FLAT ROCK NEWS

A lawn party was held by the moonbeams of reboher in honor of the sunbeams in the front yard of the pasture last Friday night and a good time was had by all. A nice cracker course was served with punch.

The remains of Jerry tinker which was expected to be shipped to flat rock for a funeral did not arrive on the morning train from Texas as per the telegram to holsum moore. It turned out that the corpse got better shortly after the wife was sent, he is still alive. He is a step-son of Mrs. Hadda Fall. Everybody was disappointed and had to throw away their flowers ansforth.

The dog which was run over by a wecker-less driver this morning in front of the post office was imported from cuby and had a long pedigree. The owner of him, bert rushton, is suing the truck for 25$ and punitive damages. He paid 10$ extra for his pedigree. The dog was innocent of getting hurt and was tending to his own bizness trying to ketch acat.

Whoever wore off a fine stettson hat made out of panny-maw from the lodge hall thursday night which belongs to yore corry spondent, mr. mike Clark, rfd. and has his name engraved on the band thereof. Will please return same and get his cheap 10-cent stear hat. It looks more like a steal than it do a mistake. non questions will be asked or ancered after it comes back provided it gets on his head again by sunday night.

A man has been in town all week selling stock in a goober hull factory up north which will make paper out of same for 10$ per share, cash money, and he is meeting with handsome luck. He guarantees a dividend in six weeks of 10 per cent if he gets up his allotment of 2000$ worth. yore corry spondent agreed to pay 10 shares in goober hulls which he will sweep up off the pitcher show floor ever morning, but he wont except goober hulls for stock. he had some samples of his goober hull paper. he will no doubt succeed as we have plenty suckers.

The munny-cippal politticks of our town keep on foaming at the mouth. the race is getting hotter and hotter ever day. the big race is centering around the mayer's office. and the present enumbrance seems to be in the lead about 2 to 3 against holsum moore. hansom moore and his whiskey is costing holsum a great many votes amongst the good wimmen of flat rock.

MIKE IS HELPING WITH A FAMILY TREE

flat rock, s. C., July 10, 1934. dear mr. editor: my wife is getting up a family tree of her ancestors, but can't trace nobody anny further back than her ma's ma, which was her own gram-maw, and she wants you to go to the conogie libry and see if you can find out if anny of the bosticks came over from europa in the mayflower. she was a bostick before her last wedding ansforth.

he uncle judd bostick went off to the revev-lutionary war and got wounded in the battle of bull run but he recovered and got well and when he got back home, he married a woman by name of perkins and they lived together many years and raised a large family of boys and girls. he was her great uncle.

she has 9 limbs on her uncle judd's branch, but the other 7 limbs are almost vacant. she traced her aunt sophia to south georgy in 1865, but she do not find anny of her off-springs, and raily do not know if she ever got married. she had a bad wart on her nose, and she mought therefor remained an old maid till death.

bert bostick has 3 branches on his limb, as follows: kirk, who dide in the civil war betwixt the states while in a cave near his old home; zallie, who married a foot peddler and was never heard from no more; and the baby, dannie, who lived to be a ripe old man and then got run over by a cow.

please look for her grampa, jim bostick. he was a big man and stood above everybody in his time, so my wife says, and she would like to try to get a buss made of him to go into the hall of fame at washington, d. C. he was a general, and a major and a copperal in the mexican war, and was with andy jackson for 4 years, him being his color bearer.

kindly hurry forward the history of seems to think more of her family of get the biggest tree in flat rock. she the bostick hairs, my wife wants to the past than anybody else do. she aint hit a lick's work since she started on her tree, and i either want her to finnish same, or cut it down and commence to do turns about the house. I am wore plumb out, rite or foam all information in the liberry. she says look for them in the blue-blooded books only.

yores trulie, mike Clark, rfd, corre spondent.

ZARA AGA DIES AT AGE OF 160

Death caught up Friday with Zaro Aga, Turkey's Methuselah, who once boasted he could live forever.

The picturesque old man who claimed 160 years and felt deeply hurt when anyone doubted it, died—by a quirk of fate—in the children's hospital.

For two months Zaro Aga, whose longevity brought him from obscurity to world fame and Broadway when he was "past 150" had been ill.

He was suffering from a variety of ailments, including Bright's disease and gland and bladder disorders. Physicians said a contributing cause to his death was worry over science's skepticism of his age.

Probably his proudest possession was a certificate purporting to show he was born in 1774—before the American colonies declared war on Great Britain.

Zaro had buried ten wives and had another desert him. Number 11 got angry six years ago when her aged husband decided he wanted a 12th wife—one young and pretty—and refused to come home after playing around in New York and London.

The number of children? Zaro boasted that at 96 his 36th offspring was born.

His death ended the possibility that scientific tests might be made to determine his age. Specialists had urged him to submit to examinations but Zaro demurred. He was popularly credited with his being the world's oldest man.

Turkey's old man had been lots of places and seen lots of things. At 163, he claimed he entered the Bulgarian war and "carried heavy guns on my shoulders up beyond where the horses could take them."

But the high spot of his life was a two-year jaunt through Europe and America. Zaro claimed to be a tectotaller and came to America some said, of funds supplied by a temperance organization. He wore down far younger companions dashing about New York, often stopping to pose for a picture with his arms around a pretty girl.

Hello! This is Mrs. Jones. Will you send some nice cutlets right away?"

"I'm sorry, but we haven't any cutlets."

"Well, then, a couple of nice lean pork chops."

"We haven't any pork chops either Mrs. Jones."

"Oh, how provoking! Then a small sirloin steak will have to do."

"We haven't any steak."

"For heaven's sake! Aren't you Smith the butcher?"

"No, I'm Smith the florist."

"Oh, well, send me a dozen white lilies. My husband must be starved to death by now."

Long-Used Laxative To be bought and used as needed for many, many years, speaks well for the reliability of Theodor's Black-Draught, purely vegetable family laxative. Mr. C. E. Radliff writes from Hinton, W. Va.: "My wife and I have used Theodor's Black-Draught thirty-five years for constipation.—I feel feeling and headache. I use it when I feel my system needs cleansing. After all these years, I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught."

Duke Day Will Be Observed At Lake Junaluska Ninth

Alumni and friends of Duke University are making elaborate arrangements for the annual Duke Day celebration at Lake Junaluska on July ninth. This event, which always attracts widespread attention in the western part of the state is expected to bring together this year several hundred visitors. The faculty and students of the Summer School which is now in session here, are actively promoting the plans.

President W. P. Few will deliver the principal address on the occasion in the auditorium at eight P. M. Distinguished alumni will also speak, and as a special feature moving pictures of the University and its various activities will be shown.

At six P. M. an old-fashioned country-style dinner will be served under the trees by the side of Lake Junaluska. Elaborate provisions are being made for this dinner and the substantial nature of the menu is already attracting much attention locally.

Mr. Henry R. Dwire, of Durham, who is the director of public relations and alumni affairs for the University is actively promoting the Duke Day celebration among all the alumni in Western North Carolina. Dr. Paul N. Garber, director of the Summer School at Lake Junaluska, is in charge of local arrangements. Practically all the members of the faculty and students of the Summer School are serving on the numerous committees in charge of the various details of the occasion.

Delegations are already being organized in Waynesville, Canton, Asheville, and other cities. This annual event creates widespread interest in this section. In addition to the elaborate dinner and the evening program there will be golfing, boating, and other activities in the afternoon.

Mother was telling stories of the time she was a little girl. Little Harold listened thoughtfully as she told of riding a pony, sliding down the haystack, and wading in the brook on the farm.

Finally he said with a sigh, "I wish I had met you earlier, mother."
