UNIVERSITY GLEE CLUB TO BE HERE.

On next Monday evening at 8:00 in the auditorium of Central High school the famous University of North Carolina Glee Club will render its first concert in this city.

The engagement of this company of college singers under the able direction of Paul John Weaver will mark the coming to this city of one of the best musical organizations of the country. Last year the men sang before seven thousand and five hundred people at the National Convention of Music Supervisors. This year, the organization largely repeated the schedule of last year, in that it secured the services of several noted musicians as guest artists. This engagement of a professional artist, an innovation in college music circles, will be a feature of the program to be given here. During the fall the club toured Virginia and Eastern North Carolina, giving the people of the state an opportunity to hear several concerts before the Western or Northern tours were begun. The Northern trip included a visit to New York, where the Tar Heel singers attracted much attention at the inter-collegiate music contest held in March. Later, the men, in response to urgent requests, made Brunswick records in New York City, where they gave a highly successful professional concert and broadcasted over radio.

The choral organization now ranks with the St. Olaf and Westminster Chorus. No pains have been spared by the University music department in the training of the singers. From a body of one hundred and twenty-five candidates, Mr. Weaver has reduced his actual personnel to thirty or forty members.

Every musical organization maintain the high standard which characterize the work of this glee club. This renowned company renders only the choicest numbers at each concert. On the program, featured by the talented violinist, T. Smith McCorkle, will be several beautiful, classical songs interspersed with exquisite Southern melodies and folk-songs. Especially delightful have been the renditions of "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," a very popular 17th century German melody.

Bach's "Grant Us to Do With Zeal"
"Lo How a Rose E'er Blooming"
by Praetorius.
"Go Down Moses," an American Negro Spiritual.

From this sample of the club's program, it is readily seen that the visit of the Tar Heel songsters to this city will bring probably the foremost musical attraction of the season. Tickets have been selling rapidly. All indications are that the auditorium will be filled with an audience of music lovers who will take this opportunity to hear an organization which has been universally praised and sought for coast to coast engagements.

ITEMS ENTERING INTO THE COST OF PRODUCING AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

- Fixed Charges
1. Interest on Investment.
  2. Depreciation.
  3. Seeds.
  4. Fertilizer.
  5. Taxes.
  6. Insurance.
  7. Marketing.
  8. Labor

Summary of items entering into the cost of producing one acre of corn, compiled from accurate records kept by 94 farmers. Man labor was charged at 30c per hour, horse labor at 20c per hour, and tractor in operation at $1.15 per hour.

1. Man labor $13.60
2. Horse labor 11.24
3. Tractor labor .41
4. Contract labor 1.81
5. Rent of land 7.41
6. Taxes and Insurance 1.98

It is readily seen from this list of cost items that the first seven are practically fixed. Very little can be done to change them. In many states "interest" is fixed by law. "Depreciation" can be lessened somewhat by proper care of farm machinery, buildings, maintaining fertility of land, etc.

Better seeds are recommended by agricultural authorities and progressive farmers everywhere. Such recommendations are based upon increased yields incident to the use of good seed.

Fertilizer has been found to be profitable in many sections. Probably "home fixing" can be made to pay when intelligently done.

Taxes are a fixed charge which cannot be changed except by law. It is fixed.

No one would be justified in reducing on his insurance or being without the protection which it affords, for the most of the farm fires occur when the barns are full, and too often when one building goes it takes the entire farmstead.

One always lives so many miles from market that distance has to be traversed. No doubt "good roads" and a motor truck will reduce the cost of transportation. Labor and power enter largely into the cost of transportation.

Fortunately It is fortunate that great savings are possible in the two items, power and labor, which makes up about half of the cost of production. These costs are eating deep into the profits of agriculture, ranging from 30 to over 60%. And before agriculture can be profitable, these two costs must be lessened.

AThe Proof

The United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., publishes the statement periodically that power and labor are costing the farmer too much.
