

Nobody's Business

By GEE MCGEE

SWISH SWISH!!

I am connected with our local school system. I do not have much to do in the matter of hiring or firing or harboring teachers, but I am frequently approached by persons desiring to be a member of our faculty of about 100 professors, tutors, and so forth.

A few days ago, a beautiful little butterfly-type dandy breezed into my office, loaded down with diplomas, letters of recommendation, and testimonials. Her fingernails were painted a lovely bright red; the sandals she had on exposed her bare feet to view in a peek-a-boo manner, and her toenails were all dolled up in a coat of light pink paint.

Her cheeks were crimson, thanks to the work of nature to the extent of 10 per cent and work of paint 90 per cent. She had on some clothes, but when she stood betwixt me and the sun I blushed from Dan to Beersheba, as old as I am. In addition to the 8 ounces of rayon wearing-apparel she was adorned in a string of beads, 2 ear-bobs as big as walnuts, a cute wrist watch that looked like a life saver, and a belt that never touched nothing.

She depicted present-day college life in its richest and rudest form. She had just finished at Goyonder and modeled in Math. She was prepared to teach anything from Science to the Einstein theory, but preferred to work in the first grade, or kindergarten, provided she had a "garden" in her system. She chewed gum at the rate of about 145 chaws per minute, but did not keep her eyes from looking and glistening like unto diamonds.

She had her "Zams" but 2 weeks before, and the memory of those Zams and the problems and questions were a nightmare to her with the initials. But she passed, thanks to a fairly wealthy Daddy. She seemed to be on very well. She "seated" the ladies on my vest several times, counting her nimble fingers up and down my chest with perfect harmony. (Am glad my wife was at home when she most women ought to be when ladies call to see "hubby" at his office.)

After admiring her for 15 or 20 minutes, I explained that I regretted very much indeed (sniff-sniff) to inform her that I was not on the teachers' committee, and had nothing much to do with the schools except to try to look after financial side of them. I directed her (passed the buck as it were) to the chairman of the proper committee and the Superintendent of Schools. Good! If I could have had a sweetheart that looked like her when I was around 19, I would have died an unnatural death the first time I held her hand. I don't think she's going to teach here, so I heard.

A TRUE STATEMENT
flat rock, s. c., June 9, 1934.
dear Mr. editor:
I sent myself to rite you about the terrible wreck I got mixed up with a few nights ago, me and my wife's cousin, and nobody else but us, were coming from south georgia in a truck about mid-night one rainy morning, and I had dozed off to sleep.

When I woke up, I was in a hospitable in Augusta, Georgia, with 16 stitches already took in the front of my head, just above my eye-balls, and 4 more stitches sowed in my stummiack, and my left leg was bound up in a plaster of paris, France, also about 4 doctors and 5 trained nurses were standing round my corpse.

My wife's cuzzin, who was doing the driving, escaped unharmed except for 17 or 20 bad bruises and bumps and loss of blood, but where he got hurt the worst was his truck was scattered over a very large portion of such georgy farmlands, and the load of sweet potato slips him and I was hauling was still falling when daylight come. he was awake, so he said when the wreck took place.

Here's how it happened, so he informed the highway cop who was at home asleep, as usual; "me and mike was bounding them along at about 50 m. p. h., on a nice-smooth straight paved road when a fool shot out from a side road at 74 m. p. h. and mike and I struck him betwixt his back winder and his radius rod. they had not found his engine a-tall the next day at dinner time."

We had the awfulest wreck ever was for nobody not to get killed, somebody told my friends that saw-dust and butter-milk poured out of my head for 5 hours, where it got split, but I don't believe a word of it. It seems that I have got about as much sense now as I had before, which is a heap more than some other folks; I know who's holding down some big political jobs.

I laid in bed with my face klivered up, and my limbs in a swing for 4 weeks which he caused, to pay every thing, including my corpse, fixing days, and then went up town, the fellow who nearly killed me promised creating the settlement at the up hill's truck 200,000 potato slips, and north, but we found out the next day that he addent own nothing but the down payment on his foot and the clothes he had on his back which he booted off of his brother, a man paid an office and able to tell this true tall.
