

SUNDAY'S Sunday School Lesson STEWARDSHIP OF MONEY

Golden Text—They first gave their own selves to the Lord. Lesson Text—Mark 1: 16-20; Acts 26:12-19.

SCRIPTURE King James Version

Mark 1: 16. Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 17. And Jesus said unto them, come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men. 18. And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him. 19. And when he had gone a little farther thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John, his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets. 20. And straightway he called them; and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with hired servants, and went after him. Acts 26: 12. Whereupon as I went to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, 13. At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me. 14. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. 15. And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. 16. But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen and of those things in which I will appear unto thee: 17. Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee. 18. To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me. 19. Whereupon O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision. OUTLINE OF THE LESSON Mark 1:16-20; Acts 26:12-19 I. Jesus Calls Men of Toil (Mark 1:16-18.) 1. He can magnify their calling (16.) 2. He can use their natural gifts (17.) 3. Immediate response is pleasing (18.) II. Jesus Needs Men Who are Busy (Mark 1:19-20.) 1. Indications in Raleigh Are That Sales Tax Act Is Strong

Accumulated Deficit of $11,000,000 Cut In 15 Cent Tax Factors

RALEIGH.—With the state government facing an accumulated deficit of $11,865,000 at the end of this present fiscal year and with the incoming governor and most of the members of the general assembly pledged to remove the 15 cents state property tax for the six-months school term, the opinion is growing here that the enactment of some kind of a sales tax is almost inevitable. The general belief is also that this sales tax, since most of those who are familiar with the needs of the state and its dwindling revenues agree that neither a general or luxury sales tax will yield enough revenue to take care of those needs and balance the budget.

In order to pay off the accumulated deficit of $11,865,000 and remove the 15 cents property tax, supposed to yield $4,500,000, the legislature will have to find $16,365,000 in new revenue, it is pointed out. And if it should try to do what the school people of the state want and provide a state supported eight months school term with no tax on property a total of $20,865,000 in new revenue would be needed.

It is generally conceded, however, that it will be impossible to pay this deficit and balance the budget out of current revenue and that the deficit of $11,865,000 will have to be funded by a bond issue. But even if that is done, the legislature will still have to find $9,000,000 in new money in order to remove the 15 cents property tax and provide for two more months of schooling. Few here believe the general assembly will consider adding two more months to the school term except by a state wide property tax, which would abolish all district taxes for the extended term.

But that still leaves $4,500,000 which must be provided from other than taxes on property, merely to remove the 15 cents tax. Most observers here believe that even a combination general and luxury sales tax will not produce much more than the $4,500,000 needed to do this. When the historic sales tax fight was on in the 1931 general assembly, the friends of the general sales tax maintained it would produce about $9,000,000 and the luxury tax bankers claimed it would produce from $7,000,000 to $8,000,000 a year. But figures obtained since that time show that neither of these taxes would have produced more than $3,500,000 or $4,000,000 a year at most. With business in its present state and sales admittedly lower than in years, it is now believed that a combination of both the general and luxury taxes, with a substantial state tax on cigarettes, cigars and tobacco products, as well as on soft drinks, theatre admissions, candy, chewing gum, peanuts and many other articles, will now be necessary.

It is apparent already that there will be some opposition to the removal of the 15 cents property tax. A good many people, especially in the Piedmont and western counties are already convinced that the 15 cents property tax will cost them much less in the end than a sales tax. A determined effort from a number of senators and representatives to keep the 15 cents tax is consequently to be expected. It is also generally conceded that most of the members of the general assembly in the state will fight any kind of general sales tax because they realize it will drive business into Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and South Carolina and to mail-order houses in Chicago and New York. It is not believed that a majority in either house will approve of a tax on food and clothing and the so-called necessities.

Most of the members of the house from the eastern counties are still in favor of a luxury or selected commodities tax, just as they were in 1931, according to reports heard here. It is to be expected, of course, that the large tobacco companies, the druggists, the bottlers, and the majority of the merchants will fight any luxury tax that will put a tax on cigarettes, tobacco products, soft drinks, cosmetics, and similar items. These groups will undoubtedly, with the exception of the merchants, throw the influence in favor of a general sales tax. But the bulk of opinion here now is that eventually all groups will have to get together and accept a selected commodity tax that will touch all of these groups.

Business is to Use Our Business Ability for the Saviour (Mark 1:16) —Our longing and our ideal are that we may be like Jesus. One day we shall see Him as he is and he will be ashamed to confess us, but he has worked for us to do in his kingdom. We are laborers. We are witnesses. We are apostles. We are ambassadors. We must keep busy while it is day, for the night cometh, souls are lost and perishing, and if we expect to have any share in seeking and saving the lost, we must take our privilege seriously. 2. Straightway Obedience is Becoming in Stewards. 3. Stewardship is Required of Those Who Have Others in Their employ—perhaps the stewardship of life may best manifest itself in serving those who serve us. 4. Darkest Hour May be the Time Just Before the Greatest Blessings. "Shall claim of death cause us to grieve, And make our courage faint or frail? Nay! Let us faith and hope receive; The rose still grows beyond the wall." Father—"And you think you will be able to give my daughter all she wants?" Sutor—"Yes, she says she only wants me."—Tit-Bits.

North Carolina Now Has Twelve Legal Holidays

Legal holidays, when all the banks usually close and school children get a day off, are comparatively "new things" in North Carolina.

A half century ago there wasn't a legal holiday in the state, but in 1881 the legislature got busy and created seven. Today there are an even dozen. The legislature of 1907 set aside as a legal holiday "the day after the first Monday in November when a general election is held."

Although New Year's Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day have been observed in the state as general holidays from the beginning, it was the 1881 legislature that made them legal.

The other three added to the list at that time were: February 22, George Washington's birthday anniversary; May 10, Confederate Memorial Day, and May 20, anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

Ten years later, January 19, the birthday of General Robert E. Lee, was made a legal holiday. In 1889 Labor Day was added to the list. The 12th of April, the anniversary of the Halifax resolutions, was included by the act of the 1909 legislature.

The last legal holiday created followed the World War. The general assembly of 1919 designated that November 11 be appropriately celebrated and observed as the anniversary of the end of the World War.

MR. AND MRS. THOS. B. REED

"Sargon has brought health, strength and happiness to both my wife and me and I would not take all the money in the world for the good it has done us," declared Thomas B. Reed, well-to-do farmer and lumberman, residing at 919 Holmes street, Kansas City, Mo. "Five years ago when on the train going from Bonnsana, Canada, to Calgary, I had a severe attack of acute indigestion and nobody thought I would live to reach my destination. When I came to myself I was in the hospital at Calgary. "Since then I have suffered constantly from bilious attacks and splitting headaches that lasted for days at a time. Everything I ate disagreed with me. I had smothering spells that made me think I would die. I would get so dizzy I could hardly stand up, and I was constipated all the time. I was nervous and did not get a good night's sleep for years. Many nights I would get up and sit in a chair for hours. "Sargon made a well man of me. My nerves are steady as a die and I sleep like a boy. My old-time strength has returned and I have gained 15 pounds. I feel fine all the time." "Sargon helped my wife, who is the mother of 13 children, the same way. She has actually gained 15 pounds in weight and feels better and stronger than in many years." Mr. Reed was formerly a worshipful master in the Masonic order and Mrs. Reed is a beloved member of the Methodist Church. Sargon may be obtained at WAYNESVILLE PHARMACY
