

11 Candidates Seeking Nomination For County Offices In June Primary

Even Out For Commissioner, Nine Seek Office Of Tax Collector.

ONLY 2 FOR SENATE

The political pot started to boil a week ago when the candidates threw their hats into the primary fire for county offices along with the twenty-five that have already announced themselves as candidates. Many new developments were made during the past few days in political circles. Three have announced for chairman of the board of commissioners, those being R. T. Boyd, present chairman, Geo. C. Haynes, also member of the present board, and Jarvis T. Coman, of Lake Junaluska. The first announcement for coroner was made this week, Luther R. McAbee, of Canton, and the candidate to announce for member of the board of education, Homer V. Cagle, of Canton, also made his announcement.

Leaders in the Democratic party are over the fact that so many candidates are entering the race this year. They look upon this as an indication that this will be a banner year for the Haywood Democratic party, and the position that the more candidates in the field, the more work will be done and will tend to create more interest among the Democrats in the county. Heretofore the Democrats have led the county ticket by a 2500 majority, but this year a lead is expected to exceed that by hundreds.

The main fight seems to have settled down to that of tax collector and board of commissioners. To date candidates are seeking the office of commissioner and three our for chairman. According to the law made at last legislature, Haywood county have only two commissioners and chairman this next year.

The office of tax collector has attracted the highest number of candidates with 9 in the race. There is a bit of interest in being in the race for senate. Two candidates have announced for that, J. R. Boyd and W. R. Francis. M. Robinson, attorney, of Canton, has withdrawn from the race, but yesterday. His reason was a personal one, he said.

Three candidates have announced to run for representative, with the possibility of another entering in a few weeks. Much interest is being taken in the race for register of deeds. Four candidates have announced for that, with the possibility of the fifth entering as the date closes for candidates.

Those announced in The Mountaineer to date are: (listed in order of office) Tax Collector, Bryan Medford, Geo. C. Haynes, J. C. Welch, present collector, Lee V. Rogers, Hugh Rogers, W. A. Moore, R. S. Coman, J. B. Best, and Lucius Liner. Commissioner, P. V. Massey, present member, E. B. Rickman, Lee Ferguson, Frank Rogers, Frank Davis, Jarvis Allison, and W. H. Henderson, present members of the board, and Jarvis Howell.

Ehringhaus Heard By Large Audience Here Last Thursday

Candidate For Governor Made Convincing Speech. Made Impression Here.

Hon. J. C. B. Ehringhaus, candidate for governor, spoke to a large, attentive audience at the Masonic Temple last Thursday night here. He discussed the different issues of the campaign and cleared himself of any point that might have been in question. He came out openly and gave his views on all important matters concerning the state.

One of the outstanding parts of the speech was that he "threw little mud" at his opponents. He spoke very highly of them, although he discussed their views on matters and gave his reason for seeing the matters in a different light.

Political leaders here have often said the county "leaned toward Fountain," but after Mr. Ehringhaus spoke here, many were inclined to believe he would probably carry the county. The speaker was introduced by Felix Alley, life-long friend and campaign manager for Mr. Ehringhaus in Haywood county.

"I intend to make a clean breast of my intentions, and I also wish my opponents to do likewise," declared Mr. Ehringhaus in presenting his platform. "I am ready to answer any questions regarding my platform or my plans, to the best of my ability, at any time."
