JONATHAN LACONICS.

Rev. H. M. Keener preached a fine Independence Day sermon to a goodly number last Sunday.

The painting of the church has been suspended temporarily. The work was not being done satisfactorily, it is rumored.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Howell and children were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Reeve at Junaluska Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Nelson, Virginia Nelson, E. T. Boyd, Jr. and John Boyd went fishing last Friday.
They were very successful. Caught enough fish for dinner and brought home thirty.

Prof. T. L. Revelle, who was formerly principal of the Rock Hill school for a number of years, spent last week at the home of C. M. Moody.

Miss Esther Boyd and Miss Willa Boyd came home from Cullowhee for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Moody and children went to Canton Sunday.

I see in last week's Courier where Jonathan has the privilege to enter the slalia show. Come on Aunt Sallie. We choose you to represent Jonathan. Your garden (flowers) is an institution on Jonathan. You've raised flowers for years for love, now try for fame.

The Missionary Society meets next Wednesday with Mrs. Roe Howell.
Let all members answer the roll call.

Mr. Earle Ferguson has set up a saw mill in the hollow above Mr. R.
T. Boyd's barn.

Miss Esther Boyd spent last weekend at home. She had as her guest Miss Anna Brown of Cullowhee.

Mr. Hugh Leatherwood took his mother and father and sister, Mary Lou, to Clyde Sunday.

Those who went to Dellwood to enjoy Children's Day were as follows: Miss Marie Ferguson, Beulah Ferguson, Folsom Leatherwood, Esther and Elizabeth Boyd, Mr. and Mrs.
Medford Leatherwood, Edgar and Julie Boyd, Miss Wilma Allison, Mr.
Fred Allison, Mr. Hugh Leatherwood, Mr. Tom Garrett and Mr. C. M.
Moody.

Miss Beulah Ferguson, Miss Marie Ferguson, Miss Folsom Leatherwood and Edgar and Brown Ferguson visited Miss Mattie Moody Saturday night.

Miss Pearl Moody and Mr. Fred Ferguson visited their uncle, Mr.
Jim Teague, last week-end.

Mrs. J. Williams recently visited her son Bill Williams and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Boyd spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Boyd.

Miss Edna Boyd spent Saturday night in Hazelwood with her sister, Miss Fannie. Miss Fannie spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moody and children spent Sunday in Canton with Mrs. Moody's parents, Capt. and Mrs.
Fred Roberts.

Miss Esther Moody left Wednesday for New York City where she will enter Columbia.

Mr. R. T. Boyd and Mr. F. B.
Moody went to Big Creek Wednesday.

Mr. Lee Stooksbury and Mr. Lewis Stooksbury of Knoxville, visited Mr.
F. B. Moody Thursday. Mr. Lewis Stooksbury is Mrs. Moody's uncle.

Miss Roberta Moody, who has been at Canton with her grandparents, is at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Ferguson and family of Dellwood were Jonathan visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Roberts visited Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Moody Tuesday.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

ment at a meeting of interested officials in the Governor's office early in the week an agreement to dispose of the experiment station poultry farm was reached without difficulty.

The State Department of Public Instruction gave out figures recently showing that in 1918-19 $694,237.31 were expended on the public school system of the State, while during a similar period, 1924-25, the sum of $12,470,059.28 was "invested" in like manner. According to the department, the year 1919-20 marks the real beginning of the "school building era" in this State. Apparently, state development of this character has barely started. The State is talking millions instead of thousands and hundred of thousands.

1925 license plates are now obsolete and the maximum fine for using one is $50. Last Saturday was the last day on which they could be legally used. Motorists have had fair warning and Commissioner Doughton cannot reasonably be held blamable for other people's neglect. Not only the central office in Raleigh, but more than two score subsidiary branches over the State have been at the service of those desiring new license tags, the prices of which range from $12.50 to $40.

Andrew Joyner, statistician of the State Insurance Department, tells the world that North Carolina celebrated the Fourth of July this year without a casualty which could be directly traceable to the celebration. Fireworks were "taboo" and automobiles "held high carnival." Mr. Joyner likes the change and has plenty of company.

"The North Carolina Chess Society" was formed here during the week with Dr. Evan Battle, Rocky Mount, president; Dr. A. B. McCreary, Rockingham, vice-president; W. A. Radspinner, Raleigh, secretary-treasurer.
The meeting was held at the Sir Walter Hotel, with around fifty enthusiastic performers present and participating, both in the organization and in the tournament which followed, with Mr. Radspinner the victor.

State officialdom was favored during the week by a visit from Gutsom Borglum, noted sculptor, who stopped over on his way north from San Antonio, Texas. During his brief sojourn in Raleigh Mr. Borglum talked to the Governor and State Treasurer about a re-arrangement of the Ay-cock and McIver monuments on Capitol Square. Touching the George Washington statue the sculptor stated that few monuments in America are so well arranged. He has little to say at Stone Mountain, Georgia.

The Division of Markets, State Department of Agriculture, finds that North Carolina produces sixteen million pounds of butter less than it consumes and twenty-seven million gallons of milk less than it drinks.
The per capita consumption of milk per year is 45 gallons; butter seventeen pounds each; ice cream, 4.4 quarts each, which indicates that a lot of folks do not get even a taste of frozen cream, except in the winter time. The State produces 25,000,000 pounds of country butter and two million pounds of creamery butter.
It needs 10,000,000 pounds more to meet the demands of local consumers.
The department is endeavoring to assist the farmers in an increased production of milk, butter and sweet cream and thus enable them to keep their money at home.

By train, bus and automobile, young men and young women by the hundreds arrived at State College early in the week to attend the short course in home economics and farm demonstration work. As fine a company of youngsters as ever go together anywhere and they were not idle a moment of the time. They knew what they had been doing at home and were not ashamed to tell about it here. They had an enjoyable time of it, but never at any time appeared to lose sight of the fact that they came to Raleigh for business as well as pleasure.

Owners of Dodge cars are protesting the raise in license tags from $12.50 to $20.00 because the 63 horsepower above 24 is such a trifling matter. Officials of the Carolina Motor Club have been taking a hand in the discussion and the State Highway Commission has had to decline a recommendation requested by those interested. The Department of Revenue will be guided in its decision by the Attorney General. The North Carolina Automotive Association contends that it is going too far to ask extra payment of $7.50 for the extra fraction of horse power.

Twelve hundred North Carolina concerns were granted charters last year by the Secretary of State; the Osteopathic State Board of Examiners were in session from Thursday until Saturday examining applicants for license to practice; peace shipments to date are 250 cars less than 1925.

LARGE FINANCIAL CONNECTION
MADE BY E. L. WITHERS & COMPANY.

Mr. E. L. Withers of this city has just completed arrangements with the Carolina Mortgage Company of Raleigh, North Carolina to represent them in Waynesville and Hazelwood.
The Carolina Mortgage Company is a very large institution composed of the leading business men of the State including many prominent bankers, professional men and retired capitalists. This company makes loans on improved real estate over a period of years on a very attractive plan and has already loaned millions of dollars in this state and this state alone.

Special representative from the home office has been here all this week and is very much impressed with the improvements made in the last few years and is very optimistic as to the future of Waynesville. We are very glad that Mr. Withers has made this connection and feel sure that the Carolina Mortgage will be well represented here.
