SUNDAY'S Sunday School Lesson The Tent Of Meeting

L. M. RICHESON, Teacher Adult Bible Class, Hazelwood Presbyterian Church.

(Ed. note—Every week there will appear in The Mountaineer the Sunday School lesson written by some prominent church worker in the county. If there is someone in your community that teaches interesting lessons the publishers would appreciate having their names in order that we may arrange to have them contribute an article on the lesson soon. If you appreciate this column please drop us a line telling us so.)

From Exodus:—Chapter 33, verses 7 to 16.

Subject:—The Tent of Meeting

In our last two lessons we have had the giving of the Ten Commandments by God to Moses.

Moses lingered on the Mount of Sinai for further revelations and for the two tables of stone written by the fingers of God. While Moses was on this errand which was most important to his Nation, he left Aaron, his older brother, in charge of the people. The people appealed to Aaron to make them a Golden Calf to worship and to allow them to worship such an idol. Aaron yielded and proved to be a weakling at this juncture. He failed miserably in the confidence placed upon him by Moses.

Aaron thought he had done what the people requested of him, he played to Public Opinion:—What is the duty of the Statesman, the Teacher or the individual man as regard to Public Opinion? To create it, to mould it, to instruct it, to resist it, to endure it? But man should never justify one word or deed to accomplish anything that he does not believe to be true and right in itself for the sake of satisfying Public Opinion.

When Moses returned from the Summit of Sinai he was angry at finding the people worshipping the Idol Golden Calf, he destroyed the Idol, rebuked Aaron. God was about to withdraw His presence from Israel, but at length renewed His covenant with Israel as Moses established in the Tent of Meeting a place for public worship and himself engaged in Prayer.

Moses placed a large tent, some distance from where the people lived and called it the Tabernacle of the Congregation or a Tent of Worship. It is true that God will meet Man somewhere, in his house, on the streets, in his place of business, but isn't it true that man is often too busy to meet God in such places while in the Church or Tent of Meeting Man is more apt to meet God because all objects and associations and memories direct the mind of God.

So the Church of today must be as that established by Moses, a Place of Pause, a Place of Revelation and Teaching, a Place of Service, and a place of PRAYER.

As Moses entered the Tent of Worship, the Pillar of Cloud descended, a barrier to all but Moses for all others had shown themselves to be unworthy of this access to God and the people saw this Pillar of Cloud which was a constant Token of God's Presence before them and the people rose up and worshipped every man at his Tent Door, not to the Pillar but to the God whose Symbol it was. And God spoke to Moses face to face and Moses prayed to God for Guidance as he had been commissioned to lead the Israelites from Egypt to Canaan. He prayed for knowledge, he prayed for grace as it was more important to have favor in the sight of God than favor in the sight of Israel. He prayed for remembrance. He prayed for companionship, he needed God every step of the way to Canaan. Without God there was nothing to live for and no worthy goal ahead.

So to Commune with God, we must have a place of Communion, a Purpose of Communion, the Power of Communion, a Program of Communion, all of which was found in the Tent of Worship established by Moses and why not make our Church of today more like the Tent of Moses by removing from this Sanctuary petty jealousies, rivalry, politics, gossip and the like which have no place if the 1932 Church would be like that as established by Moses in the Tent of Meeting.
