ANNUAL SALE AND EXCHANGE DAY SET FOR 23RD

Raisers of County Have Opportunity To Buy And Sell At Sale.

TO BE AT CLYDE

Annual Haywood County Ram and Exchange Day will be held on Saturday, July 23, at 1:30

the last two years this sale has been the big gathering for sheep in Haywood county.

This year the larger part of the sheep offered for sale will be yearlings and year olds. Several of these are grown by breeders in Haywood county. The Mock Farm from Advance, will bring a consignment of their pure bred rams. These have been bred by Mr. L. I. Case of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, who recommends them to be good animals.

It is probable some purebred ewes will be offered for sale. Quite a number have been sold in the two preceding years.

The morning will be open to private exchange of animals. This should develop into one of the most useful opportunities of the day. A farmer can bring his animal and exchange with other men. This is without any cost to the owner. Those who put animals into auction will be asked to pay a fee to the auctioneer.

Haywood county has far more sheep than any other county west of Asheville. The growers have not secured returns for the last two years, they had been receiving for a number of years previously both for wool and for the money income on a replacement basis at the present time, however, well-bred and fat lambs give a fair return.

Through the past history of agriculture since the War Between the States, the man who continued to improve his livestock in periods of depression, has secured a nice profit when the upturn came. Many, however, became discouraged and either allowed their flocks to run down, or times of low prices.

Haywood has much land that needs to be grazed by sheep to clean it of brush. The indirect returns from raising, in the form of improved pastures is often almost as important as the direct cash received.

H. W. Baucom To Hold Revival Near Raleigh

H. W. Baucom, pastor of the Baptist church here, left this morning to hold a two weeks revival at the old home church near Raleigh. The church is said to be one of the best country churches in the state, and the distinction of having sent many preachers from among its membership.

Clinic For Cripples To Be Held At Sylva

According to a statement received from Miss Dorothy M. Sutton, superintendent of the North Carolina State Hospital, at Gastonia, a clinic will be held under the auspices of the institution in Sylva on Friday, July 29. The clinic will begin at 10 o'clock.

The state and Masonic order bear the expense of these clinics which are held annually over the state for crippled children. The sponsors of the clinics are anxious that all those who are afflicted that need to attend this clinic will make arrangements at once. The details will be given in this week.

FOOD SALE SATURDAY

There will be a food sale next Saturday afternoon, July 16, on the porch of the Kenmore Hotel, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Junaluska Hearing Is Set For Saturday

Regular Term Of Superior Court Got Underway Here Last Monday Morning.

The July term of Superior court convened here Monday morning, with Hon. Walter E. Moore presiding. Several cases had been tried up to Wednesday noon, but were of the minor cases. No cases of importance, it was said, would be tried this week.

The outstanding case of the week, perhaps, is the hearing of the Junaluska Methodist Assembly and the appointment of a permanent receiver or some other step in carrying on the work of the assembly Saturday. It is said that whatever action is taken Saturday will not affect the scheduled program at the lake for the coming season. Jerry Liner was appointed temporary receiver of the Assembly several weeks ago.

The jurors for the second week of court are as follows:

Beaverdam: Frank A. Hall, Sewell Higgs, Carroll J. McCracken, W. B. Calvin. Cataloochee: James L. Caldwell. Clyde: T. N. Crawford, A. T. Haynes. Crabtree: C. T. Noland. East Creek: J. J. Fulbright. Iron Duff: John M. McClure. Ivy Hill: J. R. Platt, W. E. Smith, Jonathan: L. B. Leatherwood, Gordon Reeves, J. H. Hannah. Waynesville: G. W. Liner, J. L. Walker, George H. Palmer, R. M. Morris. White Oak: Robert McElroy.

Mrs. Galloway Buried On Monday Morning

Funeral services for Mrs. Angeline Galloway, well known Waynesville woman were held from the home of her son Sam Galloway in East Waynesville, Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. H. W. Baucom, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. Interment was in the Ratcliff Cove cemetery.

Mrs. Galloway was seventy eight years of age. Death occurred at the Haywood county hospital where she had been taken following a fall which resulted in a broken leg. After being admitted to the hospital she developed double pneumonia which was the cause of her death. Mrs. Galloway had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Matt Nichols in East Waynesville.

She is survived by three sons, Sam, Merritt and George Galloway all of Waynesville and three daughters, Mrs. James Underwood and Mrs. Matt Nichols of Waynesville and Mrs. W. B. Moody of Marion, North Carolina.

The Choral Club to Meet Here Friday

Prof. Andrew Hemphill, director of music at Birmingham-Southern College, is coming to Waynesville Friday evening, July 15 at 8 o'clock to organize a choral club for the purpose of studying some of the great choral works of both classic and modern composers.

A few of the selections he contemplates using are: "Unfold Ye Portals," (Redemption) Gounod; "Soldiers' Chorus," (Faust) Gounod; "Pilgrims' Chorus," (Tannhauser) Wagner; "Oh, Italy, Italia, Beloved," (Luceria Borgia) Donizetti; "The Sextette," (Lucia De Lammermour) arranged for chorus, Donizetti; "Land Sighting," (Norwegian) Grieg; "The Heavens Are Telling," (Creation) Haydn; "Invocation to the Sun-God," (Indian) Troyer-Matthews; Four negro spirituals: "Listen to the Lambs," (8 parts), Nathaniel Dett; "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho," Harvey Gaul; "Ev'ry Time I Feel De Spirit," Burleigh; "Ezraiah Saw De Wheel," Burleigh; "Mah Lindy Low," Lilly Strickland; "The Hunter's Horn," (Sonnambula) Bellini.

There will be no expense for this musical service. Prof. Hemphill brought his musical library with him.

He plans two grand concerts the latter part of August, one at Waynesville and one at the Lake.

Rehearsals begin Friday night, 8 o'clock, at the Episcopal church.

Every person who can sing is cordially invited to attend.

Hugh Penland Is Killed By Auto, Driver Is Sought

Farmer Of County Found Dead On Highway From Being Hit With Unknown Auto.

Hugh Penland, prominent farmer of the Pigeon Gap section of the county was killed when hit by an unknown automobile early Sunday morning. The hearing set for Wednesday, for Fred Smith, local taxi driver charged with killing Penland, was postponed until the 29th. Smith is out under a $3,000 bond.

Penland was instantly killed some time about three o'clock Sunday morning near his home in the Pigeon Gap section of the county when he was struck by a passing car. Later Fred Smith a taxi driver was arrested on a warrant sworn out before Magistrate, Frank D. Ferguson charged with being the driver of the car. Smith was held under a $3,000 bond for his appearance at the hearing.

Penland was a farmer of the Pigeon Gap section of the county where he was born and reared. He owned considerable property and was considered as well fixed as the average farmer of the section. He grew and sold considerable produce and apples during the year and was well known throughout most of the county.

The funeral services were held at Bethel Monday afternoon at two o'clock and interment was in the Bethel cemetery. Penland is survived by his wife, who was Miss Florence York, and five children.

Prison Chaplain Pays Visit To Prisoners In Jail and Prison Camp

Captain Dan McDonald noted prison evangelist and founder of the Piedmont Prison Mission and the Prisoner's Honor League, spent some time in the city the early part of this week. While here Captain McDonald visited the county jail and preached to the prisoners. He also visited the state prison camp at Hazelwood and had services for the prisoners there.

Captain McDonald was originally from Indiana. He came to North Carolina more than thirty years ago and for many years of his life taught in the public schools of the state. After spending many years of his life in the schools he became interested in the work of speaking the Christian Religion and was especially attracted to prison work because of the tremendous opportunities in that field and because of his sympathy for the neglected and underprivileged men in the prisons of the country. For ten years he has been carrying on this work as a personal labor of love and now at the age of sixty he is still active and on the job every day of the year.

The Piedmont Prison Mission in Charlotte, North Carolina was founded by Captain McDonald and he has complete charge of the work. No church organization undertakes financially or otherwise to sponsor the work and the Mission is dependent upon gifts from interested people. Those who are interested sufficiently to make donations to the work may do so by sending checks made payable to the Piedmont Prison Mission in Charlotte.

The honor league among prisoners is another phase of the work of rehabilitation of men who are down and out and in difficulty. Cards which serve as pledges are distributed in Bibles to prisoners wherever Captain McDonald goes. These cards have a place for the signature of the prisoner who pledges to observe all prison rule and make as near a model prisoner as is humanly possible. He also promises to follow the teachings of Jesus Christ as a means of settling all of his difficulties and problems.

Captain McDonald says that a large majority of the prisoners sign these cards and that his experience has led him to believe that at least eighty to ninety percent of all who sign the pledge live up to its requirements.

BANK INTERIOR PAINTED

The interior of the First National Bank has recently been repainted. The painters finished their task of decorating the first of this week. The ceiling was painted in ivory, while the woodwork was given a mahogany finish. The iron work about the cages is finished in old gold.

Legion Members To Attend Convention In Asheville Monday

In a statement yesterday, J. C. Patrick, commander of the local post of the American Legion, issued a formal statement urging every member of the legion and ex-service men to prepare to go to Asheville to attend the state convention of the organization which begins Monday. A parade is scheduled for Monday afternoon and the officials want all the Haywood members to take part in a group. Those that do not have a way of going to Asheville, are requested to get in touch with Mr. Patrick.

Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the Navy and publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer and Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, czar of baseball will be principal speakers at the business sessions of the American Legion on Monday morning.

Eight bugle and drum corps have already registered by the various posts in the state. These will take part in the parade and various convention activities, it was announced.

4-H Club Program Of State Complete

Four days of intensive study and supervised recreation has been planned for some 700 girls and boys who are members of the 4-H clubs of North Carolina and who have been selected to attend the annual short course at State College during the week of July 25.

According to L. R. Harrill, state club leader, the young folks will begin arriving at the college on Monday, July 25, and the first feature of the program will occur that evening on the campus. Between 600 and 700 young people have already been registered by their home and farm agents and indications are now that nearly 800 selected leaders will attend.

"We have arranged special courses to make the program for the week pleasant and profitable," says Harrill. "The young folks will begin their class room work on Tuesday morning, July 26, and for four days thereafter there will be instruction in club work, supervised recreation, entertainments and special educational features. Some of the unusual phases will include the state health contest, the song contest and a contest in dramatics. Two general assemblies presided over by Selma Harris of Pasquotank County, presided at the state club organization, will be held each day. Recreation activities will consist of organized play, sight-seeing tours, baseball and swimming.

Haywood Juror In Buncombe Bank Case Says Trial Was Fair

W. C. Flynn, Of Canton, States That Defendants Given Fair Impartial Trial.

Quite a bit of interest in this county has been created in the Lea-Davis appeal in connection with their conviction of violation of the banking laws in dealings of the Central Bank and Trust Company. This renewed interest has been caused by affidavits made by certain persons and used by the defense attorneys seeking a new trial. These affidavits tend to show that members of the jury which tried the case were prejudiced to the extent that a fair and impartial verdict was not possible and that they gave evidence of this prejudice by their actions and declarations.

Only one juror has been actually named by these affidavits in this connection. This is W. C. Flynn, filling station operator in Canton. On July 7th an account of the move by the Lea-Davis attorneys for a new trial appeared in the Asheville Citizen and the papers in the case contained an affidavit to the effect that Flynn had expressed opinions that were conclusive proof that he could not give the defendants a fair and impartial trial.

Upon reading the account and the affidavit as published Mr. Flynn immediately entered a denial of the truthfulness of the said affidavit and other statements in that connection.

In his statement Mr. Flynn said he gave the three convicted men a fair and impartial verdict as a member of the jury. He denied other allegations made by counsel for Davis and the Leas.

His statement follows: "All the charges made against me by the Lea-Davis attorneys and published in the Asheville Citizen are false and are a reflection on my honesty and integrity. The fact that they have an affidavit by Sam Plott to back up these false charges can surely have no influence since the only time that Sam Plott and I mentioned the case was when Plott congratulated me on the verdict we returned in the case, and he, not I, made the statement that 'we ought to have a law like the Chinese—that of beheading bankers whose banks had failed.'"

"Another charge is very surprising—that of saying that Davis took the bank's money and built a fine home in his wife's name. I have never even known whether Davis had a home in Asheville in either his or his wife's name.

"It is absolutely untrue that the Brevard jury or any member of it stopped at my filling station. The members of that jury will verify this statement.

Representatives of Lea and Davis have visited me sometimes as high as two and three times daily trying to get me to make affidavits for them so they could get a new trial. I never cared to discuss the matter with them and have had absolutely no dealings with them.

"I want the public to know that I did my part as a member of the jury toward giving a fair and impartial verdict in the case and I feel that these charges against me should be withdrawn at once."

Allegations contained in the defendant's petition regarding Flynn follow: "Petitioners aver that they were denied their constitutional and fundamental right to trial before a fair and impartial jury for reasons following, to-wit:

"The juror, Flynn, a member of the venire summoned from Haywood county, and who was selected, sworn and charged as one of the jurors trying petitioners, prior to said trial expressed strong bias and prejudice against petitioners and an opinion touching their guilt or innocence. Prior to his selection as a juror, the said Flynn, who on his examination, stated that he was without bias and could and would give defendants a fair and impartial trial, on numerous occasions prior to said trial discussed the failing of the Central Bank & Trust company in Asheville and the case against Wallace B. Davis and the Leas. In these conversations, and prior to his selection as a juror, said Flynn stated that they were all guilty of robbing the bank and all of them ought to be in the penitentiary, and made the further statement that he

DUKE DAY TO BE HELD AT LAKE ON MONDAY, JULY 18

Willis A. Smith and Dr. W. P. Few Will Be Principal Speakers. 250 TO ATTEND

Final plans are being made for the seventh Duke University Day at Lake Junaluska which is set for Monday, July 18, with one of the most interesting and entertaining programs ever held to be given on that date, according to those in charge of arrangements.

The festivities will start early in the afternoon with the meeting at the auditorium that night bringing the day's activities to a close. At 2:30 an automobile tour of the Great Smokies will be one of the outstanding events, while those not going on the tour will be expected to take part in the many athletic events that are scheduled for the afternoon.

Willis A. Smith, well known here and throughout the state will deliver the principal address of the day. President W. P. Few, of Duke University, will also make an address, which in itself assures the occasion to be a complete success.

At 7:30 p. m. the regular Duke Dinner will be held on the Auditorium grounds. A special fried chicken dinner is being planned which will be served in picnic style. A nominal fee will be charged for each plate. The Junaluska band will furnish the music for the day and will give a special band concert during the picnic hour.

Officials of the Duke Alumni stated that about 250 are expected to be present.

Junaluska Woman's Club Holds Initial Meeting Last Week

The Junaluska Woman's Club, composed of women from all parts of the county summering at the Junaluska Methodist Assembly, held its initial meeting of the 1932 session last week at the boat house tea room. Mrs. S. A. Hearn, president, spoke briefly of the purposes of the club and urged that every effort be made to secure co-operation of the women in fostering the plans of the organization for beautifying the grounds and stimulating a spirit of friendliness and hospitality.

Prof. Andrew Hemphill, of Birmingham, tenor soloist, and Miss Bernice Rea, of Tulsa, Okla., pianist, furnished a program of negro spirituals and piano selections.

The next meeting of the club will be held July 19. The following women were appointed to serve as chairmen of committees for 1932:

Mrs. R. E. Nollner, finance; Mrs. J. B. Preston, entrance; Miss Nell McCles, tea room; Mrs. J. M. Bull, nomination; Miss Frank Miller, chaplain; Mrs. Walter Patten, membership; Mrs. J. M. White, civics; Mrs. Frank Siler, literature; Miss Sadie Leslie, soloist; Miss Pearl Saunders, art.

Mrs. Walter Patten, Miss Sadie Leslie, Mrs. J. Davis and Mrs. Mason Crum were hostesses of Tuesday's meeting.

Large Still Captured And Destroyed Monday

Rowley Pless, deputy sheriff, accompanied by Luther Pless and Waif Trull captured one of the largest still outfits ever taken in Haywood county early Monday morning. The still was in the East Fork section of the county and when found was just ready for its first operation. One hundred and fifty gallons of mash just ready to be placed in the still. Indications were that the outfit had been placed only a few weeks and that it was in shape for the first run to have been made Monday. The still outfit was cut to pieces and the beer and mash destroyed.

Singing Convention To Meet Sunday, July 17

The West Haywood Singing Convention will meet at the Olivet Baptist church at Maggie, Sunday, July 17th, at one thirty in the afternoon. Everybody, especially those interested in and who love good singing, are urged to be present.
