BROWSING AROUND WITH THE UPPER TEN

I was invited out for lunch at a restaurant in the city. Nothing but a crowd of people was waiting for me. I was in a hurry and did not have time to look at the menu. I was in a hurry and did not have time to look at the menu.

The folks sitting around me seemed to be of a different class. They were dressed in expensive clothes and were talking about the latest fashion.

All these folks were in a hurry. They were talking about the latest fashion and the latest news. They were in a hurry and did not have time to look at the menu.

DENIM JONES' NUPHIALS

Denim Jones, a well-known local politician, has recently married. The ceremony was held in a grand hall in the city.

The bride and groom were surrounded by a large number of guests. The ceremony was a grand affair.

Ten Graduate From Fines Creek School

Superintendent Safford Reports That School Had Successful Year, With 500 Students

School finals were held at the Fines Creek high school last Friday night, when Mrs. E. L. McKee, of Sylva, delivered the graduation address. Ten graduates received their diplomas.

Fred L. Safford, superintendent, said that this had been a most successful year. There were approximately 500 enrolled during the past year, and the work was carried on by 16 teachers.

The elementary exercises were held last Wednesday night, and the senior play, "Dust of the Earth" was received by the large audience.

Those receiving diplomas were: Lucy James, Blida Fisher, Marguerite Clark, Katherine Greene, Shirley Bramlett, Paul Ferguson, Robert Ferguson, Carl Hannah, Roger McElroy and Athal Holder.

Charles Dickens' Masterpiece--"THE LIFE OF OUR LORD," illustrated and illuminated for permanent preservation. Four-page supplement, in colors, with the BALTIMORE SUNDAY AMERICAN. Buy your copy from your favorite newsdealer or newsboy.
