THE CHANGING VIEW POINT.

(Continued from first page.) done as a result of accident or disease. On the other hand, only a few days ago, I saw a notice in the Waynesville Mountaineer than an Orthopaedic Clinic was to be held in Waynesville for the crippled children of the county. Now orthopaedics is that surgical science that seeks to set straight crooked arms and legs and backs, and feet and hands—it is corrective surgery, surgery for making cripples sound and straight. I never see a crippled child but that I am hurt inwardly, for such a child has lost its birthright and orthopaedics seeks to bring it back.

Today we have in our own town two doctors, both Haywood men, who are serving our people, their people, along these very lines. Dr. J. R. McCracken in his eye, ear, nose and throat work, especially with children, is doing our people, especially our school children, a genuine and a great service. As I now look back over my long years of teaching, I recall many children who did poorly because, as I thought, they had no brains. I now know that some of them had defective ears that could not hear and eyes that could not see, and others had tonsils so inflamed that their whole bodies were poisoned by the toxins set free, and others had tonsils and adenoids so enlarged that they could not get enough oxygen into their lungs to feed their starved bodies and brains. These are the things that have made hundreds of dunces, and these are the things that Dr. McCracken is seeking to correct.

When I was a boy, if a man had to be taken to a hospital, he made his will, told his friends good bye, and urged his children to meet him in the better world—for the hospital was the court of last resort, to be gone to only when a man felt that he had one foot in the grave and the other fast following after. Nowadays in Haywood county we are getting the idea that a hospital is not a place to die in, but a place to get well in, and the man who in Haywood county is from the surgical end installing this idea into our folks is our own Dr. J. F. Abel. Dr. Abel volunteered at our entering the World War with the purpose of serving his country while in the war and in case he came through it safely of serving his home people better when it was over. And so he has done.

As a scientific man, know something of medical and surgical matters from the scientific standpoint, and I appreciate the difficulties Dr. Abel has had to meet in his surgical practice, but his success therein has been little short of marvellous, and his service to our people equally great. I have known some surgeons whose operations were always described as highly successful, but whose patients had the habit of dying thereafter. Dr. Abel's have the habit, in extraordinary number, of getting well and going back to their communities and hammering into other folks that hospitals and surgical operations are to help folks get well in contradiction to the old idea so long held that they spell death.

These men, whose names I have writ herein—and is hardly necessary to say that they know nothing of my writing this article, and will doubtless be the most surprised men in Waynesville when they read it—those men have in my judgment in their medical and surgical practice done a large and a genuine public service. They have charged fees of course, for they have to feed and clothe and house their families, but that in no wise detracts from the fact that they have served our people of Haywood well.

I have long felt that public recognition of the services of these men to our folks ought to be made, and for a year and a half (as some of my friends at home know) I have felt that I ought to do my share therein being a scientific man myself. We are too prone to take these things as matters of fact, to say "Well I paid him for it." That is all right, but there is more to it than the mere payment of bills. If these men were to die we would all send flowers and say, "What fine men they were," but I believe in sending the flowers now while they can enjoy them, and so the writing of this article has been a genuine pleasure to

MR. MARTIN RETURNS.

Mr. Fred E. Martin has just returned from Dayton, Ohio where he has been attending the Tenth Anniversary Delco-Light and Frigidaire sales convention which was held in that city April 8 and 9 and in which 1,500 members of the field organization of the Delco-Light Company took part.

Those who attended the convention he said, won free trips to Dayton, all expenses paid and other substantial rewards. As a reward for securing a required volume of business for the company, and this honor came to Mr. Martin as a reward for his exceptional sales effort in his territory.

An important feature of the convention was the announcement by the company of a new model, completely automatic Delco-Light plant. This plant does not have the usual storage battery. It starts automatically, whenever a light is turned on or any electric switch is closed, and stops when the light is turned off or the other electric service is ended.

This plant will provide thirty 25-watt lights or their equivalent and is especially adapted to the automatic electric service required for the operation of electric pressure water systems and of Frigidaire, the electric refrigerator.

Tentative plans for the still greater expansion of the Delco-Light Company at Dayton, were intimated by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors Corporation, who was a guest of the convention and who declared that the resources of General Motors were back of any plans of the Delco-Light Company, its subsidiary to make and to sell, in still greater numbers Delco-Light products of the highest possible quality and at the lowest possible price.

The Delco-Light Company now has in Dayton, the largest factory of its kind in the world, covering 32 acres of floor space and their plans for expansion are based on indications that in 1926 there will be bought at least twice the number of their products than were bought in 1925.

A MESSAGE FROM GALILEE AT WAYNESWOOD LAST WEEK.

Did you see the reel last week entitled: A Message From Galilee?

It was a vivid picture of the great saving work of the Near East Relief. There were pictures of thousands of happy healthy children rescued and cared for by the kind hearted friends of America.

There's was a message of thanksgiving for what America had done for them, and the plea that we might stand by them a little longer until they should be old enough and strong enough to go forth and care for themselves.

And there were the pictures of many helpless, hungry ones, sick and hungry, in the refuge camps, pleading and hoping that rich favored America would take them to her heart and give them a chance to live and grow strong and happy like the other children she is caring for.

Many of you had a part last year in this good work. Will you not come to their help again? And those of you who did not have a part in this work—saving little children who look to us for life, will you not join us?

Let us not cause their simple childish faith in us to be disappointed nor lose the blessing of Him who said: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these ye did it unto me."

Breathes there a man with soul so dead

So unmoved by human need, A child's plaintive cry for bread Will fall on ears so dulled by greed And heart so cold as not to heed The hungry children's plea? If such there be, he doth belie The noble Christian's creed: "As ye failed to do for these Ye failed to do for Me."
