

Premium List for Summer Flower Show Announced

Of keen interest at this season of the year is the prize list and announcement of the annual Flower Show held under the auspices of the Garden Department of the Community Club. The date for the show has been set for August 18th as announced by Miss Carolina Altstetter, the Chairman of the department.

While the growing season has been retarded by the scarcity of rain, a few showers would give the annuals and perennials which are at their height of glory in August, a reviving that would fully develop them. Each year marks an improvement in the exhibits and the hundreds of visitors that view the show annually are proof of the great interest in flowers in this section.

Attention is again called to the prize offered for the most attractive and best constructed bird house, by a boy or girl under the age of sixteen. Last year there were several entries that came too late to be judged. So the committee is urging that all exhibitors regard the hours of entry. After the show is over the bird houses may be sold by the owner if he or she so desires, for their benefit.

HAZELWOOD AGAIN VICTORS OVER ENKA

Hazelwood Ball Club won from Enka Saturday of last week, by a score of 9 to 3. This win gives Hazelwood a stronger hold on top place in the Western North Carolina League, they having won ten games out of eleven played this season. Robinson started the pitching for Enka, but had to be relieved in the sixth inning by Hall, Hazelwood collected 14 hits off the two opposing pitchers. Leading the batters for Hazelwood was Fisher with three out of five, while Burrell and Putnam got two hits each. The Hazelwood boys are hitting consistently this season and it looks now as if it will take more than an ex-Sally League pitcher to stop them. C. Merrill led the Enka batters with three singles out of five trips to the plate. Burrell pitched good ball, allowing the visitors an average of one hit per inning, keeping them well scattered throughout the game.

Baifour will come to Hazelwood Saturday of this week, and will try to duplicate the win which they had over Hazelwood a few weeks back. The Baifour Club has a strong team and all indications are that the game will be hard fought.

VARIETY ADDS SPICE TO PLAIN BISCUITS

How many different kinds of bread do you give your family? The average housewife serves only biscuits, corn bread, and baker's yeast bread. There are so many different hot breads that can be served with very little expense and trouble that we should frequently treat the family to a change.

The easiest way to make plain biscuit is to sift and measure the flour, adding to each cup of self-rising flour 1 level tablespoon of fat and about 1-3 cup sweet milk. That is all that is necessary! If you have never used self-rising flour, try it out. It saves so much time and trouble and is so sure in its results. It is healthful, too, because the baking powder used in it supplies two of the most important minerals the body needs. After you have made the plain biscuit dough you may vary your biscuits in a number of ways.

Orange Tea Biscuits are easy to make, inexpensive, and delicious. Roll the biscuit dough rather thin, cut small biscuits, and in the center of each biscuit put an orange leaf. To make the orange leaf use tablet sugar; rub the sugar on the outside of an orange until one side is well coated with orange oil; break the leaf in two and press the half with the orange side down into the center of the biscuit; put on top of the sugar a small bit of butter and a few drops of orange juice. Bake in a moderately hot oven.

These biscuits can be served at any meal, but are particularly good served with piping hot tea or coffee, for simple refreshments.

Another variation is Fruit Biscuit. For these, also use a plain biscuit dough. Roll the dough very thin and in a rectangular shape; spread with butter; sprinkle with sugar (white or brown), and cinnamon; put on chopped fruit such as dates or raisins; roll like a jelly roll; slice in 3/4-inch slices; bake in a moderate oven. These are good with just the butter, sugar and cinnamon, omitting the fruit. They are certainly a welcome addition to the lunch basket. Extra dough may be mixed when making biscuits for

Iron Duff Township Is Most Unusual Many Different Ways

Iron Duff, although one of the smallest townships, has the most remarkable record in Haywood county, if not Western North Carolina, according to Mr. Frank Davis, who was chosen in the June primary to run for Democratic nomination for a seat on the new board of county commissioners. Mr. Davis said that Iron Duff was no new thing for the people of his township, that his people had always been practicing it, and that was built around the townships that there could be no passing it out, the people could be passing it contentedly, for everything that actually needed for comfort, that of a few things not grown in state, is produced in abundance.

Iron Duff. He mentioned a few things that the township stands out prominently, if not unique, in the state. 1. There is no government loan.

2. Ninety-three per cent of farmers and residents of the township are home owners.

3. One hundred per cent of the are natives of the county.

4. No merchant or other credit organization, has ever lost a penny crediting the people of Iron Duff.

5. No wealthy people live in township. There is no taxpayer who pays more than $250 taxes.

6. Not a colored person lives in township.

7. Out of 136 voters in 1917, township furnished 36 men for World War. Seventy per cent of those went over seas and all of the came back.

8. Not a homicide ever occurred in the township. It has the lowest per cent of court costs in the county.

9. And last but by no means least it has the largest per cent of Democratic votes in the county. In 1932 of 136 votes cast 28 were for Hoover. This year the number of Republican voters will be from 12 to 14.

If any township in Haywood county or in Western North Carolina, could excel this record, the people of Iron Duff will be glad to hear of it.

was named second vice-commander of the state organization.

This distinct honor and his popularity among the Legion members of Western North Carolina was denoted by the nominating speaker in his behalf by Dr. F. M. Davis, Canton, and his nomination was seconded by Henry F. Cooper, of Murphy both of whom lauded the work accomplished by Mr. Kinsland during time he was commander of the Canton post.

The many friends of Mr. Kinsland of Haywood county rejoice with him on his appointment to the state office.
