolina and the United States and called attention to the very fine work they are doing.

During the business meeting it was learned that Mrs. Talbot Johnson of Aberdeen has accepted the invitation of the Carthage club to act as its sponsor, an application has been made for membership under the state federation.

The entertainment committee served cake and coffee.

Drummed Killed And Bus Burned

A new bus of the Queen City lines, and a Tennessee car were completely destroyed by fire in a wreck that occurred about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night on the River hill five miles west of Rockingham on Highway 74.

The driver of the car, C. D. Moss, Jr., was instantly killed. None of the 11 passengers on the bus were hurt.

Mr. Moss, about 35, lived at Memphis and traveled for the Chattanooga Medicine company, with his headquarters at Fayetteville. He was said to be on his way to Charlotte alone.

The point where the wreck occurred was on a hill 100 yards from a curve. Tracks indicated that the car had failed to straighten out after rounding the curve and had gotten out of control.

The passenger bus was coming up the hill in intermediate gear at about 25 miles an hour; the driver said he observed the out-of-control car approaching and brought his bus almost to a stop before the side of the car jammed into the front of his bus and teetered almost to the road.

The car burst into flames immediately. The bus driver and a passenger hurried to the car and pulled Mr. Moss out, dead, his neck broken and chest crushed. The bus was not overturned; the passengers got out and later continued on their way in a second bus that was a few feet behind the wrecked one.

There was no time to move the bus, and it caught fire from the car and both were utterly consumed. The bus was a large one and had just been put in commission a few weeks ago. The highway traffic was blocked for over an hour. The body of Mr. Moss was sent last night to his home at Memphis, where his wife lives.

Russian Soldiers Wear Shoddy Clothes

The simple-minded people all over the world who have been proclaiming what Russia has done for its people, may now see how little has been done for the common soldier being sent into battle. A Finnish dispatch says that Russian soldiers taken prisoners have frozen feet.

Their shoes, thin and of poor quality, accounted for the frozen feet. Only one wore the traditional Russian felt knee-high boots. One had wrapp his shoes with gunny-sacking. Their uniforms were of a cotton, quilted material entirely unsuited for this kind of climate. Their overcoats were thick but were rough and of poor quality. They wore cotton underwear.

When asked whether their clothing was warm enough, one replied, "Well, that depends on the weather. When it freezes, we freeze."

In reply to questions he said: "I was working in a factory in Leningrad when I was called into the army. I do not know what the war is about. None of us are members of the Communist party."

"I was getting 145 rubles a month salary. They told me I would get half that much in the army but I got only ten. For food we got porridge or barley once a day and about three and three-quarter pounds of bread for each five men. We were supposed to get about one and a quarter ounces of meat a day but we never got it. are given by number. Make your list tobacco to last us three months."

USEFUL CITIZEN LOST IN PASSING OF DAN H. LOVE

Culdee Man Was of An Understanding and Unselfish Nature; Had Many Friends

OLD RESIDENT SUCCUMBS

Dan H. Love, age 68 years, died at his home on Carthage R-3 Sunday night, Dec. 10th, after several months of failing health.

A life long resident of Moore county, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Love. He was for nearly half a century a member of Culdee Presbyterian church, having been converted in the year 1892, at which time 92 new members were added to the church under the potent preaching of the Rev. Mr. Eldridge.

Dan Love's was an understanding and unselfish nature. His wise counsel and dependable advice was often sought by those who knew him best. His optimism and sense of humor were contagious and many an over-anxious brow was made smoother because of this. Dan Love was in many ways the most useful man in his community. No task was too hard and no weather too bad for him to leave his residence if by so doing he might serve his fellowman.

Not only does the entire community sympathize with the bereft family, but the loss of a kind friend and good neighbor is sincerely mourned. To review the life of this man is to be reminded of the familiar words, "Let him that would be greatest among you be servant unto the others."

The body was laid to rest Tuesday morning, Dec. 12th, at 11 o'clock in Culdee cemetery in the presence of a host of sorrowing ones.

Surviving Mr. Love are his wife, the former Miss Naomi Williamson, a daughter, Miss Hary Lee Love, and a son, Walter, and seven grandchildren.

DEATH MRS. SMITH

Flora Margaret Smith died Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, December 13, at the home of her oldest daughter, Mrs. George Ussery. She had been a resident of Moore county for about 49 years.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Friday evening at Beulah Hill church by Rev. Ernest Hancock of Star, pastor of the church, and Rev. Leslie Thompson of Troy, pastor of Presbyterian churches in Montgomery county.

The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. The flower girls were Mrs. L. L. Spivey, Mrs. Ernest Ledbetter, Mrs. John Graham, Mrs. Dorothy Graham, Mrs. Clarence Hobson and Miss Lois Sadler.

The pallbearers were L. L. Spivey, Jim Mashburn, Eugene McKenzie, Ernest Ledbetter, Alex Cannady and Aaron Soloman.

Surviving are five children: Mrs. George Ussery, West End R-1, Mr. J. L. Sadler, Troy, Mrs. Paul McKenzie, Pinehurst, Mr. Douglas Sadler, West End R-1, and Mrs. Radway Matz, Jr., Chicago; and ten grandchildren: Mrs. Howard Hannah, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. John Stewart, Charlie Ussery, Lois Sadler, Ester Ussery, Doris Sadler, Alene Sadler, Sonny Boy Matz, and Helen Matz.

Tempo of War Steps Up Some Faster

People who have been wanting a little more pep in the war are now getting it somewhat. A real sea battle took place when the German Graf Spee was disabled by British cruisers and was afterwards sunk by her own captain. Great Britain claims that she has put much of Germany's sea force out of action, though German mines and aircraft are still sinking merchantmen.

And yesterday the greatest air battle since the world war took place over Germany's naval base, Helgoland, when a large number of British and German planes clashed. The Germans as usual claimed everything. Somewhere from thirty to fifty planes on each side must have been engaged. The British admit loss of seven, while Germans said they shot down 34 planes, which was not true.

Meanwhile the Russians are still bombing and slashing at little Finland, while as a result of the action of the League of Nations in expelling Russia, Finland will get material if not military aid from France, England and other countries.

While the western front is standing still, air and sea battles rage with more and more fury. The English are satisfied that not only have the seas secure but that they will soon have air superiority.

WHAT A DRIVER HAS IN HIS HAND

Some of You Will Send the Pall of Death Into Happy Homes Christmas

Since Christmas is so much the time for giving, it might be well to think of giving something of inestimable value. We cannot create life, but curiously enough modern automobile traffic has put every driver in the position of either taking lives or saving lives. Saving lives is always a desirable end. At Christmas time, the saving of life takes on an added beauty, drawn from the beauty of the season.

Think what it means to a family to lose a member at Christmas. When the cause is age, or a lingering illness, there is at least some degree of preparation. True, the grief may be no less, but it is softened by expectation.

How much more tragic is sudden and violent death! The family group is in the midst of holiday preparations. Relatives and friends are coming. There will be another of those happy reunions. Suddenly the word comes. The door bell or the phone rings. An excited voice announces the news. Some family member has been killed or injured.

Christmas, the time of good cheer, of happiness, of gifts and laughter. All is wiped out. There will be but little cheer, little happiness, no laughter. Death is an unwelcome visitor at Christmas. A broken, crushed body makes a poor addition to the holiday spirit. The little son or daughter awaiting that strange ecstasy of Christmas morning. Older sons and daughters full of cheerful plans. Father and mother with hearts full of happiness at having the children home again.

Give lives for Christmas! For unless you do, Mr. Driver, unless you are careful, Mr. Pedestrian, during this month over 90 families will have tragedy as a guest for Christmas. Ninety people will not see Christmas. It is depressing to think of the criminal carelessness of it all. One ounce of care and caution, one ounce of Christmas cheer expressed as courtesy on street and highway, one ounce of good-humored patience will save lives not only at Christmas time, but every day.

Give lives for Christmas. No other gift will do so much for every one. Make this a Merry Christmas.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Sadler and children wish to thank each and every one for the kindness and sympathy rendered during the illness and death of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Flora Margaret Smith.
