The flower girls were the nieces of Mr. James.

200 C. C. Boys Arrive In Haywood County

Two hundred men for Camp P-17, located at Black Camp Gap on the edge of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, about 16 miles from here, arrived by special train Monday night at 9:30 o'clock and were carried to the camp in trucks. W. C. Phillips, of this place, project superintendent, met them at the depot and went with them to the camp.

The camp site is the old Camp No. 1 of the Suncrest Lumber company at Black Camp Gap and was used by the lumber company in its operations here prior to 1928 when condemnation proceedings for possession of lands by the State Park Commission were begun. The site of the camp is now owned by J. R. Boyd, president of the First National Bank here. The buildings used by the lumber company have been repaired and others constructed for the accommodation of the 200 men and the foremen and other officers.

Work projects for the campers have been planned, consisting of trails in the boundaries of the park and work upon, or near, the proposed tourist center at Flat Creek.

First Lieutenant W. H. Armstrong, of Chattanooga, Tenn., of the 33rd Infantry, is the commanding officer; First Lieutenant L. P. Hinson, Sumpter, S. C., 327th Infantry, is the adjutant; W. L. Glaze, Orangeburg, is the educational director; and W. C. Phillips, Waynesville, is the camp superintendent.

An advance contingent of 24 men came in last Sunday night by truck from Somerville, S. C. A second contingent of 158 came in by special train Monday night about 9:30 o'clock and were taken to the camp in army trucks.

The official designation of the camp is 443rd company CCC., N. C.,NP-17. Lieutenant Armstrong said that the men will be kept busy for a considerable time getting the camp conditioned for sanitary living conditions, plumbing in good order, and the buildings in good shape. He stated that a thorough organization will be perfected, but as for the work projects he was unable to say what would be undertaken first. He said the equipment at this time includes eight forestry trucks and two army trucks.

The enrollees are all from points in South Carolina.

Mrs. Charles Badgett, Jr. returned Monday from Knoxville, Tennessee where she spent a week with Mr. Badgett. She was accompanied home by Mrs. C. S. Badgett, Sr., who is spending several days here and in Asheville.

Two Thousand People In Crowd That Got Returns Saturday Night

A conservative estimate made by several different citizens Monday showed that at least two thousand people were present to get the returns from The Mountaineer and loud speaking system operated by Martin Electric Company last Saturday night.

The largest crowd was between twelve and one o'clock when the majority of the returns were received.

Shortly after six o'clock the Soco Gap String Band began their entertainment over the loud speaking system and continued until eight thirty. The first returns were received about 8:30 o'clock, and until four all except the South Ward in Waynesville, Big Creek and Cataloochee had reported.

Several people said it was the largest crowd ever assembled on Main street here. The loud speaking system was placed on the sidewalk in front of The Mountaineer all the way to the courthouse steps.

Large figures were used so that they could be easily read at a distance of several hundred feet and the loud speaking system enabled those on the edge of the crowd to hear the returns as soon as received. The crowd this year exceeded that of 1932 by about 500 people.

More than a hundred were present at six o'clock Sunday morning, and throughout all Sunday several dozen stayed in front of the board, while a large number of cars stopped to get the latest news. All day Monday and Tuesday interested parties either came over the phone or visited The Mountaineer office to get the latest returns. When the Big Creek vote was received, which was late, but more than [illegible] turned out to get the vote.

7600 Votes Cast In Prmary Saturday

Commissioner

JARVIS H. ALLISON

Mr. Allison led the field in the race for County Commissioner in which 15 were candidates. He received 2211 votes.

Several Close Votes Recorded Bailey Has Only 27 Margin Over Crawford For Representative

More than 7600 Haywood voters went to the polls last Saturday and cast votes in what was the largest election ever held in this county, exceeding the record breaking vote in 1932 by over 1,300 votes.

The board of election on Wednesday morning completed their official check of the votes and declared the following as high men in the races:

Judge, Felix E. Alley.
Representative, J. T. Bailey.
Sheriff, J. C. Welch.
Chairman of county board, W. A. Hyatt.
Board of education, R. T. Messer, Homer Cagle, and John Best.
Councilor Waynesville Township, George Cagle.
Deputy Constable, John Kerley.

The race for representative was uncertain until the last precinct had reported as Bailey and Walter Crawford ran neck-and-neck with few votes of each other until the very last, with Bailey leading by 27 votes.

In the sheriff race, [illegible] was counted between Rogers and Welch. These two candidates ran close and it was not until South Waynesville was heard from that Welch took a lead of about 500 majority.

Congressman Zebulon Weaver piled up a vote of 5,153, while his three opponents received 2,269. The candidates, being Owens, 625, Atkinson 187 and Mullikin 1,460.

George Cobb led the field in the constable race, getting about 250 majority over the next high man, George Buchanan. The official vote for constable in this township was as follows:

Cobb, 952; Mills, 120; Davis, 367; Buchanan, 685; McHone, 333; Moore, 78.

John Kerley received 1,239 votes while his opponent, Bob Ray, got 975.

Election officials said that if the rain that fell during the first part of the afternoon had not interfered that the vote would have been several hundred more.

Because of the close votes in several of the races there has been much speculation here as to whether or not there will be a second primary called. Although none of the candidates eligible to call a second primary had a statement to make to the press this week it was learned from a reliable source that "indications were that one would be called." It is the general belief that if one candidate calls a second primary that almost every race will be drawn into the fight.

In the event a second primary is held, it will be held on Saturday, June 30th. The candidates have five days to file for the second race.

Haywood Institute Pupils And Teachers To Meet July 28

Plans are underway for a homecoming of the students and teachers of the Old Haywood Institute on Saturday, July 28, at the building and grounds in Clyde.

Several committees have been appointed and are arranging for the program in the morning and continue through the day with a formal dinner that night. A picnic dinner will be a feature of the noon meal.

Those who are interested in the reunion and expect to attend should get in touch with either of the following persons within the next few days: Miss Bessie McClure, Waynesville, Route Two; Miss Frances Justice, Clyde or Mrs. Jimmie Bolt 850 Merrimon Avenue, Asheville.

One American of every 318 normally gainfully employed is on actual strike or committed to walk out of his place of employment in the near future, a survey of labor conditions in the nation's industrial center disclosed recently.

Mr. W. T. Denton will return today from Spartanburg, South Carolina where he attended the Southern Hotel ware Convention.
