North Carolina Buys Coal For 5 Cents A Ton

Raleigh, N. C.—North Carolina purchased coal as low as 5 cents a ton for some of its institutions during the summer, it is announced here by the Department of Purchase and Contract. All the coal purchased at these prices is slack but will be useful for heating purposes.

Nine hundred tons were purchased at 5 cents a ton for an institution located in Raleigh. For the State College for Women at Greensboro, 1650 tons were purchased at 15 cents, while 7100 tons were secured for the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, at Raleigh, at 25 cents a ton. Six thousand tons at 45 cents were contracted for institutions in the western section of the State.

Trying out a new plan of selling, Craven farmers sold 174 fat hogs at the car door for cash at the low price of $3.65 a hundred which was 65 cents below the top at Richmond. Net cash returns will determine future sales of this kind.

Large Crowd Hears Ehringhaus Present Issues Of Campaign

is decreasing the national debt is increasing daily.

"This state is paying less for government than any state in the union with the exception of one, and we are also paying 2-25 of the entire federal tax income, and this has been increased during the administration of Mr. Hoover," he said.

"An ideal government must have the welfare of the people at heart, and that we pledge you," he emphasized as he brought his address to a close.

Ehringhaus said that he was "feeling very good" although he was somewhat hoarse from speaking two and three times a day. He is now speaking against the orders of his doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ehringhaus arrived here late Wednesday afternoon during one of the hardest rains here this year.

He left here this morning for Bryson City where he is scheduled to make an address at noon.

2 1/2 Billions of Hoarded Dollars Now Returning Into Regular Trading Channels

Washington.—A potential credit reservoir of approximately $2,500,000,000 has been made available to finance American industry through a return flow of currency which has been hoarded.

The federal reserve board announced last night it had estimated the actual return of money to active circulation at $250,000,000 since July 20. Based on the usual estimate that one dollar of actual currency represents about $10 in the credit power, the board estimate was interpreted as indicating the ready availability of new billions for American industry.

"This estimate," the board said, "is based on the fact that the amount of money in circulation declined by over $130,000,000 at a time when it usually increases by more than $110,000,000."

The board also reported a decline in bank failures, only 65 institutions closing their doors during September, the smallest number since the 47 in March, 1932, which in turn was the smallest for the two-year period 1931-32.

Deposits of closed banks amounted to but $16,008,000 as against deposits of $13,623,000 in reopening banks.

This standing of the banking structure is regarded by treasury and reserve board officials as one of the most optimistic signs on the financial horizon. It has been repeatedly used as an index to indicate a generally more hopeful tone in business and financial circles. It is an undoubted factor in the decrease in hoarding.

Aged Lady, 84, Is Baptized Here Sunday

The baptism Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the First Baptist church of Miss Anna DeGolly, 84, marked an event of most unusual occurrence according to statistics concerning the age at which people join the church.

After the death of her twin brother, James R. DeGolly, on October 8, 1932, in the Mauney Cove near Waynesville, Miss DeGolly has been quite feeble and some days ago, sent for Rev. H. W. Baucum, pastor of the First Baptist church, to come to see her. At the interview, she expressed a desire to join the church. Mr. Baucum brought the matter to the attention of the church in conference Sunday morning and, without the presence of the aged woman, the church accepted her as a candidate for baptism. Within two hours after being received for membership, she was on her way to the church for baptism. She was baptized in the presence of about twenty-five people who had gathered.

Thirty-two years ago, she and her twin brother, James R. DeGolly, both of Dutch ancestry, came here and purchased a farm from Kinsey Howell in the Mauney Cove upon which they lived. Both had been school teachers in Pennsylvania. Before his death about two weeks ago, Mr. DeGolly deeded his farm to C. R. Limer on condition that he would take care of himself and his sister as long as they both should live. Mr. Limer has been most kind and considerate of them. Miss DeGolly now resides with Mr. Limer.

A sale of pure bred Hereford beef cattle has been scheduled by Madison County farmers for Friday, November 11, at Marchall.

The North Carolina State Grange will meet in Davidson County next year where there are 16 subordinate granges with a membership of 850 persons.

Caldwell County farmers have received the cooperation of the townspeople in establishing a curb market at Lenoir.

Three years ago a brood sow could hardly be found in the Parks Spring community of Caswell County, says John R. Bowles. Now there are 15 on more.

Mrs. Frills: "Now that I have engaged you, Bridget, I am going to begin right away to give you a little training in the art of waiting on guests. You see, my daughter is coming out next month—"

Bridget: "Indeed, mum! How long was she sinit up for?"

Lady of House: "No, we don't want no books, nor we don't want no calendars. We don't want nothing."

Hawker: "What about a cheap grammar?"
