MISSISSIPPI PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

The Mississippi Professional Women's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, November 22, at the Hotel Hamilton, Asheville, N. C. The program for the evening will consist of a presentation of the play 'The Sign of the Cross'...

THE REGULAR NOVEMBER MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular November meeting of the Woman's Club was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Rufus Siler. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Homer Henry, Mrs. Lauriston Hardin, Jr., and Mrs. Alva. The president, Mrs. Grover C. Davis, presided.

Extensive plans were made for the December activities of the club. The club will again, with the cooperation of the other organizations of the town have charge of the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals. Each member was asked to bring a toy to the December meeting to be used for the distribution of toys in the community. Much credit was given to Mr. Briggs for his collection of toys which is given out each year at the community Christmas service held by the club.

Miss Robina Miller, as chairman, with Mrs. J. W. Killian, Mrs. S. P. Gay, and Mrs. George Anderson were appointed a committee to have charge of the Christmas stockings. Mrs. John M. Queen, Mrs. Homer Henry, and Mrs. N. M. McLeod were appointed to solicit candy for the tree. Mrs. Horace Keener will serve as a chairman of the committee on Christmas seals.

Mrs. Jack Mease, had the paper of the afternoon, he said a better "Story Line" on the "Woods." In his paper, Mrs. Mease gave a most illuminating sketch of the life of the author, reading many interesting incidents of interest in the life of the author, including southern life in the early part of his career. Mrs. Mease also spoke of his work in the library world.

Mrs. Mease, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Killian, Mrs. S. P. Gay, and Mrs. George Anderson, visited the home of Mrs. J. W. Killian, Mrs. S. P. Gay, and Mrs. George Anderson, who are the hosts for the evening.

The regular November meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Seaver. Mrs. J. W. Seaver presided and the meeting was marked with keen interest and a large attendance.

The program consisted of the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and the presentation of a paper by Mrs. J. W. Seaver on the life of George Washington. The paper was well received and the meeting was a success.

The chapter endorsed Mrs. Julius Talmadge of Athens, Ga. for the office of Recording Secretary of the National Society. The cordial invitation to attend the tea given for Mrs. W. H. Belk by the Edward Buncombe Chapter of Asheville was read. Much regret was expressed over the fact that the chapter could not attend. Motion was made and carried to send $10.00 toward the payment of the debt on Constitution Hall.

Mrs. W. B. Matthews had the paper of the afternoon, her subject being "The Outlook for America's National Defense." Mrs. Matthews applied National Defense to all phases of our American life and brought to the attention of her audience some startling facts about the present day problems and their far reaching effects.

Mrs. W. L. Hardin reviewed the national magazine giving some of the high lights, as well as the president general's message. The members were delighted to have with them the chaplain, Mrs. R. P. Walker, who on account of illness had to miss so many of the meetings.

Special guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. R. R. Campbell, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. C. N. Sisk, Mrs. Richard N. Barber, Jr., Mrs. Dewey Stovall, Mrs. John K. Boone, Mrs. S. H. Bushnell, Miss Anne Jones, Mrs. F. W. Veto, of Canton, and Mrs. Paul Hardin Jr.

Mrs. William Hannah and Mrs. J. Wilford Ray returned on Monday from a visit to friends in New York and Washington, D. C. While in New York they were the guests of Mrs. Lula Raymond who often visits in Waynesville.

Mrs. S. A. Jones and daughter, Miss S. A. Jones, left on Saturday for a visit to relatives in Abingdon, Va. and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mr. Leo F. Gebu, who has been visiting relatives in Rouser's Point, York, Pa., is now back with the Wapoca Radio Shop.

Rev. Paul Hardin Jr., Mr. William Shoobred, and Mr. W. L. Lamkin spent Tuesday in Clay county bird hunting.

Mrs. Caroline de Neergaard left on Thursday for Bristol, Tenn., where she will spend several weeks before going to New York City where she will spend the Christmas holidays with her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gould de Neergaard. In Bristol she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Arnold. During her absence from town Dr. and Mrs. O. T. Alexander will occupy her residence on Walnut street.

FERGUSON-BOUDOUSQUIE

The following account from the Times-Picayune of New Orleans will be of special interest here where the bride and her family have a well known family connection and circle of friends. She spends every summer here with her parents at her grandfather's home. "Society met Wednesday morning at the church of the Holy Name on upper St. Charles Avenue when it attended the marriage of Miss Adele Alevan..."

Harley Bacon Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson to Mr. Charles Eugene Boudousquie, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Boudousquie, celebrated at 11:30 o'clock of the Rev. Joseph A. Butt S. J.

Tall palms decorated either side of the center aisle of the church forming an arway for the bridal party and in the chancel were also tall palms and glowing clusters of white chrysanthemums.

General Ferguson gave his daughter in marriage and she was lovely wearing the same wedding gown that her mother wore at her wedding of white satin trimmed with exquisite lace and falling into a short train. Her bodice made with full sleeves in the elbow was fashioned with a yoke of point plique lace...

Her mother's wedding veil of tulle and lace was held in place by clips of the plique lace and a large orange corsage. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Ferguson had as her maid of honor her sister, Miss Virginia Ferguson, a native of New Orleans. Mrs. E. K. Boyd, Jackson, and as her bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Kemp, of York, Pa. Mrs. Donald William and Mrs. Dorothy Andy, the latter a resident of the bridegroom.

The bride wore the autumn frock of light blue crepe, fashioned on the latest lines and with the costume they wore turquoise blue slippers and green tulle velvet hats trimmed with a matching shade and gold braids. They carried brown bouquets of plumed net over brown tulle, trimmed with gold braids and lovely clusters of Johanna Hill roses.

Mr. Boudousquie had as his best man his cousin, Mr. Claude Andry, and as his groomsmen and ushers, Messrs. Charles, Paul and Harold Andry, also cousins of the bridegroom, Harley B. Ferguson, Jr., George Andry, another cousin of the groom and Robert and Carl Courlet.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was given at the home of General and Mrs. Ferguson on Jefferson Avenue for members of the bridal party, the immediate members of the two families and the out of town guests here for the wedding.

Mrs. Ferguson, mother of the bride, wore a stunning gown of dark blue lace over crepe trimmed with rhinestone clips with which she wore a black velvet hat and a corsage of Tullman roses.

The wedding was among the very interesting nuptials of the autumn and claimed much interest in the social world in New Orleans and also elsewhere. The bride, who is a graduate of the Georgetown Visitation Convent in Washington, D. C., made her debut in Norfolk a few seasons ago. Mr. Boudousquie attended Spring Hill college in Mobile, Ala. His mother was before her marriage Miss Martha Andry, of this city. The young couple will make their home in New Orleans, after a motor trip.

Among the out of town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. William Blaylock, of Waynesville, N. C., an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Rufus L. Allen, of Washington, D. C., and Waynesville, N. C., Miss Jeanne Boudousquie, of Houston, Tex., an aunt of the groom, Miss Marguerite Boudousquie, of Mobile, Ala., also an aunt of the groom and Miss Emily Boudousquie, of Mobile, a cousin and Mrs. Boliver Kemp, of Amite, La.

JOINT HOSTESSES HAVE LUNCHEON

On Thursday morning Mrs. N. M. Meiford and Mrs. Alvin Ward assembled a group of friends for luncheon at the home of the former on Love Lane. A color motif of red and yellow lent an attractive and cheerful note to the decorative effect and was also used in all the party accessories. At twelve-thirty a luncheon was served.

The guest list included: Mrs. James P. Killian, Mrs. Horace Keener, Mrs. J. N. Barber, Jr., Mrs. Grady Bell, Mrs. R. L. Prevost, Mrs. E. J. Alley, Jr., Mrs. Lowry Lee, Mrs. G. H. Colkitt, Mrs. J. W. Seaver, Mrs. Charles Burzin, Mrs. C. J. Rees, Mrs. Roy R. Campbell, Mrs. Lauriston Hardin, Jr., Mrs. N. F. Lancaster, Mrs. Hugh Massie, Mrs. C. M. Debus, Mrs. James M. Long, Mrs. Ben Colkitt, Mrs. Marguerite Barron, and Mrs. T. Lenoir Gwyn. Joining the group for luncheon were: Mrs. Paul Hardin, Jr., Mrs. Dewey Stovall, and Mrs. Roy Martin.

In Fashion Now

When Dame Fashion changes her mind about things, she really does just that very thing. Not so many months ago women were trying to be as near like men in looks and actions as they possibly could be, and everything masculine-looking appealed to them.

Now, however, Fashion has turned right-about-face and we are going just as far as possible in the opposite direction. And, after all, what woman is there who doesn't like to indulge her femininity to the limit?

Clothes for all occasions are strictly feminine, even strictly tailored frocks, suits and the like having touches about them that soften harsh lines and effects.

Nowhere is this trend more apparent, however, than in the bodice where underthings, negligees and blouses have been doubled turn toward femininity.

Lace, chiffon and unworkable velvet for negligees are being widely shown. The popularity of the bodice gown is returning and even the old-time lace-trimmed negligees are in some instances.
