ALONG THE SKYLINE

—With the Rambler—

Saw and heard here and there. Lots of Waynesville folks took to the Rhododendron Festival in Asheville last week, and they all had a good time and made the same complaint—they got tired standing around they couldn't get anything to eat. All the restaurants and drug stores were packed and jammed. . . . which was fine to the restaurateurs but hard on hungry people. . . . Most of the Haywood crowd resolved to take their own lunch next year. . . . And speaking of food the A. and P. window was full of beans the other morning. . . . literally bushels of beans. . . . and I kept wondering how long it would take to string 'em.

Claude Reece steps next door to buy a Coca-cola. . . . That attractive little sign over the steps of Mrs. Moody's home on Main St., which says simply "Rooms". . . . A long Packard from Florida pulls up in front of the Chamber of Commerce. . . . and in a few minutes a lady comes back and tells her companions, "They're at the Palmer House". . . . These Frank Buck tropical looking hats that are growing in popularity with the men. . . . It's worth money to see me in one. . . . Two filling station attendants having the time of their lives with a toy airplane. . . . and what of it? . . . were all children of the night.

Two traveling men selling the same product meet in a drug store and one tells the other, "You're not supposed to come over here when I'm around, why well, it's their strength. . . . Two old enough to get their own pants pulled down from a rack, which remains us again how times have changed. . . . A few years ago it wasn't considered safe for women to travel. . . . Even the wife of the President. . . . We hope the ladies from Virginia like Waynesville well enough to stay a while.

The Rambler at the special invitation of the pastor, went to the Methodist church last Sunday night to hear Mr. Walter Herbert sing. . . . It was a musical treat. . . . And the chorus of women's voices under the direction of Mr. Herbert was splendid.

Heard two little children talking the other day. They were engaged in that fascinating childhood pastime of making wishes. . . . One wished for a thousand dollars—the other that she might marry a man. . . . "The Three Little Pigs." . . . Immediately the first child changed her wish to agree with the second. . . . "Oh, I do too!" he said. . . . And thus ever so lightly was a thousand dollars tossed thru the window of the child's imagination. . . . Wouldn't it be great for a thousand dollars not to mean any more to you than that?

Hearing that Mr. Cook of the highway department is the new champion of the golf club the Rambler is reminded that Mr. Cook is always smoking a cigarette, lighting one from the other. . . . I wonder if there's any significance in the fact that they are "Lucky Strikes"?

According to Edward Bok the name "Boss" means "Field of Roses" and is pronounced accordingly.

And Walter Hollibaugh speaks of a lady who held up her end of the conversation and it was practically perpendicular.

P.S.—I know the lady!

FIGHT EROSION

DID YOU KNOW THAT—When the slope of land is increased four times, the speed of the water flowing over it is about double, the cutting power is multiplied by 4, the power to carry soil is multiplied by 32 and the size of particles it can carry is multiplied by 64.

Erosion removes twenty-one times as much plant food from the soil as cultivated crops?

Erosion costs the State of North Carolina 66 million dollars yearly by removing plant food alone?

Rotating crops reduce soil loss about one-third.

Burned-over woods lose 38 times as much soil as unburned woods?

Grass soil loses over 7 times as much as unburned woods?

More than 50 per cent of the cultivated land in the Piedmont region is severely eroded and gullied?

Seven and one-tenth per cent of all land in Piedmont North Carolina has been abandoned due to excessive erosion?

Three and one-tenth per cent of all the land in North Carolina has been abandoned due to erosion?

The second most badly eroded soil in North Carolina is one of the predominant soils in the Deep River erosion area?

Terraces built by the Soil Erosion Service in this area recently withstood the heaviest 36-hour rain on records in the last ten years.

Your Horoscope

If you were born June 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, you have more than average ability in an executive and commercial way. You are sensitive and feel keenly any apparent neglect. You have a loving, sympathetic nature, solicitous for the welfare and happiness of others. You enjoy wit and fun if it is clean and sensible, and can be a most entertaining companion. You have a vein of sarcasm that amuses your friends for it is refined, witty and good natured.
