

License Tags On Sale At Canton

Carolina Motor Club Makes Headquarters At Canton. Full Time Office Opened.

E. E. Clark, formerly of Hazelwood, now district manager of the Carolina Motor club has announced that there will be offices opened in Canton at the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of handling license tags for automobile owners of Haywood county. This is the first time that the club has rendered such a service in Haywood county. Not only will the offices be for the purpose of selling tags but will render service and road information.

The office will be open and ready for business December 15th. The new 1932 license plates will be placed on sale and may be used then. Car owners are warned that it will be unlawful to operate their cars after January 1, 1932, without displaying the 1932 tags. No one has the authority to extend the time, so to be on the safe side, tags should be procured as soon as the office is opened, avoiding a probable rush at the last minute and trouble with the law. The color scheme for 1932 is just the reverse of what it was in 1931. The background is yellow and the numerals are black. Tags will be sold according to the weight of the car upon which they are to be placed. Many new offices are being established this year. Mr. Huggins stated, the nearest ones to Canton however, are Asheville and Sylva.

Haywood Students Receive Honors at Cullowhee School

(Special to the Waynesville Mountainer)

In returns from a recent election of student government officers at Western Carolina Teachers College, at Cullowhee, N. C., it was found that Miss Pearl Justice of Clyde was elected House President of Reuben Robertson Hall for the remaining quarter. Miss Margaret Burgin of Waynesville was elected vice-House President of Moore dormitory.

Miss Justice was elected last May to be House President of Robertson for the fall quarter. Recently the Student Council worked over the constitution, one of the results being that the Assembly officers were elected for an entire year. Miss Burgin was House President of Moore during the fall quarter. Hence both the young women will remain on the Student Council for the remainder of the year.

Miss Willa Boyd of Waynesville was elected secretary-treasurer of the Robertson Hall Assembly.

In a conversation last Saturday with J. P. Jarrett, (Uncle Jim) I asked him to give me a brief sketch of his voyage to the Orient and the following was his reply: "I am now in my 80th year, but was in my 80th year when we started over three and a half months ago. We left New York June 30th, 1921, on the S. S. Asia with Beirut as our destination. As our ship had to stop at Lisbon we went ashore a day and visited the Capital of Portugal and then back to sea again we went through the Straits of Gibraltar reaching Beirut ten days later. We spent five days in Syria, two weeks in Palestine, one week in Egypt, three weeks in Italy, two days in Switzerland, five days in Paris, three days in Belgium Brussels and the battle fields, thence across English Channel to London where we spent eight days, thence crossing the Atlantic ocean in ten days, landing at Montreal, Canada, thence to Raleigh, N. BITS OF HISTORY

By John Parris, Jr.

Jackson County

"Her head rested on the Tuckasegee Valley; her arms outstretched on the Balsams on the one side, and the Cowee on the other; the concave of her knees on the Blue Ridge, and her toes atwinkle in the Chattooga and Toxaway."

—James H. Cathey.

Tryon County Abolished:

It was in 1768 that the western part of Mecklenburg county was erected into a new county, and named in honor of North Carolina's notorious governor, Tryon. During the struggle for independence the North Carolinians were but little disposed to honor the name of their former oppressor, and when in 1779 this county had become inconveniently large, it was formed into two counties, and the name Tryon dropped. The eastern part was called Lincoln, while the western portion received the name of Rutherford county, in honor of Gen. Griffith Rutherford.

Gold Spring:

The famous "Gold Spring" of a decade ago, is no more. John B. Love owned the famous "Spring" near the Tuckasegee, in Jackson, in the basin of which a small amount of gold was deposited each morning; but a blast ruined even that small contribution.

Origin of Names:

Swain county—Hazel creek was named from a patch of hazelnut bushes near its mouth. Noland creek was named for Andrew Noland, its first settler. Eagle creek from a nest of eagles near its head. Twenty-Mile creek is so called because it is just twenty miles from the junction of the Tuckasegee and Little Tennessee rivers.

A Bit of Humor:

There is told the story of a settler in Graham county who said Rocky Point for Point. He was told that it was improper to say "Point" as its true name was Point. So as the story goes he next went to Asheville he asked for a "point" of whiskey.

Humorous or Otherwise:

It is told that a Mrs. Norton living in Cashiers Valley, was awakened one night while her husband was away from home, by hearing a great commotion and the sealing of hogs at the hog-pen near by. Her children were very small and there was no man person about the place. The night was cold and she had no time to clothe herself, but, rushing from the cabin in her night dress and white bare feet, she snatched an axe from the wood-pile and hastening to the hog-pen, saw a large black bear in the act of killing one of her pet "fattening hogs." She didn't hesitate an instant, but went on and, aiming a well directed blow at Bruin's cranium, split it from ears to chin and had bear meat for breakfast instead of furnishing pork for the daring marauder. It was an instance when the bravery of the women was shown, back during the settling of our country.

What Have You?

"Epitaph on James R. Dodge, Attorney at Law,
Here lies a Dodge, who dodged the good,
And dodged a lot of evil;
But, after dodging all he could,
He could not dodge the devil."

A Reply to the Above:
"Another Epitaph on Three Attorneys.
Here lies a Hillman and a Swaine—
Their lot let no man choose,
They lived in sin and died in pain,
And the devil got his dues."

A crop of oats and lespedeza hay from four acres on an Edgecombe County farm returned the owner $75 at a cost of $84.

William Fletcher of Pasquotank County produced 128 bushels and 32 pounds of corn on one acre this season.
