The Flower Show A Huge Success

Successful from every standpoint was the Flower Show held last Wednesday afternoon in the Parish House which was aglow with the brilliant exhibits. Everything that ever grew in your grand mother's garden was there, along with the last word in dahlias, the stately gladioli and a wealth of bloom and color that heralded the progress of the floral world. Upon entering the building one instinctively felt a sympathy for the judges, for everyone of the 420 vases of flowers possessed the conquering air of a prize winner. The entries were exactly double the number of those of the first show held three years ago. Such zinnias and marigolds. One unconsciously wanted to touch them to see if they were real. And Mr. Ivey's dahlias were the piece de resistance of the show! Keenest interest had centered around the silver basket which had been offered for the largest and most artistically arranged collection. The following competed: Mrs. J. W. Crawford of Allen's Creek, Mrs. W. H. Francis, Mrs. Rufus Siler, Mrs. R. Q. McCracken, Mrs. J. M. Long, Mrs. E. T. Duckett, Mrs. J. W. Reed, Mrs. E. L. Withers, and Miss Bowles of Lake Junaluska. While Mrs. Withers with a collection of sixty varieties carried off the trophy, Mrs. Duckett came out with the second prize and Mrs. Reed, Miss Bowles of Lake Junaluska and Mrs. Crawford received honorable mention. Each collection had some distinctive charm of its own.

Mrs. J. B. Noland, owner of a flower shop in Clarksdale, Miss. and Mr. Henry Hood, a veteran gardener of Asheville, were the competent judges. Not only the members of the Community Club, but the flower growers of Haywood county are indebted to Miss Altstaetter and her committee who by their unbounded enthusiasm and fine leadership have inspired the people of our community to a finer appreciation of the beautiful flowers that can be grown in this section. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the Hotel Gordon Orchestra and punch was served by Miss Sara Thomas and Miss Ova Patterson.

The following is a complete list of prize and the winners:

1. The finest display of flowers. Point—(4) quantity, (b) quality, (c) number of varieties, (d) arrangement, silver basket.

Praises Haywood for Voting Bonds

Writing to a friend in Haywood, Dr. Jno. A. Ferrell, director for the United State of the International Health Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, New York City, says in a recent letter: "I am delighted to hear that Haywood county voted $100,000.00 bonds for a county hospital, in which you are deeply interested. When we recall how difficult it was in the period of 1910-15 to secure a county appropriation of $200 to $300 for a campaign for hook-worm treatment and general sanitation, we realize that a tremendous constructive change, economically and educationally, has come over the state of North Carolina for it to be possible for Haywood county to vote bonds on itself to the extent of $100,000.00 for an institution where adequate care for the sick can be supplied. I congratulate the good people of your progressive county."

ATTEND DENTIST CLINIC.

Dr. S. P. Gay, Waynesville's recent addition to its corps of capable dentists, and Drs. J. H. Smathers and N. M. Medford were in Asheville this week in attendance upon the Asheville-North Carolina Mid-Summer Dental Clinic in session at Kennelworth Inn. The clinic was held under the auspices of the First District Dental Association, and was well attended, a number of prominent dentists, including the president of the American Dental Association, being present at the sessions.

ORGAN RECITAL.

Mr. Harry Edward Mueller of Asheville, organist at Trinity Episcopal church, will give an organ recital in the Presbyterian church on Monday evening, Aug. 23rd, at 8:30. The public is most cordially invited. No admission charge, but an offering will be taken.

MRS. PERRY HONORED.

Mrs. Cleveland Kirkpatrick honored her sister, Mrs. D. Drayton Perry, of Chester, S. C. with one of the largest and most attractive bridge parties of the summer season at her home on Walnut street last week. Profusions of potted plants and cut summer flowers in baskets and wall vases served as the decorations for the party.

The honoree was presented with one half of a dozen of lovely Maderia tea napkins. The high score prize was presented to Mrs. Ernest L. Withers which was a set of brass candle sticks. Mrs. J. F. Abel cut the consolation prize which was an attractive set of bridge score pads.

At the conclusion of the games a delightful ice course was served.

Those playing cards were: Misses Sara Hill Hannah, Robina Miller, Sara Avery Thomas, Nancy Killian, M. Mead of Miami, Fla., Mesdames D. Drayton Perry, Hilliard B. Atkins, Faucette Swift, J. L. Stringfield, W. T. Hannah, George H. Ward, John N. Shoelbroad, Robert Wood of Baltimore, Md., Clarence Miller, Jr., Roy Francis, John Way Kirkpatrick, M. H. Reeves, E. L. Withers, W. B. Haviland of Atlanta, Ga., D. A. Baker, Charles Thomas, Lenoir Gwyn, J. F. Abel, Robert Osborne of West Palm Beach, Fla., Odin Buell of Buellton, Calif., Harry Rotha, Chas. Knight, San Francisco, Calif., Joe Graves, W. C. Garrison, Harry Hall, Guy Massie, J. W. Reed, Moore of Miami, Fla., J. W. Seaver, Mrs. Joe Bennett of Panama City, Fla. Tea guest were Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. David Willis and guest, Mrs. Theo. Shair of Georgia.

Activities Around Lake Junaluska.

A PLAY TO BE AT LAKE JUNALUSKA.

Lake Junaluska, Aug. 18.—"The Toy Shop," which will be shown here Friday night and Saturday night, is the absorbing topic of conversation here as rehearsals, now in full swing, bring together a cast which includes representative people from twelve states.

For her cast, Mrs. Hortense Reynolds, director of this tuneful Gayer operetta has gotten together more than 100 children and grown ups, some of the latter including prominent men and women in the professional ranks of the South.

The operetta itself is an intriguing story of a toy shop at midnight when the toys, after their immemorial custom come to life. Miss Ella Ivey of Charlotte will give the prologue; Miss Mary Harlee of Florence, South Carolina as accompanist has an important and difficult part.

Charles Talbot, leader of the choir of the First Presbyterian church, St. Petersburg, Fla., as the "Toymaker" has one of the leading roles. Mr. Talbot has appeared in other operas given by Mrs. Reynolds.

Miss Mildred Crawford of Waynesville, one of the "hours," second alto in the quartet given by one, two, three and four o'clock, has a pleasing part which shows to advantage the low, rich notes of her voice. Following the presentation of "The Toy Shop," Miss Crawford will leave for San Juan, Porto Rico, where she has accepted a teaching position.

Among others who will have leading parts are Miss Lula Belle Paris, Salisbury, N. C.; Miss Miriam Ezell, Jackson, Miss.; and Miss Annie Morris Ezell, Jackson, Miss. "Hours": Miss Anna Margaret James, Fort Valley, Ga., "Paris Doll," Tom Albridge of Durham. "Sir Knight," Robert E. Moore, Jr., of Nashville; Corning Tolle, Tampa, Fla.; and Fitzgerald Parker, Nashville, the "fops"; Miss Rebecca Cousins, Birmingham, Miss Martha Durham, Memphis and Miss Harriet Smith, Ashland, Va., "lady dolls."

Taking part in the "Noah" group are Mrs. C. W. Turpin, of Nashville, editor of the secular press bureau, M. E. Church, South, as "Mrs. Noah," Terry Turner of Nashville, son of M. T. Turner, manager of the Richmond branch of Southern Methodist Publishing House, "Mr. Noah"; A. L. Burns, teacher in McGallie School, Chattanooga, Tenn., "Shem"; and John Lyon, of Florence, S. C., "Japheth."

David Stentz of Lake Junaluska is Captain Bloctin; Virginia Starrett of Tampa, Fla., is "the Child"; Anna Lee Livingston, Orangeburg, S. C., the "Old Doll"; Mary Stewart, Fayetteville, N. C., the "Rag Doll"; and Roy M. Lott of Miami, senior in Southern College, is "Dr. Pillsley." Scores of children as quarter hours paper dolls, Kate Greenaway dolls, tin soldiers, butterflies and specialty performers, complete the cast. There will be a performance Friday night, Aug. 20, and Saturday night, Aug. 21.

STUNT NIGHT AT LAKE JUNALUSKA.

Lake Junaluska, Aug. 18. (Special.) Election and crowning of a queen, and award of a prize for the best stunt, were features of "stunt night," climaxing Thursday's program of the Epworth League assembly of the M. E. Church, South in session here.

Honors in these events went to North Carolina and Florida. Miss Jo McConnell of West Palm Beach, Fla., was chosen queen, while the stunt put on by the North Carolina group was adjudged the winner over nine competing states.

Georgia won second place; Alabama third, and West Virginia was awarded honorable mention.

In judging, points considered were originality—twenty points; cleverness, twenty; appropriateness, twenty; and general effectiveness, forty. Dr. Christian F. Reiser of New York, Mrs. Reiser, and Dr. W. E. J. Gratz of Chicago, were the judges. Dr. Reiser officiated at the ceremony of crowning the queen, pronouncing her queen of the night, of the day, and of the kingdom of God, a fit representative, he said, of the kind of folk the Master makes when he has His way. Queen's attendants were: Misses Virginia Bauserman, Winston-Salem; Jean Ragsdale, Atlanta; Annie Lee Venable, Rome, Ga., and Katherine Bryson, Tupelo, Miss.

Probably the largest attendance of the season witnessed the annual League "stunt night." The Rev. Frank Pim, as master of ceremonies, led the Leaguers in singing medleys, rounds and topical songs, while the stunts were being arranged by competing groups. A roll call by states developed the fact that practically every state in the union was represented in the audience, Arizona, Oregon, and Iowa being included in those most distant.

Subjects of stunts were as follows: North Carolina, "Junaluska Activities;" Alabama, "Calamauchia," a burlesque grand opera; Tennessee, "Romeo and Juliet;" Georgia, "That's Georgia;" Mississippi, "The Annual Tour to Junaluska;" South Carolina, "Jazz Marriage;" Kentucky, "Fountain of Youth;" Florida, "Suwanee River;" West Virginia, "The West Virginia Hills."

Taking part in the North Carolina stunts were: The Rev. L. B. Hayes, Winston-Salem; W. A. Barber, Marion and Greensboro; Misses Lillian Boatner and Addie Mae Davis, Winston-Salem; Harriet Boyd, Thomas Stringfield, William Sloan and Minerva Abernathy, Waynesville; Sara Buys, Charlotte; Olivia Hamric, Gastonia; Hazel Thompson, Mt. Gilead; Edna Sronce, Andrews; Eunice Blair, Raleigh; Virginia Bauserman, Winston-Salem; Natalie Coffey, Raleigh; Robert, Emily and Miriam Tuttle and Louise Sessoms, Fuqua Springs; the Rev. J. H. Barnhardt, Winston-Salem.

LAKE JUNALUSKA FLOWER SHOW.

Lake Junaluska, Aug. 14.—Prize winners in Lake Junaluska's first flower show held Saturday, were Miss Mary A. Bowles of Richmond, who won first prize on general display; J. B. Ivey of Charlotte, second prize, on general display. The third prize went to the Junaluska Woman's Club for their entry of wild flowers. Miss Anna Echols, of Clearwater, Florida, received honorable mention for her entry, a basket of hardy sweet peas and baby's breath, and Mrs. Elliston Thomas of Memphis, won honorable mention on her collection of wild flowers.

The exhibit of the playground children created much favorable comment, the containers for the unique collection of wild flowers being the work of the children in their handicraft department, under the instruction of Miss Louise Durham of Memphis.

Judges were Mrs. J. A. Vann of Birmingham, Mrs. W. F. Quillian, Macon, and Mrs. W. B. Longest, Louisville.

About 200 specimen vases and baskets, outside of the flowers used in decorating the auditorium where the show was held, were included in the show. The collection of wild flowers entered by the Woman's Club included 39 varieties. Among the varieties included in Miss Bowles' prize entry were dahlias, nasturtiums, petunias, gladioli, zinnias, sweet peas, calendulas, snapdragons, poppies, marigolds, larkspur and others. Miss Bowles was awarded a silver loving cup. Second and third prizes were cash awards of $2 and $1 each.

It was decided to make the flower show an annual event, sponsored by the Woman's Club. During the day approximately 500 persons visited the show.

TO CELEBRATE ASHEVILLE-ATLANTA HIGHWAY.

The towns along the Asheville-Franklin-Atlanta highway plan a celebration to be held on September 15th, with the purpose in view, to put this highway on the map.

It is the plan to have the North Carolina delegations meet the Georgia delegations at the State line and from there repair to Franklin for a program of speaking and eating. From Franklin the procession will move to Asheville, stopping for appropriate exercises at various towns along the way.

Louise Hunter Sang Here

LOUISE HUNTER IN CONCERT.

A very large and enthusiastic audience assembled at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening to hear Louise Hunter, soprano Metropolitan Opera star, who was presented by Clyde Ray, Jr., under the auspices of Woman's Club.

From the press dispatches Waynesville music lovers were looking forward with pleasure to this event, and they were in no way disappointed. In addition to the remarkable range and lovely quality of her voice, Miss Hunter possesses a most charming personality. She repented very graciously to the continued applause of the audience and gave several clever encores.

Miss Mary Douthit accompanied Miss Hunter most ably at the piano. The success of the recital is due largely to the untiring efforts of Clyde Ray, Jr.

The program follows:

- Program.
- I Juliette Waltz (Romeo and Juliette) Gaunard, (Coming Through the Rye.
 - II (a) La Girometta, Sibell. (b) April, Tosti. (c) Les Filles de Cadix, Delibes.
 - III Swiss Echo Song, Echert. A Brown Bird Singing, Hayden Wood
 - IV Doll Scene (Tales of Hoffman, Offenbach. (a) Little Shepherd's Song, Watts. (b) I Passed by Your Window, Brahl (c) Lo! Hear the Gentle Lark, Bishop.

MAY BUILD NEW HOTEL.

Mr. Paul Prigg and associates of Miami are visiting Waynesville and it is said that they contemplate building a new hotel on Johnson's Hill or Grandview, in the famous Raccoon proposed development. It is near Mr. Groose's sub-division. This will be a wonderful asset to Waynesville. With the new golf course the real estate activity now apparent in this section a hotel would give the needed impetus. Especially if built in the Raccoon development section as this is the best real estate bet.
