MARTIN-FRICKS
 Celebrated by beauty and dignity was the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Martin and John Franklin Fricks which took place yesterday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Methodist church. Rev. A. W. Lynch, assisted by Rev. Wade Johnson, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. For the occasion the aisle on either side was decorated with tall pines, the altar rail was covered in white over which were placed tall pines and tall yuccas and the choir loft tall yuccas and pines. Floor standards of hydrangea completed the beautiful setting for the marriage vows.

Prizes were given to the couple having highest score each week and a grand prize or trophy will be given to the winners at the close of the tournament, August 30. An additional prize will be given to the players having the highest score during the eight weeks of games.

The merchants of Waynesville are contributing these lovely and acceptable gifts. The prizes and those contributing are as follows: 1. A box of candy, given by Alexander's Drug Store; 2. Basket of fruit, by American Fruit Stand; 3. Double deck of Congress Cards, by Aiken Gift Shop; 4. Inlaid wood bridge box, by Erkraft Industries; 5. Gordon hose, by Massie Department Store; 6. Basket of Fruit, by Joe Mormino; 7. Water wave hair set, Ruth Ray's Beauty Shop; 8. Smoking table, by Sluder-Garrett Furniture Co.; 9. One dinner, by W. N. C. Cafe; 10. Bottle of White Shoe Polish, by Service Shoe Shop; 11. Car washed, by Haywood Garage; 12. Box of Evening in Paris powder, perfume and lipstick, by Smith's Drug Co.; 13. Three beer mugs, by Waynesville Book Store; 14. A novelty tape line, by Waynesville Pharmacy; 15. One Lady's or Man's suit cleaned, by Waynesville Laundry; 16. Pottery, by Ray's Variety Store; 17. One hundred pounds of ice, by Waynesville Ice Co.; 18. Ash tray, by Martin Electric Co.; 19. Puncture repaired, by Davis-Boyd Motor Co.; 20. One square meal, by The New Carolina Cafe; 21. Cake, by J. BELLE MEADE AFFAIRS PROVE ENJOYABLE
 Much social interest is centered in the affairs at Belle Meade Tea Room. A series of delightful affairs have taken place in the past week and several others are scheduled for the weeks to come.

The first square dance, which was held on last Thursday evening, proved most enjoyable and as a result a Square Dance Club has been organized, with officers to be elected this evening. Square dances will be held each Thursday evening during the summer. Members of the club and others are invited to be present.

One of the most successful and delightful affairs this week was the dinner-dance held on Tuesday night for the young social set. About forty young people were present on this occasion. A delicious meal was served, followed by dancing until a late hour.

Another interesting weekly event is the Wednesday afternoon bridge party. On yesterday afternoon four tables were assembled for contract. Mrs. Robert Stretcher, Mrs. E. B. Camp, Mrs. Charles Hard, and Mrs. C. M. Deus were hostesses at one table each. Attractive prizes were given at each table and refreshments were served.

Each Sunday evening a spaghetti supper is served at the Tea Room and many are finding this a pleasant way to entertain their friends. On last Sunday about thirty guests enjoyed the supper.
