The prize for this second week's contest in The Mountaineer "Error Page" went to Miss Stephanie Moore, of Lake Junaluska. The decision was given Miss Moore by the judges because of the original manner in which she set in her answers to the misspelled words.

About as much interest was shown the second week of the contest as the first week. A great number of poems were sent in.

The hardest word in last week's page seemed to "Waynesville" in the advertisement of the First National Bank. Almost a dozen who sent in answers overlooked the "v" being missing.

Again this week the page is being run and the $2.50 will again be awarded to some person finding seven misspelled words and sending them in before next Monday noon. Remember neatness and originality is always considered by the judges.

Miss Moore's answers were submitted in the form of a story with the misspelled words used as a basis for the "plot."
