

CO-OPERATION—WAYNESVILLE'S CITIZENSHIP AMALGAMATED.

(By Buel B. Hyatt.)

Deciding is half the battle; staying decided is the other half. There is a dividing line between success and failure. Physics teaches that energy is the capacity of bodies to do work. There is a theory that the sun is the source of earth energy. Therefore, the supply of energy remains ever constant. Particles of life have motion; and, by co-operation we mean the creed that life may best be ordered not by the competition of individuals, where each seeks the interest of himself, but by the striving of every individual for the good of the social body of which he or they form a part. "Each for all, and all for each." Every man, woman and child has a fine right to be very enthusiastic about Waynesville. Few towns of this size have the municipal facilities that we now have. Every tourist is appreciative of this play ground that Nature has prepared on the Eastern slopes. And, the present development of our town represents action of co-operative bodies. The future materialization of our municipal ideals will be the aggregate of energy, plus money, that every civic organization exerts in accomplishing practical plans for a better and greater municipality. The road is open, the connecting links between the past and future are welded. The highways of success are the concrete facts of today's co-operative efforts. The present finds us grappling with problems that cannot be pigeon-holed. This is no time to side-step issues that have such bearing on Waynesville's future. Every tourist that enters our midst is weighing our liabilities and assets. On the comparative scales of existing situations in Western Carolina, we feel that our tonnage is at a par with any other section. However, we want others to become interested in our efforts to advance to a position second to none.

That Golf Course! Eh? What about the weather? If it's always June in Miami, you can lay your last dime its eternal paradise in the Land of the Sky. Only a few more subscriptions are needed to secure the course and club. Will you be a voluntary co-operator; or, will you be an involuntary factor? Don't wait for a representative of this project to run you down. Get a contract, sign up now and become a member of the Haywood Country Club. After this program is complete, let's see about getting in on the highway system. Why not have a little publicity from the Asheville-(Waynesville)-Atlanta-Franklin Highway? It seems rather queer to leave the impression that we are on a detour. After we get several local problems solved . . . cross the Rubicon! The irrevocable steps must be taken that will give us a modern commercial hotel. Impossibility is an old fashioned word, with a definition but not a meaning. In this land of opportunity, with unparalleled natural resources distributed throughout Western Carolina . . . who doubts, for a moment, that Waynesville citizenship will eventually become the cosmopolitan of the Hill Country, through an association of travelers, industrial, commercial and professional beings, whose one great hobby is co-operative Waynesville.

The citizenship of this community is moving into a steady stride for progress, activity and prosperity. Tourist from all sections of the country are commenting on the vast possibilities of our town and the surrounding country. In developing our resources, we have hitched our cart to the stars; but, we have not put the cart before the horse. In agriculture, horticulture, mining, manufacture, industry and finance, and taking care of the tourist, we are highly successful. Still, there are a few things we want here; and, we would like to have them in the near future. Co-operation will secure them. A modern commercial hotel; a modern tourist hotel; an eighteen hole golf course and country club; a large and sanitary swimming pool; a play ground for children; a year round secretary of Chamber of Commerce advertising the advantages of our community in all the leading Southern cities at the psychological moment; a brick factory manufacturing the several stocks of brick and concrete blocks; a city market where food products are methodically handled for the consumer; and, more willingness, on the part of those financially laboring man if he can buy butter job? The sooner we all learn that eggs or sugar for a few cents less we have an interest in each other's each month, if unrestricted foreign problems, the sooner will industrial competition causes him to lose his and agricultural stability be assured.

GREAT INSURANCE SERVICE REQUIRED.

In an interview in the San Francisco Examiner, W. E. Mallalieu, General Manager of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, gave a brief sketch of some of the problems which the insurance business must meet in serving the public. He said:

"Not so many years ago the average person merely thought of insurance as apply to fire and life losses. Once in this nation, must of necessity change conditions as we experience in commercial transactions. It is a self-evident fact that such rapidly complicate the rate-making problems ever, is much wider in scope than of the insurance business.

That. It stands as the credit backing An average of rates which was practical for all purposes ten years ago, may today be too high, too low, or completely out of date for the property involved. Insurance must rely on the law of averages in arriving at rate schedules, but the average of accidents and fires is subject to change."

OUR INTEREST IN "THE OTHER FELLOW."

"I will not attempt to enumerate

the many different kinds of coverage which must be given to property owners, builders, contractors, manufacturers, and business of every description, but as a simple illustration I will mention the automobile.

"Twenty years ago, an owner took fire insurance; today, to have any satisfactory protection, he must take, in addition to fire insurance, theft insurance, collision insurance, property damage insurance, which his automobile may inflict on the other
