MISS DIANA BLACK ENTERTAINS WITH BRIDGE

Miss Diana Black was charming hostess to a four table bridge party in compliment to her house guest, Miss Janette Rush, of Charlotte, at her home on Saturday afternoon.

At the conclusion of the game Miss Braxton Kirk was found to be holder of high score and was awarded an attractive glass powder jar. Mrs. Margaret Holland cut the consolation and was presented a lovely buttoniere. Miss Rush received a Valentine set consisting of compact and lipstick.

Those accepting Miss Black's hospitality were: Mesdames Joe Graves, Ernest L. Withers, J. Hayes Alley, Margaret Holland, John P. Swift, Jr., William T. Hannah, R. L. Coin, Misses Braxton Kirk, Janie Reeves, Thomasine Howell, Nora Ashton, Eleanor Bushnell, Jane Love Mitchell, Sara and Dorothy Thomas.

Miss Black served her guests a delicious salad course.

DORCAS BELL LOVE CHAPTER

A very interesting meeting of the Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, D. A. R. was held with Mrs. J. W. Reed at her home on Woolsey Heights.

The Regent called the meeting to order after which America was sung. The ritual service and flag salute were used.

Reports were given by officers. Mrs. Camp gave a report of a meeting recently held in Asheville in honor of our President General, Mrs. Brossen.

The chapter voted to five $5.00 to the City P. T. A. to be used for lunches for the undernourished children.

Chapter members were urged to donate Revolutionary relics to be placed in Continental Memorial Hall.

The chapter was glad to welcome one new member, Mrs. J. Dale Stentz.

Mrs. R. L. Prevost was in charge of the program of the afternoon. She had prepared very interesting biography of some of the famous men of Revolutionary period. One of these sketches was read by every member present.

Mrs. Nannie Persons gave a review of the magazine.

After the meeting adjourned the hostess served a delightful salad course.

THE SULGRAVE CLUB MET

The Sulgrave Club met with Mrs. R. L. Allen on Wednesday. The papers for the afternoon were on England and her relationship with America by Mrs. Allen, and the roll call of Westminster Abbey.

The president reported that she had received from Lady Aberdeen photographs of herself and husband, sent to our Sulgrave Club.

Those present were: Mesdames C. R. Thomas, C. S. de Neergaard, Wm. T. Hannah, W. L. Hardin, Allen, Miss Robina Miller, with Mrs. D. A. Baker as guest for the afternoon. A number of the ladies being out of town and indisposed.

After the program for the afternoon Mrs. Allen served delicious refreshments in two courses. The next meeting will be held Dec. 8th with Mrs. C. S. de Neergaard.

"SANDWICHES" A SUCCESS

Despite the inclement weather and the fact that other social functions were being given at the same time, "The Flapper Grandmother," played at the Waynesville Theatre Friday evening to a crowded house.

The play was of a comic nature affording the audience much amusement and kept them shrieking with laughter. The curtain raiser, an auto romance, enacted by Dorothy Thomas and Bill Gordon and the parlor scene enacted by Margaret Holland and Joe Welch were especially funny; also the bargain scene where the matrons came out in odd attire.

Miss Braxton Kirk, who took the leading part, merits special mention as she has a dual role and one difficult to act; starting out as a distinguished old lady and ending as a gay young flapper as a member of the chorus girls.

The choruses were unusually good showing their good training. They kept in more perfect rhythm than in any previous show given here.

The cast as a whole deserves some credit since the play was given with hardly a week's regular rehearsing. This was probably due to hard work and the splendid directing of Miss Essie Elliott, the producer of the show.

MRS. MASSIE GIVES BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MRS. BOONE

Mrs. Hugh Massie was the charming hostess at an informal dinner party at her home in Hazelwood given in honor of her mother, Mrs. J. K. Boone's birthday. After the guests had assembled, they were invited into the dining room which was artistically decorated in potted plants and ferns. Miniature turkeys standing on the place cards carried out the Thanksgiving idea. A real turkey, by no means small, with all accessories, occupied the head of the table, and was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Tucker. After all had enjoyed this bountiful four course dinner to the utmost, they returned to the living room where the afternoon was spent in social converse interspersed with music by Mrs. P. W. Tucker, several pieces her own composition. All too soon the evening shadows reminded them that it was time to seek their own firesides. They bade their hostess good bye, thanking her for a most delightful day and wishing Mrs. Boone many many happy returns of her birthday. They returned to their homes feeling that the day would be one of the most pleasant memories of their lives.

Mrs. Boone received many gifts both useful and ornamental. Those present were: Mesdames S. J. Shelton, T. J. Mangum, R. H. Blackwell, R. Q. McCracken, P. L. Turbyfill, H. G. West, W. L. Kirkpatrick, P. W. Tucker, S. C. Satterthwaite, J. K. Boone and D. M. Killian.

MR. AND MRS. L. M. KILLIAN ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Leon M. Killian entertained with a family Thanksgiving dinner party at their home in the city last Thursday. Those enjoying the bountiful repast were: Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Killian, Major and Mrs. J. H. Howell and son, James Harden, Capt. and Mrs. Faucette Swift and children, Bill and Haseltine, and Miss Laura Roledge.

Mrs. James W. Reed, Mr. Clyde Ray, Jr. and Mr. Jimmie Reed motored to Durham and Raleigh for the week-end. Mr. Ray is remaining in Raleigh the guest of his sister, Mrs. Robert Breece, for several days.

MISS VIRGINIA WELCH ACTIVE IN ATHLETICS AT SALEM COLLEGE.

Miss Virginia Welch, who is a student at Salem College, has been chosen cheer leader for the basketball team of her college, this being the second year she has held this honor. Miss Welch has always been very active in athletics and is a very enthusiastic member of the Athletic Association of Salem College. A large sized picture of Miss Welch appeared in the Sunday edition of the Winston-Salem Journal sport page.

Miss Braxton Kirk, who took the leading part, merits special mention as she has a dual role and one difficult to act; starting out as a distinguished old lady and ending as a gay young flapper as a member of the chorus girls.

UNANIMOUS ENDORSEMENT OF EIGHT MONTH SCHOOL

Unanimous endorsement of the movement for an eight months school term in the state was given by the North Carolina College Conference, composed of college and university presidents and faculty members at the annual meeting in Durham last week. The resolution adopted was presented by W. A. Harper, president of Elon College, who was elected president of the body for next year, succeeding Dr. William L. Peat, president of Wake Forest College. A special committee headed by Dean W. H. Wannamaker, of Duke University, was appointed to confer with officials of the State Department of Education on the new curriculum outlined for three, four, five and six teacher schools. About 100 collegians and women were in attendance.

SAYS SOUTH AND WEST TO FIGHT

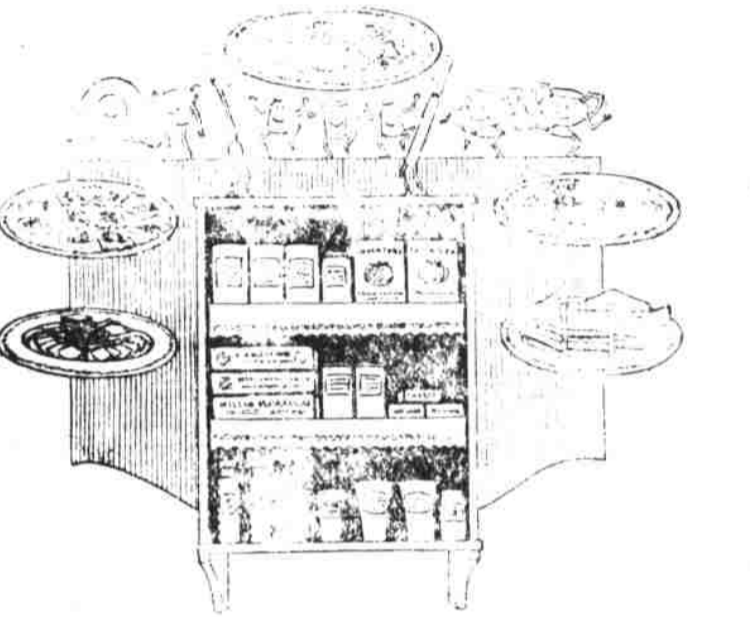

Justice Frederick F. Faville, of the Iowa Supreme Court, who visited was entertained in Durham, Raleigh, Chapel Hill and other places in the state a year or so ago, in a letter to R. O. Everett, Durham county registrar, writes that some time the South will forget the "lost cause" and the west the Abraham Lincoln traditions and the two agricultural sections will join in seeking the political and economic consideration due them. Until that time, he said, the North and East will continue to dominate. Because of the conditions in the Middle West, about 225 banks in Iowa are in the hands of receivers while about 100 bankers are in the penitentiary for receiving deposit when their banks were insolvent. The election of Senator Brookhart was a protest against the conservatism of New England and the East, he wrote.

Ten Minute Pies

PIE is the American's own choice of dessert, but, though fond of it themselves, many housewives hesitate to make it because they regard it as difficult. With the use of canned fruits and berries, the question of filling is entirely solved and if one hesitates to make the crust, that too, can be bought prepared. Pies are best when fillings are cooked before putting them between crusts and the fillings we take from cans are already well cooked.

For the housewife who makes a serious attempt at preparing well rounded meals, pie should be a frequent choice. It is an excellent way of getting fruit into the diet, for it should be eaten twice a day and when breakfast starts with fruit, dinner may well end with this good desert.

Novelties in Ready-to-Serve Foods

WHEN the modern housewife wishes to avoid the danger of over-cooking her meat, chicken, or fish, she is not limited to a few staples, as her grandmother was. All sorts of delicious novelties are at her disposal. Without the trouble of preparation or long cooking, and at reasonable prices, she can serve her family and guests with a wide variety of foods which need to be more or less in the modern class, or the preparation of which entailed much hard work.

Since the Russian caviar, is procurable in canned form, a supply should be kept on hand for such occasions as after-noon tea, or for the prompt after-theatre supper. As that mushrooms come in many sizes, they are used with much care in the kitchen. For those used in the rooms are exceedingly convenient for luncheon. They may be heated and served with hot steak, chicken or with bits of lettuce, chick, and served on toast, or served alone as a salad.

Cheese of all kinds is being prepared in a most interesting way. The modern housewife has in her ready-to-serve a variety of cream cheeses prepared for immediate use. A small amount of cream cheese may be served at a moment's notice and remain ready-made, such as a la mode, Hungarian, or a la mode, chicken, chicken, or a la mode, soup, stew, and lobster. Nothing simplifies modern entertaining.

A Dollar Dinner for Four

The daily recurring problem, what to have for the housewife's bugaboo. A timely suggestion, no is most welcome. Here is a menu that will serve four and costs only $1.00.

Soup Julienne Baked Green Peppers Stuffed with Corn Escalloped Salmon Whole Wheat Bread and Butter Lettuce Salad Brown Betty Coffee

A can of soup Julienne, requiring only the addition of an equal amount of boiling water, costs 10 cents. A tall can of salmon costs 17 cents. This should be mixed with white sauce, sprinkled with grated cheese and breadcrumbs and baked in a casserole. A can of corn costing 13 cents, mixed with a little butter and seasoning, will fill four green peppers, the latter costing about 10 cents. This is a very tasty dish.

A loaf of whole wheat bread costs 10 cents. A head of lettuce large enough to serve four people costs about 12 cents. A can of applesauce for the Brown Betty may be 13 cents. The other ingredients of stale bread and a bit of butter and laid over the top with sugar and add a few drops of vanilla. Bake in a moderate oven with a thin sauce. An amount of 40 cents a pound of coffee for four people costs 10 cents. The total cost above mentioned is about 11 cents to coffee, butter and sugar, oil and French dressing.
