

Why prosperity?

IT is a fact of history that the famous nations of the past have made their greatest contributions to civilization only after the attainment of prosperity or economic health.

For what are the benefits of national prosperity but the betterment of public health, the improvement of all forms of education, and the growth of those cultural influences which make life richer for all?

The prosperity of the South is today an accomplished fact, and, in the light of history, its promise for the future of the South is great.

The prosperity of southern communities is definitely bound up with the prosperity of the southern railroads. The Southern Railway System regards its present good credit and earning power as an opportunity to assist in the preservation of the general welfare of the South in the years that lie ahead.

Only a prosperous railroad can render the transportation service needed by the people of a prosperous country.

THE HAT OF THE HOUR is the large felt. To such an extent is it the vogue that many women buy several of them in different colors to wear with different costumes. This is no extravagance at the low prices which prevail here. We have them in black and smart colors, trimmed with grosgrain ribbon bands and velvet bows.
