FIRE ON LOVE LANE.

Mrs. R. H. Mitchell and family and the guests in her home were suddenly aroused early Monday morning about 7 o'clock by the smell of smoke. They found that the roof of the house was blazing, but due to the quick action and the splendid work of the local fire department the flames were soon under control and little damage was done. The fire originated from live sparks falling from the furnace flue to the roof. The fire department deserves a great deal of praise for their good work.

ORANGES BEAT HAY IN CALIFORNIA!

Oranges, hay, barley and raisin and wine grapes lead California's list of crops in that order, the golden fruit in 1925 beating the horse and cow fodder crop by $3,500,000. Last year was the first time that this lineup had occurred and short hay crops and high prices are likely to put hay back to the lead again this year. Co-operative growers' association business methods of educating and selling their markets as fast as production increases have always kept the income of the California farmer close to the top of the states. Spraying, irrigation, dusting, the use of tractor as well as wagon efficiency, and a general adoption of newer and better farm equipment as fast as it appears on the market is in a large measure responsible for success in farming.

Everybody Wants One

All at once and everywhere the fancies of men and women are captivated by little replicas of gallant ships that sailed the seas some centuries ago. They find themselves, made in many different ways, proudly displayed in living rooms, libraries and halls. To Grace the Fireplace

A handsome willow basket for holding firewood is an ideal Christmas gift for fortunate people who have an open fireplace. These baskets may be made of heavy paper rope, woven over wire frames. Some of them are decorated with painted flowers, like the attractive basket pictured.

Will Please the Men

A troop of amusing and efficient Chinamen are due to arrive at Christmas time. They are destined to hang about the rooms of un-aired-for bed-chambers, or any other men who may need needles, pins, buttons, thread and such. Bits of colored flannel, or other smooth cloth, account for the costume of the Jolly Chink pictured here, and black wool yarn or darning cotton will serve to outline his features, finish his garments with button-hole stitch and provide the queue which serves to hang him in a handy place. Cardboard will serve as a foundation for the small oriental pictured, or he might be fashioned like the flat, rag dolls that are stuffed with cotton.
