"Medium Sort Of In-Between Tariffs" Needed, 10-Year-Old Girl Tells Roosevelt

PHILADELPHIA—What 10-year-old Anne Caner thinks this country needs is "medium sort of in-between tariffs," and she's the proud possessor of documentary evidence that the Roosevelt Administration agrees with her.

Tariffs, which she has reading about in school, kept Anne awake nights, so she wrote to President Roosevelt about them. She received a reply May 22 from Sidney Morgan, secretary of the Tariff Commission, calling her a good citizen and telling her lots about the vexing problem.

The letter was accompanied by a stack of books and pamphlets which Anne intends to read "as soon as I get a dictionary."

Telling Anne that her "medium sort of in-between" tariffs are "just what we are all looking for," Secretary Morgan said losing sleep over the subject is "nothing to be alarmed about."

"Many older people have had the same experience," he wrote.

Anne's letter, which neither of her parents knew she had written, began: "I am 10 years old and I'm in the fifth grade. At the school I go to we have weekly readers. In one of them I read about tariffs."

"I haven't slept very well because they're all I can think of. Now I'll begin. If we have high tariffs, business will become worse. On the other hand, if we have low tariffs every country will be trading and things will be better, but soon the countries will be wanting to trade but can't, why? Because they all will have the same things to trade. There! What will be done then? Business will be worse than ever."

"I think medium sort of in-between tariffs ought to be had. What do you think? (You may think this letter the funniest thing in the world but I mean business.)"

"Your humble servant,"

"Anne Caner."

"P. S. Hoping to hear from you in the future."

Cinnamon Toast Is Tea-Time Variation By Jane Rogers

WHEN a friend or two drops in unannounced and informally at tea time, do not be alarmed if the cookie jar is empty and the cake box vacant. Cinnamon toast is one of the most delicious accompaniments to the hospitable afternoon cup of tea and the materials for it are always in the kitchen.

Sugar, too, is a highly efficient quick energy food and the sweet browned coating will supply fresh vigor for the rest of the day's work.

If the children are at home, cinnamon toast with a glass of milk will make a wholesome and nourishing afternoon snack, and they'll love it.

This is the way I have always made it:

Cinnamon Toast

Cut and toast slices of bread. Spread them with butter and sprinkle generously with a mixture of cinnamon and sugar—two tablespoons of cinnamon to the cup of sugar. Place the slices in the oven close to the flame. When the sugar has melted and bubbles slightly, remove the toast from the oven and cut off the crusts.

Western Railroad Ready To Try Out Motor Train To Do 110 Miles An Hour

CHICAGO.—With a revolutionary type of railroad train borrowing its design from the airplane and the streamline automobile, and capable of a top speed of 110 miles an hour and a sustained speed of 90 miles, the Union Pacific Railroad hopes to win back lost traffic to the rails.

In plans announced today this railroad verified rumors extant for some time that the rail people were putting their heads together to develop something radically new in the way of equipment, and that the new train has been developed to the point it was said in the announcement, where its construction can begin at once and it can be put into service within six months.

The whole train which consists of three cars hinged together into a long tubular rocket-shaped train which looks like it is made of one piece, is described as weighing no more than a regular type Pullman car. Its construction is to be of aluminum or a light-weight stainless steel, the shape streamlined to avoid unnecessary wind resistance so maximum speed can be attained at minimum effort. A 600-horse-power internal combustion engine, located in the front car will give the power.

Completely equipped with modern roller bearings and with liberal use of rubber in the trucks and probably a new type of resilient wheel, the train is designed to ride smoother than anything yet known. Being completely sealed, cooled in summer and warmed in winter by an air conditioning system, it will furnish travel comfort par excellence.

Present plans do not include sleeping facilities, although they will be included in trains to be designed later. It is said. The first train is to be used on daylight run, on parts of the Chicago to California route.

To get the full effects of streamlining, which is carried to a further extent than has ever been attempted either in this country or Europe, according to the announcement, all devices such as headlights, tail lights, whistles, bells, etc., are recessed into the body, and windows are flush with the train.
