THE RIGHT TIME FOR WAYNESVILLE TO SAVE MONEY

One of the last things The Mountaineer ever expects to do is to try to dictate to any group of officials how to run their business and we hope that the County Commissioners and City Board of Aldermen will see the suggestion that we have to make in that light.

If there ever was a time in the history of Haywood County that public funds need to be spent carefully and wisely, and when a dollar can be spent to save several we believe that it should be done. That point seems to be the present situation of both town and county. Within the next few days the county commissioners are going to let a contract to grade the court house grounds and terrace the grounds from the building to Depot Street. While the county is almost compelled to do this it seems that it is an opportune time for the city to join in and widen Depot Street at the court house grounds.

There is no doubt about it that Depot Street will in a few years be the main highway leading into the park via Soco Gap and through the Mt. Sterling section, and the present width of the street is not nearly wide enough to care for the traffic now passing along this route, to say nothing about the heavy travel after the park officially opened.

While the grading is being done on the court house grounds it would be a simple matter to just grade back about 10 feet further into the grounds and widen the street. If the widening of the street is not done at this time, we understand that the county intends to terrace the court house grounds all the way to the street, and then after that is done the city would have an expensive job to build new terraces and place new sod on the yard in a few years when the park traffic would demand a wider street.

The citizens of the city would be saved a large sum of money and would show that we really believe that the Soco Gap road into the

WEAVER STILL OPTIMISTIC OVER THE PARK

The Eleventh Congressional District is fortunate in having a representative in Washington that has the courage to carry on, when the people back home offer little encouragement on the many different problems confronting the Congressman of today. We are speaking of none other than Zebulon Weaver, the man that is working day in and day out to help this section of North Carolina, probably more than any other single man.

Last week Mr. Weaver submitted to the Congressional committee on banking and finance the park bill to secure $1,500,000 for the purchase of park lands in Western North Carolina and Eastern Tennessee. We hesitate to say this, but there is a lot of truth in it. Many people right here in sight of the park doubt its ever becoming developed, in spite of the fact that we have representatives in Washington doing everything possible to develop the park.

The Mountaineer sincerely hopes that the citizens of this section will get a little more faith and muster up enough courage to look into the future and become convinced that we have a project here that will make Western North Carolina known throughout the entire world. If Mr. Weaver did not believe and have faith that he could get the finance and banking committee to let the park commission have funds to buy park lands, don't believe that he would be wasting his time on the matter.

Mr. Weaver is optimistic and working for the development of the park, what are we doing to help? Since beginning this the idea came to us that perhaps it would be fitting to send our Congressman a little note of appreciation and a word of encouragement. We know he would appreciate it and it would show that we are really approving the work he is striving to get across for all of us.

On June 4 the voters showed that they appreciated Mr. Weaver by their votes and gave him a large majority over all other opponents. Now it would be the proper thing to give him encouragement so that he will be able to return the help that was given him in the June primary.

park will become a reality. But even if the park were not involved into the matter, there is certainly not going to be parking space on Main street for the cars of people that have business in the court house, and Depot Street could be used for parking to a good advantage until the park opens up.

The architect in charge of landscaping the grounds said that if this were decided upon before the grading was started the cost would be small and would not interfere with the present plans of the Commissioners to beautify the court house grounds. To save the citizens money on this matter immediate action must be had. The Board of Aldermen should take steps along this line, and we firmly believe that every citizen in the city will back them up to the last peg.

We believe that the widening of Depot Street will bear much weight upon the State Highway Commission in putting the park road through Soco Gap.

24 Years Ago in HAYWOOD

Dr. J. R. McCracken, who attended the State Medical Society at Winston last week as a delegate from the Haywood County Medical Society, returned last Thursday.

Dr. R. E. Suttelle, superintendent of the Lamberton Graded Schools, is visiting with his family at Sonoma. Ex-Sheriff D. R. Noland moved his family some time ago from Waynesville to his country home on Fines Creek. He has two homes and will live in both, part of the year in town and part of the year in the country.

22 YEARS AGO IN HAYWOOD

Every Saturday you can go from Waynesville to Asheville and return for only 90 cents. This is a very low rate the Southern railway is offering to any who wants to spend the day in Asheville and return the same day.

The Sunday School classes of Misses Mary Boone and Jean West spent last Monday at Balsam Falls picnicking. Those enjoying the outing were: Misses Mary Boone, Jean West, Mary Jones, Lizzie Moody, French Swaynson, Clyde Farmer, Grace Owens, Marguerite Sloan, Annie Taylor, Edith Williams, Anna Boone, Lucile Backwell, Messrs. Robert Smathers, Joe Turbyfill, Cary Williams, Grady Boyd, Fred Howell, Horace Wyche, Will Coble, Hugh Abel, and Rev. J. M. Barnhardt.

$50 Cash Free To Everybody In U. S.

The new currency will be redeemed at any postoffice in the United States just as soon as the 35 stamps are applied. By redemption, it is meant that gold and silver currency would be paid to the holders of the new currency any time within five years from date of issue or as soon as the 35 stamps are bought and applied. Each stamp would be cancelled with the initials of the spender and it would be a misdemeanor to pass the currency without the special stamp affixed.

Postoffice Sell Stamps The special stamps would be on sale at every postoffice throughout the nation. Hoarding of the currency would be prevented by a provision that the dollar currency would not be redeemable at the end of five years for more than the amount of stamps affixed. This would encourage the spending of the money. It is highly probable that millions of dollars would pass through enough hands in a single week to accumulate the required number of (35) three cents stamps. But what of that? The government has sold 35 three cent stamps and has received $1.05 so it has the money to redeem the dollar at the end of its journey. The sale of stamps would liquidate the currency and everything would be "jake" Cotton would go to 20c a pound, merchants would be run over with customers, mills would start running and old prosperity corner would be upon us. Somebody says that the one who accepts the new dollar for merchandise has to pay 3c when he gets rid of it? What of that? Is there a farmer, a merchant, a manufacturer who would not gladly pay three cents to sell what he has to sell and get better times back? Certainly he would, especially since he received a gift of $50 along with everybody else in the country.

Use Last Census.

The census records are in Washington and would be copied and sent to the various localities. Each person would go to the postmaster in the locality where his nose was counted in the census of 1930 and there the $50 would be dealt out, the name checked off and a receipt taken for the currency.

Plan Is Inexpensive

The cost of administering the law would be practically nothing. All postoffices would sell the three cent currency stamps just as they will do when the new revenue bill becomes effective, calling for document stamps on deeds, bank checks, etc.

Spending would be the order of the day and the wheels of progress would be in motion once again. Foreign nations would not be concerned because the "prosperity dollar currency" would be for domestic use only. The other nations of the world might soon be following the stamp tax plan of restoring prosperity.

New Books Have Come For The Library Here

The new fiction ordered for the library has arrived and the committee are giving a picture show on June 29th to raise money to pay for what was borrowed to buy these books.

Mr. Massie has very generously operated with this committee and the entire board of directors is most appreciative of his kindness.

The picture, "The Trial of Vivian Ware," is a thrilling mystery, full of intrigue and the usual secret artifices, with plenty of exciting moments. The cast is equally interesting, featuring Bennett and Allen Dineen in crowd-drawing Zazu Pitts. There will be a comedy picture with this picture to relieve the tension.

There will be both matinee and evening performance. Tickets can be assured a seat, and you are naturally expecting a crowd. The picture being what it is, it is one that is vital to the community.

Prohibition

9. The Democratic party always has been responsive to the will of the people, and in obedience thereto, has sponsored and enacted all the prohibition laws of North Carolina. Recognizing, however, this right of the people, in a legal way, to amend the constitution of the United States at their pleasure, and to vote on all questions at issue, we declare our party stands firmly for the enforcement of these laws and every provision of the federal constitution, so long as it remains a law of the land.

10. We pledge a continuance of our policy of fiscal recognition of the rights of both capital and labor, and a broader distribution of employment as a means to a satisfactory and sustaining progress of industrial development, and a more wholesome industrial life in this state. We endorse the legislation along this line enacted by the last legislature, and commend the Democratic leadership responsible for it. We pledge ourselves to the enforcement of these and other laws.

11. We face, without dismay, the difficult task of maintaining, under existing circumstances, the high standard of the State's institutions. These institutions are the pride and hope of our people. They are conducted by noble and patriotic men and women. If for the present we appear to have arrested our progress, the pause is not by way of abandoning our noble ideals, but of fortifying ourselves with them.

We recommend the record of our servants in the national congress. They have been faithful to their duties, true to their party, and have proved themselves worthy representatives of democracy.

Invitation

The hour calls for the return of the Democratic party to power throughout the republic. In the coming election the Republican party will be condemned at the polls by the victims of the false pretense and its disastrous policies. It has forgotten the mass of the people, and they will welcome the opportunity to repudiate it. Every aspect of the present situation demands the appreciation of Democratic principles, that is:

- (a) Simplicity of government. (b) Economical administration. (c) Equal rights to all, and special privileges to none.

(d) Special regard for the welfare of the farmer and worker.

(e) The encouragement of commerce and industry, and the preservation of industry and initiative.

(f) Free foreign relations on a basis of mutual interest in the commerce of the world.

(g) The restoration of the Democratic principles of Woodrow Wilson in the management of the Federal Reserve Banking System, and the prevention of the use of its great powers for the promotion of stock gambling and wild speculation.

This government needs now a great Democrat to deliver it and lead it, one cast in the mold of a Jackson or a Wilson. Our national convention will present such a one to the nation, and in less than 12 months the Republican party will be driven from the power of presidency and of the Congress, and democracy will apply her great principles to the deliverance and relief of the people.

To this end we invite all who would deliver our country from the evil and destructive forces which have come upon it under a Republican rule to join us in the coming election.
