BANG'S DISEASE

A group of dairy farmers in North-western Wisconsin who signed contracts with the government to have their herds blood tested under its supervision, met recently to enter a protest against the program.

Such protests and suspicions indicate that these farmers signed the contract before they were well informed on the nature of Bang's disease. We have looked with favor upon the government's work to eradicate Bang's disease but we believe before any contract is made between the owners of cattle and the government, a thorough understanding on the part of the farmer is necessary.

The federal government has been carrying on research for many years to discover some method of immunizing cattle against Bang's disease.

YOU CAN'T BE LUCKY ALWAYS!

Put this Blow-out Protection on Your Car Right Now!

INVESTIGATION shows that the chances are better than even you'll have a blow-out some day. When, nobody knows. But right now is the time to learn the real cause of blow-outs...

When you drive 40, 50, 60 and 70-mile after mile—terrible heat is generated inside the tire. Rubber and fabric begin to separate.

New Invention Prevents Blow-outs

But now Goodrich has created the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This remarkable invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate.

At grueling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Silvertown, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, lasted 3 times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature.

Safer Against Skidding And that isn't all. Scientific tests show that the Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the most skid-resisting tread on the road.

Let us show you this amazing new tire—now made THREE TIMES SAFER! You can put this blow-out protection on your car—at no extra cost.

of developing immunization in cattle without spreading the infection. Farmers with herds badly infected with Bang's disease may find it profitable to vaccinate young animals under the supervision of a qualified veterinarian.

So far as cures and remedies for this disease are concerned, none have been discovered. There are many who feel they have found a cure but this is due, in all the cases we have investigated, to the nature of the disease. It may be rampant in a herd and then subside.

It is well known that some veterinarians have been careless about properly disinfecting needles, although it is hardly probable that the disease would be spread in this way.

The blood test is not 100 per cent accurate but it is a very good diagnostic agent and when rightly applied, animals infected with Bang's disease can be located.

It can be said that Bang's disease should be eradicated and many dairy farmers can well afford to sign the contract offered by the state and federal government to test herds and eliminate reactors.

Those who desire to enter into a contract with the government to have their herds tested should be fully informed on the nature of the disease if the whole program of eradication is not to fail.

Four Members Are Taken Into Rotary

W. R. Woodall, manager of the Western Carolina Creamery, was the speaker at the Rotary Club last Friday. He gave in a brief and concise manner, the importance of dairy products in the lives of the people of the world.

He cited a number of instances the food value of the different dairy products, and told through what process each underwent in the creamery to assure the best that science can provide before the products are placed on the market.

The board of directors of the club reported recommendations of the membership committee, and four new members were voted into the club.

Two members of the Asheville club were guests at the meeting.
