The children's hour has always been popular and has held tremendous attration for many of the older church leaders. It is often recalled by visitors here for conferences that the late D'r. John R. Pepper of Nashville always found time to take an active part in these programs and for many years dist church with a very interesting and that time two more of the theires previous to his death was a great favorite with the hundreds of children who attended the Sunday aftermoon features. Since his death Mr. J. B. Ivey of Charlotte has taken a decided interest in the sessions and is almost always in attendance.

At 7:30 Sunday evening the first of a series of band concerts was given at the auditorium. The band is a feature that was introduced last year and which won instant commendation and added materially to the enjoy-South. Most of these are still students in musical departments of various schools and colleges who come to Junaluska in the summer to con tinue their training. Special and attractive prizes were awarded the winners in each of these and the various other sports staged during the day.

One of the most interesting and probably the most thrilling feature of the entire day was the flag service planned for 7:00 o'clock in the evening. This was held on the low lying shores of the lake near the auditorium where there was sufficient space to accommodate thousands of people. The service was conducted by members of the Lake Junaluska Summer Mrs. John F. Kirk, Mrs. J. Frank School faculty now conducting sessions of the summer school here.
