ANNUAL DRESS CONTEST HELD BY COMMUNITY CLUB

The annual dress contest held by the Education Department of which Mrs. Noble Garrett is chairman, of the Community Club was held on Wednesday morning in the high school auditorium. Mrs. M. G. Stamey, president of the club, presided. There were 28 contestants, the majority of whom were members of the home economics classes of which Miss Louise Edwards is the teacher.

The winners from the first year class were: First, Miss Marie Gibson, prize $1.50; second, Miss Nora Mae Francis, prize, material for dress; third, Miss Fannie Hosaflook, prize, dress material.

In the second year class, first prize, $1.50, won by Miss Evelyn Platt; second best afternoon dress, Miss Ruth Underwood, prize dress material; third, most attractive sport dress, Miss Margie Platt, prize, dress material. In the class to which any girl in the school might enter, Miss Margaret Boyd won the prize of material for a dress.

The affair was staged as a fashion show with the maker modeling her own dress, which she had made. Judges for the contest were Mrs. James W. Killian, Mrs. Clifford Moody, and Mrs. V. C. Nobeck. The prizes of dress goods were donated through the generosity of the following firms: Massie's Department Store, C. E. Ray's Sons, Burgin's, C. N. Allen & Company and J. M. Long's.

Other features of the program of the morning were talks by the following girls from the home economics classes, who attended the camp held last year at Swannanoa: Miss Maude White, winning the trip as making the best project of the first year class at the high school, Miss Elizabeth Francis, winner of the best project of the second year class, and Miss Doris Jackson. Two piano solos were given by Miss Emelyn Haynes and Miss Jean Bourke.

In Fashion Now

With the coming of April, one naturally thinks of April showers and the women who have to be out in these showers will be interested in knowing that there is a way to avoid that "be-dragged" appearance that usually accompanies such weather.

No longer is the attire for wet weather the bungly old raincoats of former years, but now one can purchase most attractive checks and plaids and various other fabrics that look just as smart as the average topcoat.

Gingham, cotton, gabardine and seersucker and even crepe de chene and taffeta are treated with thin gum water-proofing that may be made up into models that almost make one wish it would rain in order to wear them.

An especially attractive model was in water-proofed taffeta, red, white and blue plaid, with elbow high cuffs, slightly belted sleeves, white glasslike buttons and large patch pockets. Can you imagine that being worn in the rain?

Hats and umbrellas have also undergone similar changes for the better and even the despised "rubbers" have taken on style. They may be had in slip-on sandals of thin rubber which just cover the soles of the slippers and may be carried in a case in the purse.

The Dorcas Bell Love Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held the regular April meeting with Mrs. R. N. Barber at her home on Love Lane on Wednesday afternoon. The regent, Mrs. J. Harden Howell, presided. For the occasion the house was thrown en suite and a color motif of yellow and blue lent a lovely decorative note in the spring flowers used.

A letter was read from Dr. Sloop in which she thanked the chapter for recent contributions sent to Crossnore and told something of the progress which is being made by the school. The four citizenship medals which are to be presented during commencement to the boy and girl of both the Canton and Waynesville High schools who will be selected for the honor were displayed.

A motion was made to have the secretary write a note to the district president, Mrs. Gilbert Morris, who is still confined to the hospital following an automobile accident. A letter was read from Mr. Chas. E. Ray, president of the Chamber of Commerce, asking the cooperation of the chapter in the beautification program that is being sponsored this year. Mrs. R. N. Barber was appointed by the regent to represent the chapter on the committee.

Various officers gave interesting reports of their work. The regent, Mrs. Howell, announced that she was leaving Saturday for Washington, D. C., where she will attend the annual National Congress of the society.

Mrs. E. B. Camp had the paper of the afternoon, the subject being, "Memorial Continental Hall, Constitution Hall and the Administration Building." Mrs. Camp gave a very wonderful description of these magnificent buildings. She gave interesting historical accounts of each, with a full description of the cost, architecture, and furnishings of each. She reminded the chapter of the two chairs in Constitution Hall placed by the Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, one in memory of Mrs. Mary Stringfield Wulbern and another in memory of Miss Jessie Rogers.

Mrs. Chas. E. Quinlan read the President General's message and reviewed other articles from the National magazine. Miss Margaret Stringfield spoke of the days when her sister, Mrs. Wulbern, was State Regent, and played for the chapter her own composition dedicated to Mrs. Cornelia Fairbanks, one of the pioneers in the D. A. R. organization.
