LIBRARY NEWS

New books to be placed on the Library shelves this week include the much discussed and much sought after book of Sinclair Lewis "Anne Vickers." Also "Songs," by Pearl S. Buck. Those who read her book "The Good Earth" with absorbing interest must not fail to read the latest book of this gifted writer.

Now that we are hearing a little more every day of the possibility, some think, the probability of Germany again becoming a monarchy, everyone will want to read Emil Ludwig's book "Wilhelm Hohenzollern," "The Last of the Kaisers." These are not all of the new books to be put in circulation this week, and next month more of the most sought after books will be ready for our readers.

DON'T GET UP NIGHTS

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasing to take in the form of BUCKETS, the bladder physic, also containing buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

"The Waynesville Pharmacy, says BUCKETS is a best seller."

Judge Alley Given Welcome At Opening Of Buncombe Court

Brief exercises extending a welcome to the newly-appointed Judge, Felix Alley, of Waynesville, in the superior court, were held in a hall Monday as the February civil term got under way and Judge Alley was seated for his first time.

Judge Alley Weaver, president of the Buncombe county bar association, by presiding over the court, took charge of the proceedings. Appropriate remarks were made by Judge Weaver and several members of the Buncombe county bar. Judge Alley responded in a brief address in which he expressed his appreciation for the numerous expressions of friendship received since his appointment.

Judge Alley's remarks in part follow:

"No words of mine will adequately express my appreciation of the kind words that have been said of me by the gentlemen who have spoken. Your attendance here this morning in such large numbers portends, I think, the continued success of the spring term of your superior court. If I shall be able to meet the exacting requirements of this high office, my duties with feelings of trepidation and misgivings. That I shall make many mistakes I have no doubt; but with a mind open to conviction I shall have the courage to reverse myself as often as I may be convinced that I have erred."

MRS. R. S. SENTELL DIES AT HENDERSONVILLE HOME

The Mountaineer learned over long distance Wednesday morning from Hendersonville, that Mrs. R. S. Sentell of that city, passed away late Tuesday night.

Funeral services will be held at 11:00 Thursday morning.

Mary had a little lamb, A regular go-getter, But it wandered into Wall Street And now it needs a sweater!

The wearied and haggard shop assistant had been kept busy so long by an importunate customer that eventually he demanded: "Madam, are you shopping here?" "Certainly," retorted the woman. "Oh," went on the assistant, "I thought you were taking an inventory."
