Just Among Us WOMEN

It's amazing how many inducements the business places of this vicinity are now offering to those who give them their patronage. It seems that some sort of premium goes with the purchase of anything from a cake of soap to a shampoo, from food to clothing—and even the purchase of a movie ticket holds the possibility of a nice fat check. The idea of something extra—on the side seems to have an appeal for everyone—I guess it's a sort of cousin to the sensation of getting something for nothing.

Since the Massie Furniture Company became the representatives for handling the premiums for the Octagon Soap wrappers, between three and four years ago, they have given out approximately 5,000 prizes—some washing been going on in this town—And these prizes are most useful—I know—because my favorite cooking utensil is the result of a patient accumulation of Octagon wrappers.

The five dollar coupon, which entitles the owner to buy china, which was inaugurated two months ago by the C. E. Ray's Sons, and the Food Store, is still going strong—regardless of the fact that to date the two stores have sold more than 1,000,000 individual pieces. Have you bought yours yet?

The Personality Beauty Shop is offering a coupon with every 25 cents worth of work done by them, which if the patron is interested in so doing she may save and later redeem with the Williams Rogers Company for silver spoons, knives and forks.

I hear that the Jo Ann Beauty Shop is planning to offer a shampoo and finger wave as a prize to the winner in one of the Bridge Clubs in town—I bet that's one afternoon there will be some spirited playing by all those playing.

And now at Massie's Department Store may be found an ideal Christmas gift—just the thing to give Grandmother or a Daddy—For every $5.00 spent in the store there will be a coupon given the purchaser, which with 29 cents she may get a colored photograph—which may be copied from a favorite kodak picture or the work of a regular photographer. The picture will be in a leatherette frame worth the 29 cents—Better trade your five dollars before the offer closes.

In celebration of the first anniversary sale of the Ray's Outlet Store, coupons are given with each fifty-cent purchase and on the very last day of the sale, November the 9th, $10.00 will be given to the holder of the lucky coupon. It's at least a sporting chance to take on a half dollar.

And there's a county official in the Court House, whom I understand is keeping a supply of eating apples on hand—and is giving them out with a lavish gesture to anyone who will promise to vote for him when he runs in the next election—They are delicious—I had one.

Shopping in Waynesville is becoming an engaging experience—aside from the mere satisfaction of supplying one's needs—Next time you plan to go to our neighboring city—for all those things you think you have to have—and are sure you won't find here—take the day off and spend it in Waynesville—you might be surprised in what you would find—and if you are wanting alone, with your shopping, a vacation from your home—just have lunch down town and go to a matinee—and make a day of it—and I'll bet you won't be half as tired as if you had driven those thirty miles there and those thirty miles back.

Miss Kate Williamson, deputy clerk in the office of the clerk of the court, is taking a vacation this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lee and daughter, Mrs. Bess Lee Page, have returned from Sweetwater, Tenn., where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dickey over the week-end.
