

Apple Blossom Time Is A Signal For Planting

When the apple trees are in full bloom many North Carolina gardeners use this as a signal to make their first planting of tender vegetables in the open.

while to make some trial plantings of sweet corn this season. This is a good early April job," says E. B. Morrow, garden specialist at State College.

Anyone Fishing Outside Own County Must Have State License

Anyone who fishes outside the limits of his own county must have a state fishing license, the fishermen of the state were reminded by J. S. Hargett, assistant director of the Department of Conservation and Development at Raleigh.

The requirement, Mr. Hargett emphasized, extends to commercial as well as inland waters, the only exception being the ocean, sounds and the wide mouths of the Cape Fear, Neuse, Pamlico, Tar, and New Rivers.

The State Anglers Act, Mr. Hargett explained, exempted only the ocean and sounds and waters in which no licenses are required residents of any other counties except those in which the waters are located.

stocky, well rooted plants for the open field. In testing on the plants lift as much dirt as possible with them.

The next job is to make succession plantings of the more hardy crops such as beets, radishes, cabbage, carrots, mustard, garden peas, and Irish potatoes.

The final April job, says Mr. Morrow, is to be prepared to fight insects and plant diseases.

Cows For Soybeans By Barter Method

Beaufort County farmers have 13 high grade dairy cows which they could not have paid for in cash and Davidson County farmers have an adequate supply of soybean seed for planting this year because they were willing to take the seed for cows.

The two groups of farmers are about 225 miles apart yet through the initiative of farm agent P. M. Hendricks the exchange was made on a fair basis that was satisfactory to both groups.

This gave the Davidson folks more soybean seed than they needed so they gave other farmers an opportunity to get some for cash at a reduced price at the car door when the seed arrived in Lexington.

Negro Field Day Is Termed Successful By Sponsors

Dr. Witherspoon, of Gastonia, Delivers Inspiring Speech To Large Attentive Audience.

The field day expresses given by the negroes of Waynesville last Thursday were termed as a "big success" by those in charge.

The athletic events of the afternoon attracted many spectators. Those taking part gave the spectators some thrills and showed real skill in the many events that were given.

Thursday night climaxed the day with a speech by Dr. W. F. Witherspoon, of Gastonia. He set forth in his speech to the well filled house, that the negroes were indebted to the white race and that his race should strive to make themselves better and look for bigger things in the future rather than being contented to hold back the progress of the race.

Not only was his speech timely, but inspiring. He displayed much wit during his talk, which made an impression on his audience.

Lack Of Hay Is Poor Way To Run Dairy, Says Arey

A hay mow filled with nothing but air by March 1 is too common an occurrence in North Carolina and is fatal to success in dairy farming.

"A dairyman had better have too much hay than too little," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at State College. "This means that a good average should be put to legumes during the spring and summer so that each cow will have at least two tons for feed next winter.

Mr. Arey finds from his work with the progressive dairymen of North Carolina that those who have a balance on the profit side of the ledger usually provide plenty of hay. To do so will keep the cows from the permanent pasture before it is ready.

If a person is short on pasture and hay, it may be advisable to plant a small acreage to sudan grass and millet. Such crops are badly needed in July and August when grazing in the permanent pasture is short due to hot weather.

Good grazing can be secured from sodan grass and millet within six weeks to two months from the time of seeding.

Beaufort farmers have 13 cows which were badly needed.

According to C. A. Sheffield, assistant extension director at State College, this incident shows how farmers of the state may exchange goods to the advantage of all when they are willing to work together for the common good.
